LA GRANDE, Or., Nov. 13.—(Special)—Quiet simplicity marked the wedding Thursday evening of Miss Helen Claire Curry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Curry of this city, to Estley Roy Farley of Hermiston. The ceremony was performed at 8 o'clock before a bower of greens, pink carnations and orchid shaded chrysanthemums, Rev. E. J. of the First Methodist church officiating.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. George H. Curry of Baker sang "At Dawning" by Cadman, which was followed by the wedding march, played by Miss May Nell. The bride was given in marriage by her father and had as her maid of honor Mrs. Ernest Watkins (Alice Hill) of Bandon, while little Mary Helen Watkins carried the rings. Walter Kenyon of Baker attended the groom.

Following the ceremony a wedding supper was served, after which Mr. and Mrs. Farley left on a short wedding trip in the east. They will make their future home in Hermiston, where Mr. Farley is engaged in the automobile business.

It's Easy to Put on Flesh

All you have to do if you are too thin and want to put on several pounds of solid "stay-there" flesh is to take a five-grain tablet of Blood-Iron Phosphate with each meal. This builds up the nervous system, enriches the blood and thus enables the vital organs to assimilate the flesh-building strength-making elements of your food which now largely go to waste. Strength which is tried it state they not only put on flesh but that it also almost invariably increases their strength, energy and endurance. You can get enough Blood-Iron tablets for a three weeks' treatment of The Owl Drug Co., or any other drug store for only $1.50 and it's so uniformly successful that your doctor will tell you you know, is authorized to refund your money if you don't like it. Better get a package today and begin to get stronger and healthier, as well as better looking.—Adv.

Beginning Tomorrow

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK

"More Books in the Home"

CHILDREN'S BOOK WEEK is not just a date on the calendar. It is a great national campaign to arouse new interest in juvenile reading. Behind it are organizations which seek the welfare of the boy and girl—the Boy Scouts of America, the Girl Scouts, the Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A. and every library and school in the country.

So, beginning Monday, opening day of Childrens Book Week, and continuing until Saturday, the MEIER & FRANK Book Shop will be especially devoted to children and children's books.

Miss Millard, Children's Supervisor of the Public Library, or one of her assistants will be here every morning. They will be glad to consult with puzzled parents or friends of children as to what books the little tots want and should read.

There will be informal talks about the different types of books for the child's library and illustrations will be given with books in inexpensive and fine editions taken from the shelves of the Book Shop.

It is a wonderful opportunity for the Christmas shopper to make a great success of her or his book gifts for children, because Miss Millard and her assistants know what children of all ages most appreciate.

A Message From Miss Millard

It would be well when buying children's books to ask the bookseller for those recommended by the public library. In these days of lists of recommended titles, no one however untrained in children's literature should be at a loss where there is a public library. Lists in any subject may be obtained.

It is truly in the power of book buyers to raise the character of books by demanding what is best—not what is expensive, but what is elevating. It is a matter of increasing satisfaction that publishers are giving their attention to the importance of presenting the best old books in dress attractive to the young readers of today.

The edition in which a book for a child appears is a matter of great importance than is realized. It is not purely an aesthetic consideration but it has a very practical bearing on whether the book will be read or not. The pleasure of reading is greatly increased by a book which is made up of good paper, clear print, beautiful illustrations and good binding.

Gift books should be selected with the greatest care. Books worth buying are those that may be read over and over again. First of all the taste of the child should guide one in selecting his gift. It means a very great deal to a child to have made in his early years the acquaintance of the few best books written for him. Through the deep forest of books which are published for children may this short list serve in some sort of way as a safe trail.

JESSIE HODGE MILLARD,
Children's Supervisor,
Public Library.
