and a graduate of the University of Washington. The bridegroom is a resident of Astoria, the son of Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Bates. The ceremony will be quietly solemnized with only the immediate families present. The bridegroom was in France for 18 months in the air service. He is popular among the professional men and in society.

At an interesting valentine luncheon given by Mrs. J. H. Voorhies of 1293 East Madison street, on Saturday, the engagement of Eugene Gwendolyn Voorhies and Eugene Spengler was announced.

The table was gaily decorated with red and yellow tulips. Covers were placed for Miss Annette Byford, Miss Dorothy La Roche, Miss Florence Heath, Miss Marian and Miss Beatrice Quackenbush, Miss Claire Cleave, Miss Lucille and Miss Pauline Pauling, Miss Hattie Spengler, Mrs. Frances Young Henry and the hostesses.

Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae club will meet on Saturday at 2:30 P. M. with Mrs. Harry Ward Hopkins, 902 Schuyler street.

Mrs. Joseph A. Hill entertained on Saturday at a luncheon for Miss Florence M. Holmes. A line party at the matinee performance of Tosca followed the luncheon.

A group of privates of Hill Military academy gave a dance last night at Liggett hall. The school orchestra played. The hall and ballroom were decorated with American flags.

The following were present: Dorothy Ettinger, Roberta Wade, Gabrielle Sewall, Jane Fleckenstein, Beatrice Conway, Virginia Keating, Mildred Thatcher, Madeline Coffey, Sophia Shek, Margaret Rankin, Geraldine Root, Elmore Wiggins, Lucille Vogt, Patricia Smith, Roberta Wells, Annabell Bates, Harriet Ross, Edna May Root, Frances Spaulding, Hallie Keating, Helen Darling, Rose Mary Mahoney, Pauline Labbe, Margaret Vincent, Hazelmary Price, Frances Jones, and cadets Boyd H. Miss Vella Winner was hostess at a luncheon given Monday at the Hotel Portland in honor of Mrs. C. J. Risselada of Holland. Mr. and Mrs. Risselada, who have visited in this country on several occasions, are the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Van Zante. Luncheon covers were laid for seven, including: Mrs. Risselada, Mrs. Van Zante, Mrs. G. E. McLeod, Mrs. Herbert Garr Reed, Mrs. Alexander Thompson, Mrs. G. J. Frankei and the hostess.

A theater party of interest will be given on March 1, when the Portland Women's club will take over the Baker theater for a benefit performance of "The Little Shepherd of Kingdom Come." Several of the club members will give line and box parties. The club will hold a violet sale on March 12. Both affairs will be for the benefit of their building fund.

Future beaux and belles of the Multnomah club enjoyed the most delightful junior party of the week, a fancy costume affair, given in the clubhouse Thursday evening. Because school bells would ring an usual the next morning the hours for the dance were early—7:30 to 9:30 being the time allowed. The grand march was led by John Givens, who was a dashing Toreador, and Miss Patricia O'Gorman, who was a handsome French peasant girl.

As the young people made their way through the mazes of the march and the dance, serpentine of many hues floated from the wires overhead and formed a riot of color, a fairy palace in which rainbow tints vied for honors while gaily attired young people made merry as reality, truly fairies should.

Among the children noticed were: Nancy Carpenter, in a green Chinese costume with a red bridal veil; Mary Carpenter, in a valentine costume; Jane West, in an 1889 costume of yellow; Margaret Krohn, as Martha Washington; Pauline Labbe, in a

Spring Suits

at these very modest pricings
$39.50 $49.50
$59.50 $69.50

—A glimpse of the new suits discloses many novel ideas—the jacket may be flared, boxed, tailored or Mandarin in inspiration—but everywhere there is the touch of embroideries, often with vivid bits of color—of shining silver or tinsel threads—or the subdued smartness of braid and silk stitching in the tailleurs.

—Tricotines and poiret twills are the favored fabrics—and amongst the sober blues—shades of platinum and tan stand out with particular emphasis.

Other Models Are Priced Up to $125.00

Springtime Hats With an Elusive Charm—

Employ cellophane to accentuate their smartness—entire turbans and toques are evolved from this brand—artfully draped so that they will glisten charmingly in the spring sunshine—while other equally smart models use it judiciously as a garniture.

—Betraying their newness with vivid flashes of color—hundreds of spring hats are reflected in the mirrors of our Millinery Section—adorable creations, and so moderately priced, withal, that selection becomes a pleasant task!

Blouses to complement Spring Suits

—Are a riot of lovely colorings and beautiful fabrics—vivid flashes of embroidery and the glisten of beads accentuate their charm.
—Overblouses still maintain their popularity, although "tuck-ins" seem equally favored.

"Window Shopping"

—Don't you remember the thrill and enchantment (long, long ago) of the Shop Window? The bewitching charm of fashionable wax ladies, the tense eagerness for a glimpse of Fashion's newest foibles—whether one was prepared to purchase or merely "window shopping."

—You'll find "Window Shopping" at The Emporium very pleasant, indeed. One may saunter past specially constructed cases which permit inspection from all angles. Displays are changed semi-weekly, offering each week eight groups of the season's newest loveliness, which can merely hint at the comprehensive displays within—
