

BORAH SAYS IDAHO NEEDS NEW TARIFF

Senator Expects His State to Go Republican.

INDUSTRIES FACE RUIN

Electoin of Gooding, French and Smith and Defeat of League Are Declared Important.

THE OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, Oct. 30.—Returning to Washington tonight at the close of a long speaking campaign, Senator Borah expressed optimism at the outlook for republican victory and declared his desire to see Idaho go for Harding for president, Gooding for senator and for the balance of the republican state ticket.

Speaking of the situation in Idaho he said his reports from the state all pointed to the success of both the state and national tickets.

"I am of the opinion," he said, "that Idaho will go heavily republican on both state and national tickets. One of the great factors in Idaho is the aroused interests in the tariff. Our state is peculiarly interested in this question. Our livestock industry and also our farming interests already have warning of what is coming unless the tariff laws are immediately readjusted to protect our western interests."

Issue Benefits Republicans.

"It is apparent that the change in the law can only come under a change of administration, as this law is supposed to express the final judgment of this administration upon this question. This will not only swell the majority of Harding and Coolidge but also that of French, Smith and Gooding.

"Gooding is particularly representative of this issue and no doubt will receive great help from it. I think the present tariff law would almost ruin our industries now that we are no longer protected by the war situation. My letters from the farmers indicate they are thoroughly alive to this feature of our economic situation."

But while Idaho is preserving the American markets for the American farmer, she will, I venture to believe, help to preserve the American republic for the American people.

Slender Influence Feared.

"The sinister scheme of placing our vital affairs under the protection and control of a council of nine men, eight of whom are foreigners, and whose decisions, as the president says, we are under a compelling moral obligation to support, is too autocratic and un-American to stand the test of popular vote.

"The president's statement to the 15 independents has made the issue clear and that is if Cox is elected we must expect to have the league with articles 10 and 11 just as they are now written. That will be the programme. It is fortunate that the issue has been simplified and I anticipate a verdict accordingly."

When asked if Mr. Gooding's position on the league was satisfactory to him, Senator Borah replied: "As I understand it, it is. He perhaps may not go as far as I do. I do not know as to that. But he has declared in his speeches that he is

M McNARY OUT FOR BROWN

Voters Urged to Write in Name of Associate Justice.

SALEM, Or., Oct. 30.—(Special.)—The election of George M. Brown as justice of the Oregon supreme court is urged in a statement issued by Senator McNary today.

"In the usual confusion attending the closing days of a political campaign," said Senator McNary, "the voters should not forget that an associate justice of the supreme court is to be selected by writing on the ballot the name of some desirable candidate. George M. Brown, formerly attorney-general, now occupying the position of a justice of the supreme court, is a candidate for the office.

"For many years I have known Mr. Brown and have been in a position to know the character of his work, and I can cheerfully say that his public service has been exemplary and in his private practice he has demonstrated very great ability."

du Chien, Wis., where he remained six years. During this time he married Miss Carrie Adams, who lived but a year. At her death he immediately resigned his pastorate and threw himself zealously into evangelistic work in the middle west. He married Miss Imogene Goodrich in 1855, and went to the Pilgrim church, of Oakland, Cal., remaining there two years.

In 1889 he was called to be home missionary superintendent of the Congregational churches in Oregon. In this position he served for a period of 19 years, during which time he became known throughout the entire state. When he retired from this service he accepted a call to the pastorate of the Washougal church. Besides his duties as minister, Dr. Clapp was for many years juvenile officer of this county, and during the war was local food administrator. He always took a most active part in civic and community affairs.

Surviving him are his widow, two sons, Dr. Gordon Clapp, an officer at Camp Lewis, Wash., E. Dwinell Clapp of Seattle, Wash., and a daughter, Frances B. Clapp, head of the music department of Doshisha college, Kyoto, Japan.

I. H. Van Winkle Seeks Office.

I. H. Van Winkle, attorney-general, is making an active campaign for election to that office in the pending election. Mr. Van Winkle was for many years first assistant in the attorney-general's office and when Governor Olcott appointed Mr. Van Winkle to the vacancy, these changes came at such a late date that it was impossible to have Mr. Van Winkle's name printed on the ballot, so his name will have to be written in.
