

News of World

AS SEEN BY CAMERA

Daughter of King of England
And Reported France

PRINCESS MARY, only daughter of King George of England, is reported engaged to the Earl of Balcuth, son of the duke of Buecluch. The earl is a lieutenant in the Grenadier guards and will be one of the richest of English dukes on succeeding his father.

The dumping of a few gallons of liquor is a common occurrence over the country nowadays, but something of a record was established recently at Waukegan, Ill., when 32,000 gallons of alcoholic beverages were turned into the sewers by government agents.

It is not generally known that four sons and a grandson of Yuan Shih Kai, second president of China, are receiving their education in the United States. They are very democratic and popular students at Middlebury college, Middlebury, Vt.

Charles E. Brickley, former Harvard football hero and one of the greatest kickers the game has ever developed, has made a phenomenal rise in the financial world since leaving college and entering Wall street as a broker. Through his own efforts and with his own capital, he is said to have run his fortune well up in the millionaire class in 12 years.

"Fritz," champion police dog of the world, can make himself a terror to thugs and robbers. It is said that he can trip and hold a man at will. He belongs to the New York police department.

Rear-Admiral Newton A. McCully, former high commissioner at Sebastopol, brought back from there seven famished Russian children as his wards. The children were photographed on their arrival at Washington with their "guardian," Eugenia Solifanova, largest girl of the group.

News dispatches recently told how Mrs. L. V. Brooke "kidnaped" her own baby daughter from a hospital at Thayer, Ind., by placing the child in a suitcase and lowering it from the hospital window. In the reproduced photograph Mrs. Brooke stands at the left.

Though the new torpedo boat Hornet, developed for the United States navy, is known as a "one-man" boat, two men are its "crew." It is only 58 feet long, but has power that gives it a speed of 30 knots an hour.

Franklin Bache Huntington, great-grand-son of Benjamin Franklin, quite appropriately participated in ceremonies in New York city commemorating the birthday anniversary of his noted ancestor and the opening of thrift week.

Dumping Out 32,000 Gallons of "Booze"

Sons of Chinese Ex-President Study in United States

Charles E. Brickley

How Police Dog Throws Robber

Russian War's Adopted By U.S. Admirals

Mother "Kidnaped" Child In Suitcase

Franklin Bache Huntington

Navy Tests "One-Man" Torpedo Boat