

SOCIETY

Mrs. David C. Eccles of Ogden, a charming visitor.

Mrs. Charles E. Runyon, chairman of the Baby Home Committee.

Mrs. O.M. Clark, who is assisting in the general appeal for funds for the Baby Home.

Mrs. George L. Rauch, chairman for Alpha Phi Benefit Tea.

bera, under the auspices of which the tea was given, assisted about the rooms. Mrs. G. L. Rauch was chairman of the committee, assisted by Mrs. P. W. Blanchard, Mrs. C. W. Twining, Mrs. John Raymond Holman, Mrs. C. E. Grell, Miss Christine Forbes, Miss Gladys Bowen and Miss Gretchen Colton.

Those who assisted in the entertainment were Miss Frances Gill, who gave several readings of her own composition; Mrs. Eloise Hall Cook, who sang charmingly; Mrs. Carmac, who played a group of Scottish ballads, and the little Misses Dryan, in Scotch costumes, danced the Highland fling. A very clever stunt, "Before and After Taking," was given by the Industrial Girls' club of the Y. W. C. A. Patronesses for the afternoon were: Mrs. Allen Welch Smith, Mrs. H. Ashley Ely, Mrs. A. G. Barker, Mrs. H. G. Colton, Miss Catherine Burnside, Mrs. Ocean Jolly, Miss Avis Lobdell, Miss Adella Fritchard, Mrs. William C. Alvord, Mrs. Isiah H. Amos, Mrs. William H. Beharrell, Mrs. Chris A. Dell, Mrs. Roy Bishop, Mrs. E. S. Collins, Mrs. John Dickson, Mrs. James Failing, Mrs. Robert S. Farrell, Miss Isabelle Gauld, Miss Carrie A. Holbrook, Mrs. Charles Morden, Mrs. Charles T. Kamm, Mrs. W. F. Norman, Mrs. E. P. Northrup, Mrs. John Pearson, Mrs. A. L. Vencie, Mrs. F. M. Warren, Mrs. William D. Wheelwright, Mrs. Frank Wilmot, Mrs. George P. Wilson, Mrs. A. E. Rocky and Mrs. J. B. Montgomery.

The social committee for the Irvington club has planned some attractive features for the club this season. Dr. Thomas Wynne Watts is chairman. Mrs. J. P. Mulder was chairman for October. Mrs. W. J. Hofmann is at the head of this month's activities and Mrs. J. L. Bowman will be hostess for December.

Portland friends are welcoming Mr. and Mrs. Willis K. Clark, who have returned from an extended stay in New York. They are domiciled at 707 Wayne street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Forest Dickson entertained on Wednesday at a dinner for Miss Genevieve Thompson, Miss Lillian Moss, Major Seton Taylor and Captain Leland Smith. The party later attended the Amato concert and from there went to the J. Frank Watson reception.

Society and musical folk are anticipating the Portland Opera association's production of "The Force of Destiny" (Verdi) at the auditorium, December 3 and 4. To Mrs. E. L. Thompson, president of the association, much credit is due for the progress made by this organization. She is untiring, capable and tactful in her leadership and receives splendid cooperation from the artists and the public.

Mrs. Robert Sears was honor guest on Wednesday afternoon at an informal tea, at which Miss Isabelle Gauld was hostess.

Yesterday Mrs. Hall Lusk entertained for Mrs. Sears with a luncheon at which the guests were Mrs. Lawrence Wheeler, Mrs. Harold Smith, Mrs. Kenneth Robertson, Mrs. Wilson W. Clark, Mrs. Arthur Honeyman, Mrs. Eugene Rocky, Miss Genevieve Thompson and Mrs. Sears.

Mrs. Carl Wernicke will be hostess for Mrs. Sears on Monday and Mrs. Eugene Rocky will give a luncheon for her on Tuesday.

Mrs. Frederick S. Stimson of Seattle

Mrs. George L. Baker, another working for the Helpless Babies.

was honored at a tea given for a few friends of Mrs. A. S. Kerry at the Malory on Thursday.

Mrs. A. J. Giesy and Mrs. Paul Giesy presided at an enjoyable tea on Monday to welcome Mrs. William House to Portland heights.

Mr. and Mrs. Natt McDougall were among the hospitable Portlanders who gave pleasure to many by holding open house in their box at the Horse Show.

Among the society folk who entertained at box parties or dinners at Night Horse Show parties during the week were:

Mrs. J. C. Elliott King entertained yesterday with a smart tea for her daughter, Mrs. Estes Snedcor (Rachel King).

Miss Marion Voorhies came from Medford to attend the concert at which Amato and Kitty Beals appeared.

The Friday night dancing club met November 12 at the Laurelhurst club peared at the Hall. Miss Voorhies is a personal friend of Miss Beals and in her honor Miss Voorhies gave a box party. Miss Voorhies was the house guest of the Frank E. Harris for the week.

Mrs. J. B. Montgomery was hostess on Thursday for Bishop and Mrs. Walter Taylor Sumner, who recently returned from the east. The University club was the scene of the dinner. Covers were laid for 22, including Bishop and Mrs. Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Honeyman, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Shindler, Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Ayer, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Burns, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Leadbetter, Mr. and Mrs. Lucius Allen Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, Mr. and Mrs. E. Judd, Mrs. C. E. S. Wood, Colonel Stevens, U. S. A., Harry Montgomery and the hostess.

Mrs. Julius L. Meier and Mrs. S. Julius Mayer presided at a smart bridge party yesterday.

Mrs. George Loewenson was hostess at a luncheon at which she honored Mrs. Heller of San Francisco.

An attractive hostess of Thursday was Mrs. L. N. Lipman, whose guests assembled at her home for an interesting game of bridge followed by tea.

Among those who assisted at Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman's tea Thursday were Mrs. Warren E. McCord, Mrs. Creton O'Gorman, Mrs. A. A. Morrison, Mrs. G. C. von Eslofstein, Mrs. Ralph Williams, Mrs. John C. Monteth, Mrs. William Burgard, Mrs. Arthur Brown, Mrs. George Willard Brown, Mrs. Lovelle Winters, Mrs. Arthur Brown and Mrs. Guy Strohm.

Friday was notable in that bridge and tea parties were favorite social diversions of the day. Mrs. Marcus Fleischner, Mrs. Ben Neustadter and Mrs. Julius Lippert were three hostesses who entertained charmingly on that day. They found bridge an enjoyable way in which to give pleasure to their friends.

The Friday night dancing club met November 12 at the Laurelhurst club
