TOLEDO HAS BIG RALLY Sanfield MacDonald Wins Applause

in Lincoln County,

NEWPORT, Or., Oct. 30 .- (Special.) The republican rally held at Toledo, Or, last night was well attended. The speech of Sanfield MacDonald was enhusiastically received. The meeting ho also introduced the various can-dates present. Each candidate made short speech. Mr. MacDonald's address was stright om the shoulder. He did not mince ords in denouncing the republican-m of a man who voted a split ticket, e consured the democratic adminisation for waste and extravagance aring the last four years, and closed s address by an analysis of the prin-pal features of the league of naons, showing its faults and fallacies.

The MacDonald's swing through Lindle county has greatly strengthened anticld's chances of carrying the cunty, and it is freely predicted that his year Senator Chamberlain is to

REPUBLICAN SENATE GAIN OF 11 COUNTED

Ohioan Also Predicts 45 to 87 Margin in House.

BOURBON DROP FORECAST

Gains in Maryland, Kentucky, South Dakota, Idaho and California Expected.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 30 .- When the next congress convenes the repub-lican majorities in both houses will show large increases, according to a pre-election statement issued here to-night by Simeon D. Fess, representa-tive in congress from Ohio and chair-man of the national republican congressional committee.

His forecast, based on an analysis of reports from all congressional districts in the country, is that the republican margin in the house will be publican margin in the house will be increased from 45 to at least 87 and that of the senate from two to a minimum of 11 and possibly 17, giving that body a "safe" working majority.

According to Mr. Fess' estimate the next house will have in its membership not less than 261 republicans and not more than 174 democrats and the senate will be composed of from 60 to 66 republicans and from 24 to 20

Twenty-seven States Certain. In making this forecast Representa-tive Fess declared that, so far as the tive Fess declared that, so far as the house is concerned, 27 states are included in the "sure" republican column. He estimates these states will return 229 republican representatives—a gain of 20 from those states. In doubtful states with republican leanings, among which he included Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Maryland, West Virginia, Kentucky, Missouri and Colorado, Mr. Fess predicted that 23 republican representatives will be elected. Three in doubtful states with democratic leanings (Nevada, Arizona, Oklahoma, Montana and New Mexico) and five members of certain democratic states, including Virginia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Florida, Alabama, Tennessee, Texas, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Gain in Kentucky Sure. Certain republican senatorial gains are predicted by Mr. Fess to result in the Maryland, Kentucky, South Datota, Idaho and California elections. Senate races in Arizona and Colorado, he said, present better than an even chance for republican success, while in Nevada and Oregon, change from democratic to republican sen-ators is considered by him as an even chance. He also declared there is a possibility of the election of republi-can senators in Oklahoma and North Dakota.

Mr. Fess said that the republican gain of 20 in the certain republican states will result from gains of one member each in Maine. Massachusetts, Connecticut, Michigan, Illinois and Nebraska, two members each in Callfornia, Kansas and Ohio, and three members each in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York. He claimed that three additional republicans will be elected from Missouri and one each from Tennessee and North Carolina.

Dental Bills Save Big Doctor Bills

"How Are Your Teeth?" More Important Question Than "How Is Your

If you would live longer, spend more time on your teeth. Where pain formerly drove people to the dentist, common sense is now leading them there. Health is so greatly influenced by the condition of the teeth that a large staff of dentists are employed at the famous Mayo Brothers' institution to examine the teeth of prospective patients, and it is stated that no operation will be undertaken while there are seriously defective or diseased teeth in the mouth.

Suppose you accept this invitation to visit this dental office at your earliest convenience, and obtain a frank, honest and competent opinion on the condition of your mouth.

There is no cost nor obligation imposed; and the advice may save you a big doctor bill and much suffering later. Our specialty is BETTER DENTISTRY; our charges as little as that kind of dentistry can be done for.
