Harding Inauguration Is to Eclipse All Others.

CABINET TALK CONTINUES

Western Delegation Would Have Man of Lane Type at Head of Interior Department.

THE OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU.

Washington, Jan. 8.—It having been practically settled that the Harding inauguration ceremonies are to be carried out on the large scale originally planned, but with small expense to the government, the inauguration committee is planning to make the event of more interest to all of the country than ever before.

Some innovations are scheduled which are made possible by the rapid progress in the last few years of inventive genius. For example, it was announced today that the inauguration address will be heard in every army post throughout the United States and on every battleship in the navy if the plans of a special committee on radio news are successful. Special wireless telephone apparatus belonging to the army and navy is to be used to transmit the voice of the incoming chief executive to all parts of the United States and to the fleet scattered everywhere at sea.

Radio Experts in Charge.

The special committee on radio news is composed of six members, three of the army and of the signal corps, the navy, with Rear-Admiral Bullard as chairman. A statement issued this afternoon from headquarters of the inauguration committee says: "The officers of the two branches of the service on the radio news committee are all experts in this line, and with the vast resources of the army and navy wireless stations at their disposal, it is believed that they will be able to carry out their plans. It will be the first time in the history of the United States that an attempt is made to transmit the president to all parts of the country and to the battleships during an inauguration address has been made, and the greatest interest will be shown in selecting the apparatus in order to assure the success of the attempt."

Millions to Hear Address.

It will also be possible for any person in the United States who is equipped with the necessary apparatus to hear the address, and it is probable that private interests will take advantage of this fact to hold "inaugural festivities" in many of the larger cities and listen to the president's talk.

Western statesmen continue to show deep interest and some concern over the appointment of a secretary of the interior. Some of them who hope that President-elect Harding will appoint a western man who is firmly anchored to the western viewpoint of what should be done for the west in the development of the national resources of that part of the country.

Man With Grasp Needed.

This eastern view is not admitted or accepted by any western statesman, but some of them are in danger of another scandal if some man is appointed to the interior portfolio who has no grasp of the broader national aspects of the situation, and who, consequently, might undertake to administer the responsibilities in a provincial manner. In other words, what these conservative westerners ask is a man who has the tact to please the west without exciting the suspicion of the east, and particularly that class which is so quick to suspect every other element of humanity as being dishonest and looking for graft.

Two Held Eliminated.

A Senator who conferred with Mr. Harding last week said that only three men were being considered for the interior post. These were Senator Fall of New Mexico, Interior Secretary George Sutherland of Utah and Governor Campbell of Arizona. Information today was that both Fall and Sutherland had eliminated themselves. Fall is said to have taken the position that for him it was secretary of state or nothing, and Sutherland felt that to go into the interior would be to eliminate him from consideration for the supreme court.

men. Mrs. McCleary told the police that her husband returned home with another soldier Friday night and they had gone upstairs where they talked in low tones for a short time. Later, she said, her husband came down and gave her $5. He then told her he was going over to Vancouver barracks to gamble the rest of the night. When he returned early in the morning he gave her an additional $3.50, she said.

WHAT CONGRESS DID AS ITS DAY'S WORK.

Senate.

Discussed during entire afternoon extravagance and waste to amend Shoals nitrate plant. Notice was given by La Follette that on Monday he would bring up his motion to reconsider the Foxfield anti-trust bill.

House.

Debated postoffice and post roads appropriation bill. Secretary of Labor Wilson was criticized for immigration policy by Representative Newton, republican of Minnesota. Minority of census committee opposed increasing the size of house, declaring it would cost the government an additional $1,000,000 annually.

TRUXTON BECK INDICTED

Marion County Grand Jury Holds Prisoner for Assault to Kill.

SALEM, Or., Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Truxton Beck, who was arrested in Portland last September, charged with assault with intent to kill in connection with an attack made upon John Promader of this city, was indicted by the grand jury here today. Promader, in his report of the assault to the police, said he was on his way home late at night when he was accosted by two men. Promader started to run, whereupon one of the men fired two shots, one of which penetrated his back.

OREGON FLOUR BOUGHT

$155,000 IS SPENT FOR SUPPLIES FOR EUROPE.

Money Raised in State Is Being Used in Large Measure to Buy Oregon Goods.

So far, $155,000, or $5000 more than the out-state's quota in the drive for the relief of European child sufferers, has been expended in Oregon in the purchase of Oregon flour.

This fact came to Frank L. Goller, state manager of the European relief council, from national headquarters Saturday. A message to Mr. Goller said that during the last four months two allotments of flour, one for $55,000 and a second for $75,000, had been purchased from Oregon.

Meanwhile the drive to complete Oregon's quota is being pushed with renewed and redoubled vigor. Let- ters have been sent to those districts where the campaign lapsed either on account of the holidays or bad weather, urging the county chairmen to push the work. Every county has been told that the campaign will not be allowed to halt until the total of its quota has been subscribed.

Something in the neighborhood of $40,000 remains to be raised in the 18 rural counties of the state. In a few of these counties the results have been discouraging, while in others the drive has temporarily passed with one-half or more of the prescribed quota.

FEDERAL TIRES

Did You Ever See the Trend Come Loose on a Federal Tire? You Did Not.

The cushion (shock absorber) between the tread and carcass prevents that. It is about three or four times as thick as in other tires. It is the connecting link between the tread and carcass. It not only holds the tread on firmly, but it protects the carcass from road shocks that would cause blowouts. Is that reasonable?

There are four other specific reasons why you generally drive Federal tires without taking them off the wheel.
