

News of World

As Seen By Camera

WITH oxen as the motive power before their "wheeled house" Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Barrang of Westchester, Conn., are traveling from their home to California. They make about ten miles a day. They were recently photographed while passing through New York city.

Captain George Anzer, whose pompadour is 8 feet 4 inches from the ground, and Lady Little, who is all of 30 inches tall, were recently measured and fitted for new clothes at the same time in a New York establishment.

News dispatches recently told how instructions for setting fractured bones and attending to internal injuries of injured seamen had been transmitted by wireless at sea and successfully followed out. Dr. Patrick

S. Burns of Providence, R. I., chief surgeon of the liner Winfredian, was the physician who resorted to the wireless when boats from his vessel were unable to get near the battered Belgian steamer Menapier.

One of the first photographs received from Geneva, Switzerland, pertaining to the league of nations session there, shows representatives of leading nations in conference.

Women perform a lot of the hard manual labor in Esthonia. They may be seen any day engaged in shoveling oil shale from narrow-gauge cars to those of standard size near the mines of the Esthonian government.

Gilbert K. Chesterton, the famous English writer, is now visiting in this country, accompanied by his wife. He is to make a lecture tour and collect data for his own use. It is his first visit to the United States.

A committee of the United States senate has been thoroughly discussing the question of limiting immigration into this country. Shown in the illustrations here are four members of the committee, left to right about the table: Senators Hiram Johnson, Thomas Sterling, William P. Dillingham and Le Baron B. Colt.

King Christian of Denmark recently paid a visit to some of the battle grounds of France. He was much interested in the "bayonet trench," where a monument donated by an American has been placed to honor the hero dead. The king is the tall man at the extreme right of the photo.

Connecticut Couple Travel Behind Oxen.

"Tallest and Shortest" Getting New Suits.

Women Work At Esthonian Mines.

Conference of League of Nations Leaders.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert K. Chesterton.

Doctor Sets Broken Bones By Wireless.

Senate Immigration Committee At Work.

King Christian of Denmark Visits Battlefields.