

Miss Louise Gray on Chi Omega Benefit Dance Committee

Mrs. Roy Bishop, Patrons for University of Oregon Ball.

Mrs. C. D. Unander, Patrons for University of Oregon Ball.

BITS of tinsel, scraps of holly, tissue paper and kiddies' toys are strewn about the rooms in Portland homes today, giving evidence of holiday joy. In addition to the pleasures of Christmas day, with its trees and bright decorations, the Portland social set is well provided with parties for the entire holiday week. Wise maids and matrons have listed the affairs so that each may be arranged for. Many organizations will have reunions and children's parties, and affairs for the school and college set will be numerous.

Monday's list includes several festivities. There will be two important parties for the children, the Multnomah club and the Portland Heights club entertainments. Chi Omega alumnae will give their big benefit dance Monday night at the Multnomah hotel and the Irvington club has planned a formal dance for the same evening.

Next in order will be the events of Tuesday, of which the wedding of Miss Philena King and Roland M. Lockwood is important. The University of Oregon will give its annual dance. Delta Delta Delta and Alpha Chi Omega will have annual luncheon on that day. Mrs. William D. Wheelwright will entertain for Eta Alpha of Chi Omega with a tea Tuesday.

Read college alumnae have chosen Wednesday night for their banquet, which will be given at the Benson hotel, and Phi Beta Phi will give a dance. Kappa Kappa Gamma alumnae will entertain that afternoon for the active chapter at Laurelhurst club-house.

Thursday will have its quota of social activities, including the Irvington club hard times dance for junior members. Mrs. Willard Jones will entertain for Mrs. Robert Jones that afternoon. A smart event of the last day of the year will be the drive for funds by the European relief council. Buildings in the downtown district will be supplied with booths where contributions may be made. The last day of the year the Elks will assist the women, canvassing New Year's merry-makers for funds for the unfortunate little ones of Europe.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Elizabeth Peacock and George Allen Lawrence was an interesting event of the week. At an informal tea given Thursday by Miss Peacock, the news was told. The guests included a score of intimate friends of the hostess. At the tea table, Mrs. Edward Thompson and Mrs. Willis Ashley presided and Mrs. Arthur Brown and Miss Verna Guthrie assisted about the room.

Miss Peacock is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Peacock. She is a graduate of Portland Academy and Wellesley and one of the most attractive girls of the younger set. Mr. Lawrence is also a graduate of Portland Academy and of Princeton University. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Lawrence. The wedding date has not been set.

Miss Sally Hart is among those who arrived last week to spend the holidays in Portland. She has been in San Francisco, and social service work for several months.

Anne Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. P. Adams, will be hostess for a dance next Wednesday evening at the home of her parents. Saturday evening her cousin, Sue Harrington, will entertain at the Adams home with a similar affair.

Three visitors were honor guests last Tuesday afternoon at an informal tea given by Mrs. Henry Green. Those honored were Mrs. Reade M. Ireland of Twin Falls, Mont.; Mrs. Charles T. Donworth of Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. Robert Livingston of Wenatchee, Wash. Miss Jean Mackenzie presided at the tea table.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Appleby have gone to Tacoma for the Christmas and New Year's holidays.

An event of the holiday week will be the bridge tea for which Mrs. M. Fleischner and Mrs. Henry W. Metzger will be hostesses. Mrs. Frederick Levy of San Francisco, who is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Frank, will be the honor guest.

The Waverley Country club will have its annual open house New Year's day. The affair is always anticipated with pleasure, for members and their friends come in during the afternoon for tea and dancing. The affair will be quite informal.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Tevis are being welcomed home by Portland friends. They now reside in Winlock, but came down to spend the holidays with Mr. Tevis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Tevis.

Mr. and Mrs. Fordham B. Kimball of Hood River have come to Portland for the winter and will be domiciled at the Mallory.

Dinner and dancing will be the programme of events at the University club New Year's eve. A progressive dinner party to be followed by dancing at the club has been arranged by Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Green, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cartwright, Mr. and Mrs. William K. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. R. Maurice Dooly, Miss Sara McCully and Scott Redfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Crosby Shevlin have come up from Bend to spend the holiday season with Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Shevlin.

Christmas evening a group of friends enjoyed the hospitality of the William MacMaster home when Mr. and Mrs. MacMaster entertained with a dinner party. The guests were Mrs. George S. Young, Bishop and Mrs. Walter Taylor Sumner, Mr. and Mrs. Sherman R. Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wilder, Mr. and Mrs. Edward H. Geary, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. Henry G. Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Reade M. Ireland and Colonel J. W. S. Stevens.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Amy Donald have sent out cards for an at home for New Year's day, when they will entertain from 3:30 to 6 o'clock. This will be a New Year's reception.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Williams will entertain on New Year's eve at their home in Westover terrace. A congenial party of friends will assemble to watch the old year out and 1921 arrive. The Williams have not been in Portland so very long but they have made many friends. They formerly were prominent socially in California, where they made their home for several years. Mrs. Williams is a gracious hostess whose parties always are characterized by a charm of hospitality and originality.

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Stansfield and Owen Davis of Chicago will be an event of Wednesday, January 13. The ceremony will be solemnized at the home of the bride-elect's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Joshua Stansfield.

Mrs. Mary Scarborough has as her guest Miss Helen Follett of Wisconsin. Miss Follett is well known to Portland society, having visited here last summer.

Mrs. Hicks Fenton has invited a number of friends for Wednesday night at the Waverley club. Dancing will be the diversion of the evening.

Ten guests enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. C. Hunt Lewis Tuesday at a dinner complimenting Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Henry of Stockton.
