IN A PORTLAND OFFICE—John, where are you going to send your wife and daughters this summer? Second business man—They want to go through Glacier national park, but they are not accustomed to taking such a trip alone. First business man—Why not send them along with Warner & Clarke's personally-conducted all-expense tour—you know, Fred Warner and N. K. Clarke, otherwise known as "Patsy" Clarke. They both have been connected with Portland hotels for years and are both Glacier park men. They have an office in the Multnomah hotel lobby. Second business man—Well, that sounds all right. I'll look them up and may go along myself. Thanks, old man.—Adv.

BOLM BALLE DANCERS WILL APPEAR AT HEILIG THEATER

Choice Attraction of Season Will Give Only One Performance in Portland.

ADOLPH BOLM AND RUTH PAGE.

AMONG the truly choice attractions offered this season in Portland will be George Barrere's Little Symphony, and the Ballet Russe, recruited, trained, equipped by Adolph Bolm, said to be the greatest male dancer since Fordkin, which combination will give one performance only in Portland. This will be Wednesday evening, at the Heilig, direction Steers & Cuman. The Salt Lake Tribune of April 21 says: "Not since the appearance here of the Flonday quartet, dominating with our aggressiveness and the high attainments of his men are evident in perfection of tone blend, a delicacy of shading, a unity of musical spirit when required that both amazes and thrills."

work of the Ballet Intime, headed by Adolph Bolm. Both sections of the programme presented last night at the Salt Lake theater were so thoroughly artistic, so commensurately satisfying when compared with the ordinary presentations, as to tempt toward predominance of superlatives in description. "Barrere, probably the greatest flutist living, founder and conductor of the Little Symphony, holds his aggregation of 13 instrumentalists as only a great conductor can. He pulsates, vibrates, reflects, exudes the music he directs, dominating with our aggressiveness and the high attainments of his men are evident in perfection of tone blend, a delicacy of shading, a unity of musical spirit when required that both amazes and thrills."

WHITMAN ALUMNI MEET FRIDAY.—The monthly meeting of the alumni and friends of Whitman college, living in Portland, will be held in the lounge room of the Washington hotel Friday night. Miss Grace Lee of the class of 1920, is planning to have some of the members of the younger set present several numbers. There are more than 70 graduates of Whitman college living in Portland. Mrs. Harry Johnson is president of the organization and Miss Grace Lee is secretary.

EVAN PORTER IS SOUGHT.—Evan K. Porter, 14 years old, bundled his clothes in his father's suitcase and then took his father's automatic revolver and ran away from home, according to a report made to the detective bureau yesterday by the father of the boy, S. D. Porter, 424 Fourth street. The parents have asked the police to conduct a search for the missing lad.

PROWLER GETS CLOTHES.—Prowlers went through the room of Antonia Donata, 182 1/2 First street, some time Friday and stole his black suitcase, which contained an overcoat, a suit of clothes, a quantity of other wearing apparel and a surveyor's steel chain. The theft was reported yesterday to the police.

NOTICE. Please take notice that on January 22, 1921, I turned over all my private interest and all the interest I received under the will of my deceased husband, Edward Holman, in the undertaking firm of Edward Holman & Son, to my son, Walter J. Holman, who from the said date has been the sole and exclusive owner of the business conducted under the firm name of Edward Holman & Son at 228 Third street, Portland, Oregon, of which firm I was a silent partner. I wish to thank the public for the kind patronage they rendered to the firm during the life of my husband, Edward Holman, and I bespeak for our son, Walter J. Holman, the same patronage and kind consideration shown his father by our many friends in Portland.

Signed: WALTER J. HOLMAN. —Adv. MRS. EDWARD HOLMAN.

Pacific to Have Representative. PACIFIC UNIVERSITY, Forest Grove, Or., May 7.—(Special).—A. C. OREGONIANS EAST ELECT NICHOLAS JAUREGUY PRESIDENT OF CLUB AT HARVARD.

Movement Begun to Provide Funds for Scholarship to Student From Oregon Institution.

BY LAMAR TOOZE. CAMBRIDGE, Mass., May 7.—(Special).—Nicholas Jaureguy of Portland was elected president of the Oregon club at a recent meeting in Boston. The Oregon club is an organization composed of Oregon and former residents of Oregon who are living temporarily or permanently in Boston and vicinity. Mrs. Jessie Chase Eastham of Cambridge, formerly of Portland, was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Mr. Jaureguy is in the second year class at the Harvard law school and has made an enviable record there. By reason of his high scholarship he won a place on the staff of the Harvard Law Review, which is the most coveted honor in the school. He also was awarded a scholarship by the faculty. Mr. Jaureguy is a 1917 graduate of the University of Oregon.

The Oregon club has a membership of 80. The club held two dancing parties and one dinner party during the year. A movement has been started by the club to raise funds to provide an annual scholarship to be awarded to a deserving student who has been graduated from any Oregon institution. A committee consisting of Lou Morrow of Boston, formerly of the Dalles, Or., chairman; Mrs. Jessie Chase Eastham of Cambridge, and Paul Spangler of Eugene, has the matter in charge.

At a recent competition conducted by the Architectural department, Massachusetts Institute of Technology, Walter Church of Eugene won the first prize of $50 among the regular students, and John J. Stanton of Portland the first prize of $50 among the special students, for their designs. Both are members of the Oregon club. Floyd Haberly of Silverton, a graduate of Reed college, another member, has been appointed a Rhodes scholar and will go to England next year. Paul Spangler of Eugene has a scholarship at the Harvard Medical school. Wayne Stator of McMinnville, and Francis Scaife of Eugene, who will complete their courses at the Harvard Medical school this year, have been the two best appointments to internships at the school.
