SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 9 .- (Special.) -The Gaks made it four in a row by beating Portland again today. The score was 3-2 and it was a corking game of ball. Both Holling and Sutherland were steady. There was plenty of hitting and the fielding was high class. The two errors did no damage and all the runs were carned. Eastern football experts have voiced the opinion that the 1920 season will not be up to standards of last year. They have their calculations on the fact that the various eastern teams have not the large nucleus of veterans on which to build this year's teams. Also that last year's men were back from the war and full of army training.
