

News of World

AS SEEN BY CAMERA

ANY workmen and big piles of lumber were read in front of the capitol at Washington, awaiting orders for construction of a huge grandstand for the inauguration of President-elect Harding, when these plans were abruptly halted by a message from Mr. Harding. He said the ceremony must be simple in nature and preferably in the capitol itself.

Four Japanese girls, considered the best silk reelers in Japan, have just arrived in this country and are participating in demonstrations at the International Silk exposition in New York City. At their work in Japan these girls earn 50 cents a day, plus board and room.

There was nation-wide interest in the recent story of Albert Parsons, "wild man of the Mississippi river bottoms," who asserted that he had caught the woman who has been his wife for 23 years in a bear trap. Found with them was a two-year-old baby girl.

Prince and Princess Antoine Bibesco of Roumania have arrived in the United States, the prince coming to serve as Roumanian minister at Washington. The princess is a daughter of Herbert Asquith, former premier of Great Britain.

The Rev. J. J. Muir, for 32 years pastor of the Temple Baptist church at Washington, D. C., was selected chaplain of the United States senate, succeeding Rev. P. J. Pretyman.

One of the greatest concentrations of naval strength ever made by the United States is shortly to be staged around the Panama canal, where the Atlantic and Pacific coast fleets unite for maneuvers and a cruise down the west coast of South America. The warships New Mexico (left) and Mississippi were first to arrive at Balboa.

Miss Adelia Peterson, who formerly presided at a ribbon counter in Seattle, left that job to advance to the post of head cook on a big ranch, won honors among the women who participated in a big rabbit drive near Corfu, Grant county, Washington.

When a Mexican aviator struck the rear of the national palace at Mexico City he was seriously injured and his plane was left hanging where it struck.

Seventy-fifth or diamond wedding anniversaries are rare enough to attract wide attention. Several hundred friends and relatives recently helped Jacob and Sarah Dick stage such a celebration in a New York theater, their home being too small.

Champion Japanese Silk Reelers.

Roumanian Prince, Minister To U. S. and Wife

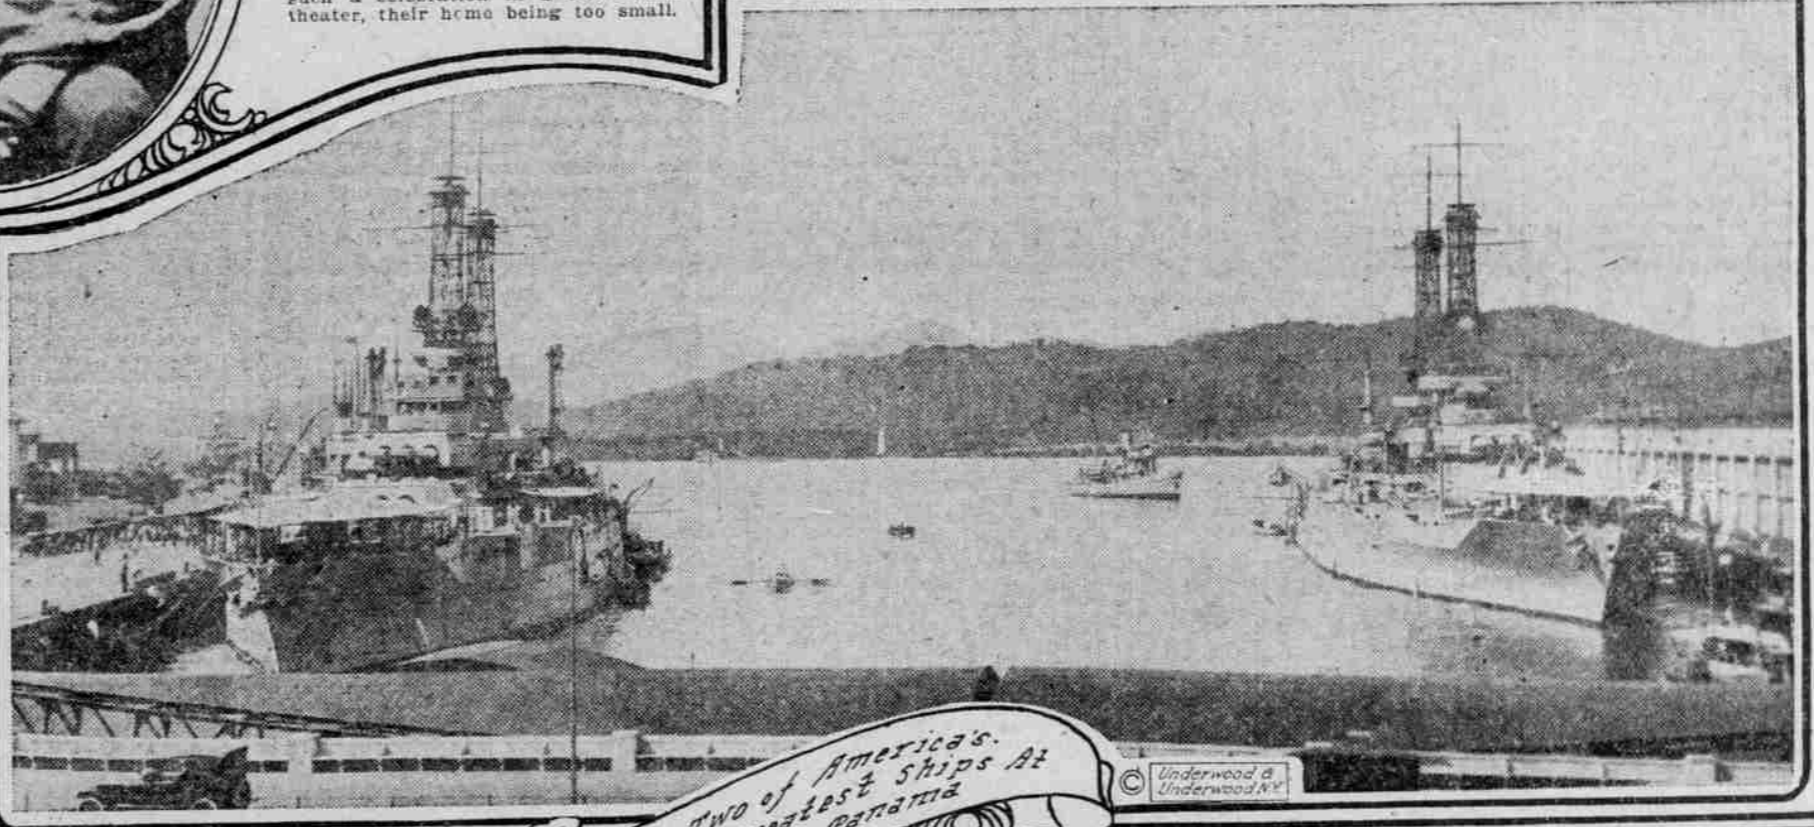

Inaugural Preparations Voted By Mr. Harding.

"Wild Man" and Strange Family.

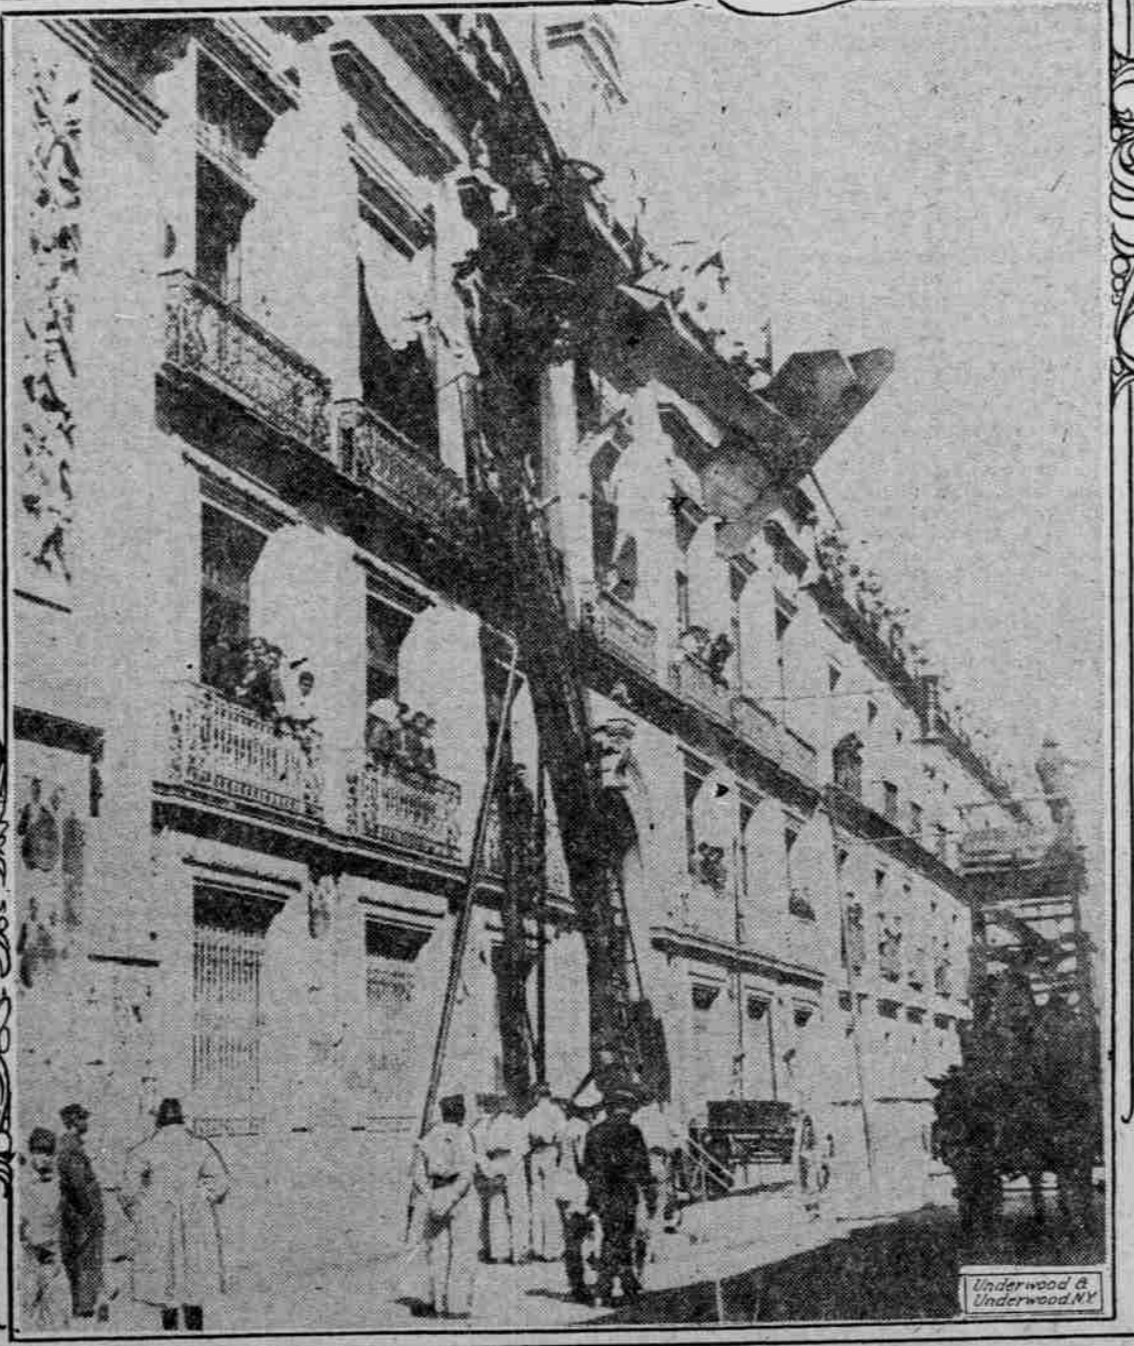

New Chaplain of U. S. Senate.

Two of America's Greatest Ships At Panama

Washington Girl Star Nimrod.

Airplane Hits Mexican National Palace

Couple 88, Celebrate 75th Anniversary.