P. E. O. Sisterhood Plans Two-Day Card Party.

Proceeds Will Go Toward Tablet in Woman's Building.

THE interest manifested and support given by the P. E. O. sisterhood to all things "educational" are familiar to many, and possibly nothing is more noteworthy in this particular than the $500 tablet pledge to the women's building, University of Oregon.

Chapter A of Portland made one of the first gifts of $25. Later chapter C also made a $25 contribution. The idea grew steadily, but it was not until it reached chapter M, a small but very active group, that the ambition took root to place a tablet on the women's building bearing the name of P. E. O.

The enthusiasm registered by chapter M quickly made its way into its sister chapters, with the result that not only in Portland, but over the state as well, all P. E. O. have joined hands in helping to crown the undertaking with success. To this end a two-day card party will be given at Laurelhurst clubhouse, March 30 and 31, the days being Wednesday and Thursday of Easter week. Sixty-eight tables will be used in the play each day, with the balcony of the club being reserved for those who come in for tea. A splendid programme has been arranged for the tea hour.

Five Big Y. W. C. A. Clubs Are Flourishing.

Social and Educational Work Covers Important Field.

THE innovation of parties at the Young Women's Christian association, with young men "among those present," has gone a long way toward making successful the social affairs of the five industrial clubs of the association whose activities comprise one of the big pieces of work being accomplished through the sponsorship of this organization.

The young men, who are procured through the Young Men's Christian association, welcome the parties and rarely fail to accept. Recreational games, relay races, the dancing of the Virginia reel, informal dancing and the serving of refreshments make up an evening's entertainment. Delightful return parties have been given by the men.

The industrial club idea was launched less than two years ago, when three clubs were formed with a total membership of 40. Today there are five large clubs—Four L, Bide-a-Wee, Blue Bird, Golden Links and Swastika—and in the activities of these organizations the lives of at least 2500 young folk have been touched.

Meetings are held every Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock, beginning with an informal supper served by the women of the various organizations of the city. Among those who have given their services are women's associations of the First Presbyterian church and the First Congregational church, Philathea class of the White temple, Corinthian circle of the First Methodist Episcopal church, Pi Beta Phi sorority, board of directors of the fruit and flower mission, chapter E of the P. E. O. sisterhood and Fortnightly club.

Local and visiting speakers make short talks after supper on current events and character standards, and latterly Mrs. Thomas G. Hailey has given a series of courtesy talks covering introduction, conversation, letter writing, table etiquette, courtship and marriage. From 7:30 to 9:30 there are classes in subjects chosen by the girls themselves. When eight or more girls ask for a class in any subject, a teacher is provided. Classes are being conducted in millinery, dressmaking, knitting, crocheting, basketry, postermaking, needlecraft, dramatic expression, gymnasium and swimming.

"Self Governing for Self Expression" is the motto of the clubs, and the chief aim not only is to help the girls to help themselves, but to give an opportunity to get away from the daily routine of life. During the holidays a new baby was outfitted by one club, another visited and took gifts to the 47 elderly women at the county farm and another took care of a needy family.

The annual banquet and meeting of all five clubs will be held tomorrow evening, when the accomplishments and the aspirations of the clubs will be told in short talks, stories and stunts. Covers for 100 will be laid for the dinner.

Just now the girls are devoting their time and energy to the benefit performance of "Pollyanna," to be given under their auspices by the Baker players Tuesday evening. In this enterprise they have the assistance of the industrial secretary, Miss Elsie Wible, and the club advisers, Miss Adelia Prichard, Miss Roxana Schroyer, Miss Kathleen Cockburn, Miss Margaret Thomas and Miss Katherine Burnside.

Club High Jinks Pretentious Entertainment.

Women's Organizations of the City Lend Full Co-operation.

THE programme for the club "high jinks," being arranged by the Presidents' club for April 1 at the Municipal Auditorium, bids fair to be the most stupendous undertaking of its kind ever attempted in Portland, not only because of the competitive idea involved but because of the club representation to be handled.

Patrons of the affair will be treated to the novel experience of a swiftly moving panorama of light and color, ranging from the Indian period, ancient colonial days, classic Egyptian times, to modern scenes and down-to-the-minute stunts, that will tax the utmost resources of the auditorium and require extra scene shifters, electricians and spotlight men.

The general public likes nothing better than pretty dancing, with colored lights, beautiful scenic effects such as the auditorium affords, and under the skillful manipulation of that master hand of Mr. Huffaker, who is always right there when it comes to supplying the necessary atmosphere for any act, no stunt will be lacking in correct presentation.

The Forum, Mrs. M. L. T. Hidden president, will present an Indian dance number featuring Gertrude E. Woodward and Kathleen Kla-wah-na, harpist.

The Alameda Tuesday club, Mrs. J. Weston Hall president, has secured Ada Losh Rose for a comedy skit.

The Woman's New Thought club, Mrs. John Bruce president, will constitute the programme material.

The commodious Sellwood community house opened hospitable doors to March Institute of Multnomah County W. C. T. U. last Thursday. There was a good attendance and much enthusiasm for the departments demonstrated. These were sabbath observance by Mrs. Christine Sommerfeldt, scientific temperance instruction by Mrs. G. L. Buland and anti-narcotics by Mrs. Stella Wilson. Devotionals were conducted in the morning by McCullough and in the afternoon by Rev. W. S. Gordon.

Mrs. Sommerfeldt presented her department during the morning hour. She said: "This is not a man-made department but was instituted 'in the beginning' and is a part of the great code of the 'ten commandments' upon which all our civil law is based." We may not with impunity observe a part of this great code and ignore another part, was the burden of her talk.

State president, Mrs. Mary Mallet, called attention to the fact that as the W. C. T. U. farm home is a part of the community chest, the organization must be ready to do its full share of the work in the drive now about to open. She was followed by Mrs. G. J. Frankel of the office of the Portland service league, who solicited the cooperation of the women not only in the filling of the "chest," but in the plans for the coming Rose Festival and for all-the-year beautiful and clean city. She said that seeds and fertilizer will be furnished at half price to those who will grow flowers for the festival and that special inducements will be offered children to make gardens, those living in apartments using window boxes.

Mrs. Buland, with an able corps of assistants, occupied the first afternoon hour. She presented the plans for a "health conservation" essay contest for the grade and high schools which had been published in the school bulletin and approved by the Portland school board, a letter to that effect from the secretary of the board being read. A unique illustration of the proper way to approach the principals of schools in regard to the contests was given in a dialogue between Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Jolley, Mr. Jolley personating the school principal and Mrs. Jolley the white ribbon petitioner. Mrs. C. A. Jenkins of the Lucy Thurman union read an amusing original paper entitled, "Old John Barleycorn's Honest Advertisement," in which she showed what a very lively corpse the old fellow it. How, though supposedly dead, he yet speaketh!

Mrs. Wilson's presentation of the anti-narcotic department showed in a most convincing way the great need of increased work against this ever-growing menace to the intelligence, character and thrift of the nation.

The silver tea given in behalf of the Richmond Parent-Teacher association at the home of Mrs. D. W. B. Dodson on St. Patrick's day from 2 to 5 P. M., proved to be a splendid success. MRS. FREDERICK SCHILKE of La Grande, child welfare chairman for the Oregon Federation of Women's clubs, and former president of the Oregon Parent-Teacher associations, is making a special appeal to the federated clubs to take up some special child-welfare activity and to report to her, or to the editor of the Clubwoman's Bulletin, on what progress is being made in each town and community.

Mothers of young babies are particularly interested at all times in proper feeding and care for the little folk. The clubs have done a large amount of work along these lines but so far have been too busy to turn in reports. Mrs. Schlike hopes they will do so soon.

The parents' educational bureau in the courthouse, in charge of Mrs. A. Bayley, and under the guidance of the Parent-Teacher association of the state, is a splendid institution. The clubs in all districts can co-operate with the parents and teachers or may take up individual work. Many fine high-score babies are discovered at the regular weekly baby tests at the bureau in Portland, but it is to the babies who need greater care, suggestions as to feeding and who are under-nourished, that the bureau hopes to be helpful. Anyone wishing information along child welfare lines may write to Mrs. Schilke, La Grande, Or., or to the bureau, 550 courthouse.

Betty June Davis scored 99½ when 7 months old. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Davis, Sixty-fifth avenue and Seventy-second street Southeast, and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Griffith of Brentwood.

Willard David, 7-months-old son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Barth, 664 Halsey street, scored 99½ in a recent eugenic test.

Joeine Wood, the attractive little daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Wood, celebrated her fourth birthday recently.

Amelia Irene, 3 years old, and Norma Jean, 2 years old, are frequent visitors at the home of their aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Plants of Portland. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Colvin of Aurora, Or.

Wallace R. McClung scored 98 when 11 months old. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. McClung, 7 East Eleventh street.

John Irvan McQuown, son of Mr. and Mrs S. I. McQuown, 4619 Forty-seventh street Southeast, received the eugenics test when 10 months old and scored 99½.

Shirley E. Wheeler was found to be a perfect baby. She is the attractive little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Wheeler, 1157 Clinton street.

Esther Bates, 7-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas I. Bates, 670 East Oak street, scored 98½.

Eudora Leslie Moran recently scored 99½. She is 7 months old.

Ella M. Kauffman, little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kauffman, 195 North Sixteenth street, scored 99½ when 6 months old.

War Mothers Pledge Aid to Bergdoll Assailants.

Organization to Co-operate With Legion and Daddies' Club.

AT THE regular meeting of the American War Mothers in room 525 courthouse, extensive plans were made toward helping all needy ex-service men and their dependents. A committee of two from the Daddies' club waited on the mothers to tell what they were doing toward sending financial aid to the two American soldiers who are charged with kidnaping Bergdoll, who still is hiding among his friends in Germany.

Financial aid and hearty co-operation in everything that was being done for these boys by the legion and the daddies was pledged by the mothers.

If what you eat ferments and turns sour, you belch gas and eructate undigested food or water; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated, remember the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness. A box of Pape's Diapepsin tablets costs so little at drug stores, too.—Adv.
