The executive committee and a newly authorized board of five to represent the wool-growers in a conference with forestry officials will be appointed by President Dobbin later. Chief among the resolutions adopted at the final session was a declaration that the Oregon Wool Growers' associately place an embargo upon further importations of foreign wools, goods manufactured from foreign wools, goods manufactured from foreign wool and foreign meats until such time as a fariff law can be enacted which will adequately protect the industries of the United States."

The present stagnation in the wool market and the low mutton prices prevailing have "financially embarrassed the sheepraisers of the United States and placed a great burden upon the hankers of the security committee and a confinite to the final session was a declaration that the Oregon Wool Growers' associated the clerks.

I think clearly the provision means that after being manufactured as sweet and non-intoxicating cider, it may be kept in the home for future use without violating this statute."

Possession of intoxicating liquor is not prohibited by the 18th amendment, he explained, and the only offense against the enforcement act which a manufacturer of cider for use in the home could be guilty of would be of having it in his possession after it ferments and produces alcohol.

"By the provision above quoted." he said, "I think congress has, at least by necessary implication, provided that the possession by the
