TODAY is May day. And Oregon is all abloom with lovely flowers, in the gardens, along the highways and in the florists' shops. Fruit blossoms in the orchards and wild flowers in the woodland, on hill-sides and in the dells are welcoming the "merry month of May." The decorations for teas and luncheons this season are unusually attractive, and hostesses vie with each other in attaining artistic effects. This week there are to be several May parties, and the festive Maypole with its gay streamers will be seen at several gatherings. Sometimes it may be but a miniature affair with tiny dolls holding the streamers, but the Maypole and the May dance and the bright garlands will have their way. The Multnomah club will have a children's party Tuesday from 4:30 to 6 o'clock. On this occasion the Queen of May will be crowned. Children of many of the prominent families will attend.

This week the Junior league girls will deny themselves the pleasure of attending some of the teas and matinee parties and will assist Mrs. A. E. Rocky with the Well Baby week programme in the Meier & Frank building. The Junior league is an or-

Many Portlanders are planning to go to Eugene to attend the ceremonies for the dedication of the women's memorial building at the University of Oregon May 7. Society will be represented in the list of those present. The railroad has granted a special reduced rate and so those who attend should get the receipt or certificate when they pay the one-way fare and when they reach the university town they may present this to Miss Charley Fenton and they will be assured a great reduction on the return ticket.

As there is to be an alumni meeting in Eugene at the same time a large attendance is expected. The Portland Symphony orchestra will play in the evening.

The programme will open at 10 A. M. with Dr. Harry Beal Torrey presiding. The women's glee club will sing and then will come an address by Dr. Aurelia H. Reinhardt, president of Mills college. The men's glee club, Bishop Sumner and President Campbell will have places on the programme. There will be an invitational luncheon at Hendricks hotel. Several other fine features will make the day notable.

The sorority houses and the fraternities will entertain many guests, and both town and gown will be represented in the list of those who will dispense hospitalities for the weekend. As the special rate offering commences on Wednesday many of the visitors will leave this mid-week and remain for several days.

Last week several social affairs in Portland were given for Mrs. Louis Gerlinger Jr., who has returned from Santa Barbara, where she passed the fall and winter. Other delightful social honors were accorded Mrs. E. L. Cartwright, who left Friday for San Francisco, where she will meet her son and daughter-in-law. Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cartwright, who are returning from Chile. Mrs. Cartwright was entertained by her sister, Mrs. Herbert Holman, and by Mrs. F. A. Nitchy, the latter gave a luncheon for Mrs. Cartwright Friday and the afternoon was passed with bridge. Mrs. Nitchy is a charming hostess and for the occasion had assembled a congenial group of friends.

Mrs. H. H. Van Duzer entertained

Mrs. George (Louise Small) A. Rebeck

Tuesday, assisted by Miss Constance Cole, honoring Miss Margaret Therakelsen. About 60 girls attended. The rooms were decorated with iris and the table was centered with pink and yellow tulips. Miss Frances Page and Mrs. Wilson Coffey presided at the table, and assisting about the rooms were Miss Jane and Miss Anne O'Reilly, Miss Louise Hoyt and Miss Helen Deltrich. Harriet O'Reilly received at the door.

A tea and reception will be given at the Martha Washington hotel, 350 Tenth street, which is maintained by the Portland Women's union for the young business women of the city, tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The meeting will be called to order by the president, Mrs. Adolph A. Dekum, when reports of the activities of the union will be given.

Receiving with Mrs. Dekum will be the past presidents, Mrs. Henry E. Jones, Mrs. Elliott R. Corbett, Mrs. C. R. Templeton and Mrs. J. B. Comstock, assisted by Mrs. William A. MacRae, Mrs. John S. Bradley and Mrs. Max Hirsch of the board. Mrs. Hicks C.

Fenton, chairman of the household committee, has charge of the arrangements for the afternoon. The public is invited to attend and hear and see what the union stands for and what these women are accomplishing in the community.

Mrs. Marcus Fleischner entertained on Saturday for Miss Ruth Lowengart and Miss Gertrude Neptally. Others present were Mrs. H. W. Metzger, Miss Jean Meier, Miss Elise Fleischner, Miss Marion Sichel and Miss Edith Ottenheimer.

One of the attractive social events of last night was a dance given by the Hill Military academy cadets who are residents of Liggett hall. The rooms were decorated in spring flowers and American flags.

Following were the young people who shared the festivity: Anabel Bates, Frances Hare, Elizabeth Sroat, Catherine Strupler, Elise Bristol, Harriet Elizabeth Ross, Edna May Root, Mildred March, Jane Fleckenstein, Virginia Whiting, Eleanor Holman, Mildred Thatcher, Sophia
