

STATE BANK BUREAU IS HELD BLAMELESS

Failure of Jacksonville Concern Explained.

GRAND JURY PROBE MADE

Responsibility for Disaster Laid to President of Institution and Several Other Persons.

SALLEM, Or., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—The state banking department, of which Will H. Bennett is superintendent, has been exonerated by the grand jury of Jacksonville county from any blame in connection with the failure of the Bank of Jacksonville, according to a letter received here today from G. M. Roberts, district attorney, with headquarters at Medford.

The Bank of Jacksonville closed its doors about three months ago and soon thereafter the state banking department was called upon to investigate the failure. This investigation extended over a period of several weeks, revealed numerous irregularities in the accounts of the institution, and G. M. Johnson, its president, later was arrested on a charge of falsifying the records. Unable to furnish bail in the sum of $50,000, Mr. Johnson was committed to jail.

The investigation on the part of the state banking department was followed by a probe by the grand jury of Jacksonville county, with the result that Mr. Johnson, together with the county treasurer and several other persons who had dealings with the defunct institution were indicted. They were arraigned recently before Judge Callins in the Jackson county circuit court and were held under bail to appear for trial at the next session of the court.

County May Lose Much. The investigation by the state banking department showed that Jackson county had a large sum of money in the depository, the major part of which probably will be lost to the taxpayers. A number of overdrafts also were discovered in the bank, and as yet the officials have been unable to establish the identity of the owners of the liberty bonds placed in the institution for safekeeping.

Following the failure of the depository and repeated insinuations that the state banking department had been lax in its investigation of the institution, Governor Olcott, chairman of the state banking board, wrote a letter to Mr. Bennett, the superintendent, in which he asked for a statement setting out what the state banking officials had done in connection with previous examinations of the accounts of the bank. Governor Olcott and other members of the state banking board declared that it was their duty to start an official inquiry to determine whether any blame for the failure attached to their department.

Censure Held Unwarranted. As a result of the grand jury report exonerating the state banking board from blame in connection with the failure of the bank, it is not believed here that the state banking board would be warranted in censuring Mr. Bennett and his subordinates, who made frequent examinations of the institution. Mr. Bennett's report was filed with Governor Olcott some time ago, but as yet no formal meeting of the state banking board has been called.

BENEFACTOR IS HONORED

HOOD RIVER MASONS EXTOL VIRTUES OF A. H. TIEMAN.

Orchardist Who Left Entire Estate to Lodge Is Memorialized by Surviving Members.

HOOD RIVER, Or., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Hood River Masonic lodge last Wednesday night paid tribute to the memory of A. H. Tieman, pioneer homesteader, who bequeathed his entire fortune to the lodge for the express purpose of providing a home for the fraternal body. "Tieman night" has become an annual event for mid-Columbia Masons. Visiting Masons were present from Mosier, Cascade Locks, Underwood and White Salmon, Wash.

The will of Mr. Tieman, a native of Denmark, was read. He joined the local Masonic lodge late in life. Although residing further from town than any other member, he was one of the most faithful attendants at lodge meetings. By his will A. S. Blowers, W. M. Yeates and E. E. Savages were made joint executors and trustees for the lodge to administer his estate. The will was witnessed by N. W. Bone and C. R. Bone, pioneer orchardist brothers of the valley.

A brief story of the boyhood recollections of Mr. Tieman was read by W. L. Clark, who was reared in the valley and who often visited the remote upper valley ranch place, W. J. Baker and Rev. J. L. Harschner also talked in eulogy of the lodge's benefactor.

From the first time since "Tieman night" has been celebrated, E. L. Smith, first master of the lodge, was unable to be present. Mr. Smith, now 84 years old, is very ill at his home, and perhaps will not be able to attend another lodge meeting.

Captain C. A. Schetky, a naval veteran, who is 94 years old and one of the oldest Masons of Oregon, gave a brief talk. Captain Schetky related an incident of civil war days when he was sent, second in command of a regiment to the lower Mississippi. He recalled that some pilfering had been going on among the men, and as a result he was ordered to make an inspection. In going through the sailors' effects he was attracted by a Bible on which had been inscribed the Masonic emblem. He endeavored to determine who were Masons among the men, but received no response. Before the inspection was over he had discovered numerous Masonic symbols and emblems. On an inquiry from a petty officer he learned that the men had raided a lodge hall at Point Pleasant, La., while on shore, and had brought away the emblems as trophies of their raid. Captain Schetky ordered the lodge property brought to him, and through a letter and the appointment of a rendezvous it was restored to the Point Pleasant lodge.

"In the course of time it fell to me to visit the Point Pleasant lodge," said Captain Schetky, "to purchase supplies for the officers' mess. I noticed that he seemed ill at ease. Later the Methodist minister called at the mill and revealed himself as master of the Masonic lodge. He, too, seemed ill at ease. A few days later I called at another river point and visiting the drug store for a chat was asked if I knew Buck Greer. He was a notorious guerrilla of that region. I confessed to having heard of him. I was asked if I had seen him on my visit to Point Pleasant. When I replied that I hadn't I was informed that he and some 30 followers had been hidden in the bushes. My informant told me that the guerrilla had been put to it to prevent his men from shooting me. But he said that Greer was a Mason and that he understood that I had done something for the Masons and thus had saved my life."

Dr. W. J. Kerr, president of the Oregon Agricultural college and grand master of the Oregon Masonic grand lodge, delivered an impressive lecture.

GOVERNOR HART IS EXPECTED TO MAKE MANY CHANGES.

Appointees of Late Governor Who Have Remained at Tasks Will Be Relieved Now, It Is Said.

TACOMA, Wash., Nov. 13.—(Special.)—Many appointments will be made by Governor Hart in the near future. The governor has allowed the old regime of the late Governor Lister, whom he succeeded, to hold office but with his election he will make several openings.

Jesse Jones, Tacoma business man and partner of Governor Hart, will replace Frank Spinning as a member of the public service commission, it is said. Mr. Jones once had an offer of the position, but turned it down. He is thought to have done so because he wanted to see Governor Lister's appointees hold office until the new term.

The state printer, Frank Lamborn, will unquestionably be replaced. As nobody has been mentioned as yet for a successor, efforts are being made to hold the appointment in Tacoma. There are several hundred small appointments that come within the gift of the governor, but it is expected that he probably will wait until January for the majority of them.

Anson Hart, the governor's son, who formerly was identified with the printing trade, has been mentioned as Lamborn's successor, as has T. V. Copeland, Tacoma printer, who went on the stump for Governor Hart, appealing to labor unionists to support him against Bob Bridges, who had the endorsement of the state federation of labor.
