SOCIETY will be busy with the night horse show at the Pacific-International show this week, when some of the most accomplished men and women riders of the west will participate.

One of the latest teas of the week will be that planned by the Alpha Phi alumnae members as a benefit for the industrial workers of the Young Women's Christian association. The tea will be in the home of Mrs. C. J. Smith.

Several prominent women will be patronesses for the affair and representatives of other fraternities have been invited to attend. Tickets are being sold by the members of Alpha Phi.

Mrs. G. L. Rauch, chairman, will be assisted by a number of friends and patronesses, including Mrs. P. W. Blanchard, Mrs. C. W. Twining, Mrs. Edwin Sealey Parsons, Mrs. John Raymond Holman, Mrs. C. E. Grellie, Miss Gladys Bowen, Miss Christine Forbes, Miss Grace Tucker and Miss Gretchen Colton. Patronesses will be Mrs. C. J. Smith, Mrs. H. Ashby Ely, Mrs. Allan Welch Smith, Mrs. J. E. Barker, Mrs. H. G. Colton, Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, Mrs. A. E. Rocky, Mrs. P. A. Dooty, Mrs. George F. Wilson, Mrs. Frank Wilmet, Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Mrs. F. M. Warren, Mrs. A. L. Miss Ellen Parker and Van Anderson will be married on Saturday at 5 P. M. in Trinity church. There will be no attendants. No cards were issued.

Miss Genevieve Thompson entertained last night for Miss Parker and Mr. Anderson, at a dinner in Forest Hall.

An event of social interest for the coming week will be a tea to be given on Thursday, November 18, by Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman at her home, 554 Seventeenth street.

The tennis exhibition matches held at the Pacific-International on Wednesday evening called to the attention of all the society women in attendance the fact that for the horse show, which is to be society's big attraction this week, will be staged in that very same building and that warm wraps will be a necessity. For the horse show, which is in reality a brilliant social event, one should have a warm fur coat, that is if one would be truly correct. The big fur shops are showing Hudson seal (dyed muskrat) models with belts of the same fur and with collar and cuffs of Kolinsky or of nutria. Then there are the smart moleskin models which are all of the one fur or combined with some contrasting skins. A premier model is developed in civet cat with collars and cuffs of skunk, which is very dashing and becoming. Natural Siberian squirrel, fashioned of perfectly matched pelts, is used in one of the newest coats shown. Just now squirrel is tremendously popular. A mole vest with a coat of Hudson seal is a new novelty. A coat wrap of soft graceful lines is of Hudson seal with collar, cuffs and wide band of skunk, Marmot, which is fashionable and not so terribly expensive, makes a coat that is stunning when trimmed with a broad band of Hudson seal. The natural muskrat Bobby coat is youthful, so also is the natural squirrel that is trapped in the northmost parts of Siberia. More luxurious is a lavish wrap of dark eastern mink which is superb over an evening gown. But if one cannot have one of these wonderful coats there are quite smart and comfortable cloth cloaks and coats, some plain, some fur trimmed. A dashing stole gives a fine finish to any costume for the horse show and whether one is going to a dinner party or straight from coats shown. Just now squirrel is tremendously popular. A mole vest with a coat of Hudson seal is a new cloth and a pair of spats to wear over the trim evening pumps. There will be a number of dinners this week preceding the night horse show and boxes that have been reserved for the week will be the scenes of many box parties. For the parties an afternoon or evening gown will be correct, but don't forget the wrap. Smart serge costumes, Hickson or Collins models will be quite the vogue for the show or the trim tailor suit with an attractive stole or scarf of raccoon, opossum, lynx, fox, taupe, cony, ermine or beaver—it matters not which.

Mrs. Rufus Holman was hostess for a few young people on Friday for her daughter, Miss Eleanor.

To celebrate their 40th wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Watson will entertain on Wednesday evening in their home on West Park street.

Lieutenant H. C. Holmes, formerly of the British royal navy, is in the city, a guest at the home of his uncle, F. H. V. Andrews. Mr. Holmes' mother will be remembered by Portland society folk as Miss Alice Andrews when she lived here with her brother. The
