CHIEF MARVEL OF TANK

BERTHA GROVER MAKES DEBUT ON PANTAGES STAGE.

Wonderful Little Mermaid Wins Laurels as Swimmer and Diver at Age of 9 Years.

Bertha Grover, 9-year-old Portlander, is the happiest girl in the city today, for yesterday she realized her ambition and appeared on the stage in a swimming act. Bertha's life is just nine years long, but ever since she became the pupil and later the protégé of Miss Schlotz, swimming instructor in the Portland public schools, little Bertha has had one dream, and that was to market her talents and turn them to account. Miss Schlotz has been offered a vaudeville tour and a motion-picture exploitation of her little pupil, but she has postponed any engagements until that mature until the child is older. Miss Schlotz is a personal friend of Lottie Meyer, who is heading at Pantages this week in her famous swimming and diving act, and when Miss Meyer visited Miss Schlotz's class at South school last week and saw Bertha Grover swim and dive she arranged for the child's debut at Pantages.
 "Bertha is a marvel," said Miss Meyer, who is herself a Portlander, "and I predict that she will enter the front ranks as a swimmer and diver. It is unusual to find a child so young, or older, either, for that matter, who can qualify as both a swimmer and a diver. She has had splendid training from Miss Schlotz, whose own ability is widely known."
 One of Bertha's feats in the tank consists of diving while her hands and feet are tied, and picking up a rubber ring in the bottom of the pool and swimming with it to the tank's edge.

SISLER STARTS SLUGGING

WARNING GIVEN TO BATTERS IN AMERICAN LEAGUE.

Hellman of Detroit Is Ahead, With Sensational Figure of .521 at Present.

CHICAGO, May 14.—Make way for George Sisler. That was the warning given the leading batters of the American league by the averages for the last week. The young first baseman of the St. Louis Browns stepped into a slugging streak which will soon carry him to the top of the list if continued.
 Including games of Wednesday, Harry Hellman of Detroit, leads the league with the sensational figure of .521, but Sisler sent out 13 safe hits in six games during the past week and climbed from 35th to 17th position. This champion batter of 1920 has increased his average from .386 to .382, his hits including three doubles, two triples and a home run. In addition he scored 19 runs and stole two bases.
 Hellman hit in an unprecedented fashion to hold his league leadership, also smashing out 13 hits in six games, three being doubles and two going for four bases.
 Burns of Cleveland is the runner-up to the Detroit slugger with an average of .452, displacing Evans of Cleveland who was second last week. Evans is batting .417.
 The leading pitchers among the world's champions Cleveland Indians, and Ty Cobb, pilot of the Tigers, give promise of being near the top of the list. Speaker, who is in fifth place, Babe Ruth follows with .403, and Cobb is next with .388. Wood of Cleveland is fourth with .387.
 "Babe" Ruth, by crashing out three circuit drives, brought his string of homers up to 10. Harris of Boston continues to set the pace among the base stealers with six.
 Other leading batters include Stephenson, Cleveland, .380; Menosky, Boston, .375; Witt, Philadelphia, .373; O'Neill, Cleveland, .369; Gharrity, Washington, .365.
 Roger Hornsby of St. Louis star, who last week topped the batters of the National league, has again battled his way to the top. Hornsby boosted his mark from .358 last week to .471. George Kelley of the New York Giants, who promises to give "Babe" Ruth a race for home run honors, sent one home run bringing his total circuit drives to eight.
 Bohne of Cincinnati broke the triple tie for stolen base honors, which he shared with Heathcote of Pittsburgh, by stealing three bases. He is showing the way on the pats with seven thefts, while Heathcote has eight.

BEAR CREWS START EAST

UNIVERSITY OF CALIFORNIA ROWERS TO CAMPAIGN.

Pacific Brawn Will Be Matched Against Crack Oarsmen in Intercollegiate Contests.

BY WILLIAM UNMACK.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—(Special)—The University of California, eight-oared crew, holders of the Pacific coast intercollegiate rowing championship, left here today for Princeton. The crew will row the Princetonians June 4, and after that event will go direct to training quarters at Poughkeepsie in New York.

The California crew theoretically will row the west coast in the Atlantic. The California crew will work out daily. A special baggage car has been attached to the overland train and fitted up as training quarters. Two sets of rowing machines have been installed, and starting tomorrow morning, the crew will work out every day on the machines. Coach Ben Wallis believes he can keep his men on edge by this new training stunt.

"The long train trip is the worst feature of our invasion," said Wallace, "ultimately conditions of course, are considerable to do with competition, but I really believe that with a rowing crew lack of work is the big factor. The trip means at least four full days and possibly five without work, but with the rowing machines I believe we will land the men at Princeton in excellent shape."
 Identically the same crew which won the coast title last month left for the east today. The men on the crew and their weights, etc., follow:

Name	Stroke	Weight	Height
A. E. Larson	20	160	6' 1 1/2"
J. M. Rogers	21	155	6' 1 1/2"

RULE BARRING SUBSTITUTE HITTER FOR PITCHER NEEDED

Records Reveal Fact That Most All Moundsmen Are Weak at Bat and Need Training.

BY FRANKLIN B. MORSE.

A SUGGESTION has been made that a rule forbidding the substitution of a pitcher for a substitute hitter would help the managers win a lot of games and would develop a lot of fairly good batting pitchers.

This idea is conceived because of the notorious weakness of pitchers at the bat. The moundmen who are able to maintain anything like a respectable batting average are so few and far between that they practically are a negligible quantity. For confirmation of this it is only necessary to go over their batting records. The following season, thus far, is no exception to the rule.

Some weakness already has been accounted for on the theory that a pitcher is used to seeing the ball speeding away from him hundreds of times, where he sees it coming to him only relatively a few times.
 Another theory is that the pitcher has been weak because he has come to the conclusion that all pitchers are poor batters. He is simply taking it for granted, because he is a pitcher, he is not going to be a good hitter. In other words, it is conceived to be a mere state of mind that has been encouraged by managers and others that a pitcher can't hit for shucks, and both pitchers and managers and something new and it has been condemned by Captain Wilton Peters and his men. The News calls on the undergraduates to eliminate the objectionable rooting and play the game right.

RESOLUTION INTRODUCED TO PENSION MASTER PLAYER.

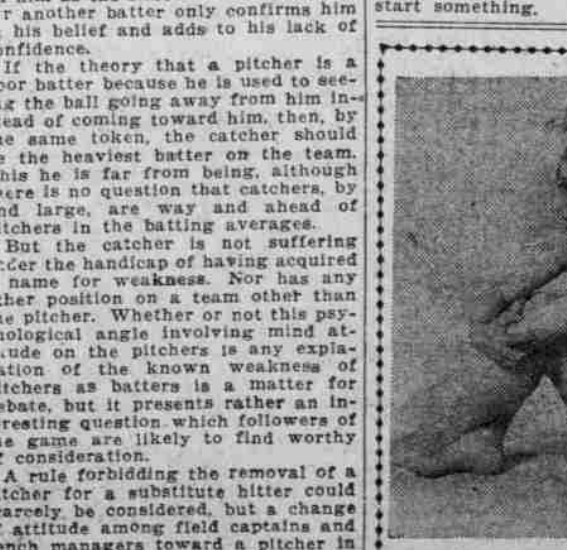

People Grateful to Capablanca for Bringing Chess Title to Island Republic.

NEW YORK, May 14.—That the people of Cuba are properly appreciative of what Jose R. Capablanca accomplished in defeating Dr. Emanuel Lasker of Berlin in the recent chess match at Havana and thereby bringing the world's championship to the island republic is apparent if one may judge by the fact that, as reported, a resolution has been introduced in the Cuban congress granting a state pension of $6000 a year to Capablanca in recognition of his famous victory.

By defeating Dr. Lasker by the score of 4-0, with 10 drawn, he became richer to the tune of $9000, which is not much when compared to the income of a professional or big league ballplayer, but a very snug little sum for a chessmaster.

What is most significant about the proposed pension is the fact that hereafter Capablanca will have to worry little about tax breaks and butter and keep his mind clear when called upon again to train for other matches to defend his title. The late William Steinitz, who preceded Dr. Lasker as Havana's the Eldorado of chess, and the Cuban capital seems to be living up to its reputation.

Including expenses, the match cost Cuba not less than $30,000, so that the price of the 14 games played averaged more than $2000 apiece. Even the chess players of Havana, although delighted at the outcome, think this was too high a price to pay and especially for such cut-and-dried games as the seventh and 13th, both of which were only 23 moves long, and the

HURLING RECORD GOOD

DISCUS AND JAVELIN EVENT ON COAST IN INFANCY.

Records Made Recently in Seattle Speak Well for Development of Sport of Throwing.

The discus and javelin events on the Pacific coast are of comparatively recent date so far as competition is concerned. The discus first made its appearance here about 1906, while the javelin dates only to 1909.

Under these conditions the new Pacific coast records established in both events last week at Seattle are of highly meritorious character.

The first real exhibition of discus and javelin throwing, and as a matter of fact the first national title competition in the javelin was staged at the Amateur Athletic union championships at Seattle in 1909. The late Ralph Hofer won the two events, and established coast records in the discus, while Bralley Gish of the Seattle Athletic club was winner of the javelin. Hofer also established the first coast mark in this event with 144 feet.

On the Chicago Athletic association team at that time was Joe Horner, one of the best all-round west coast men of the east. Eight days later at San Francisco in a three-cornered meet between the Olympic club, New York Athletic club and the Chicago Athletic association, Horner broke both marks set by Gish and Hofer. From that time on the evolution of coast records in the discus and javelin has been interesting and today the coast men are leaving very close to the American record in both events.

As a matter of fact the javelin coast records between 1909 and 1914 were the recognized American records. The figures on these two events follow:

Discus	Javelin
B. Hants, Seattle Athletic club, at Portland, June 7, 1908—121 feet 9 inches.	Ralph Hofer, Olympic club, at Seattle, August 13, 1908—131 feet 8 inches.
Joe Horner, Chicago Athletic association, at San Francisco, August 21, 1909—131 feet 8 1/2 inches.	M. Alderman, Stanford, at Stanford, May 12, 1912—152 feet 2 inches.
J. Horner, Chicago Athletic association, at San Francisco, August 21, 1909—140 feet.	O. Snedigar, Olympic club, at San Francisco, October 22, 1909—169 feet 10 1/2 inches.
R. Hants, Seattle Athletic club, at Portland, June 7, 1908—121 feet 9 inches.	W. J. Horner, Chicago Athletic association, at San Francisco, August 21, 1909—140 feet.
Joe Horner, Chicago Athletic association, at San Francisco, August 21, 1909—140 feet.	O. Snedigar, Olympic club, at San Francisco, October 22, 1909—169 feet 10 1/2 inches.
M. Alderman, Stanford, at Stanford, May 12, 1912—152 feet 2 inches.	C. Snedigar, Berkeley, Cal., October 13, 1911—166 feet 1 inch.
J. Horner, Chicago Athletic association, at San Francisco, August 21, 1909—140 feet.	Neil, University of Oregon, at Eugene, Or., May 9, 1913—169 feet 8 1/2 inches.
O. Snedigar, Olympic club, at San Francisco, October 22, 1909—169 feet 10 1/2 inches.	H. Liverson, Polytechnic school at San Francisco, April 11, 1913—184 feet 5 1/2 inches.
A. Tucker, University of Oregon, at Seattle, May 7, 1921—192 feet 4 inches.	The present American javelin record is 197 feet 5 1/2 inches, made by Jim Lincoln, New York Athletic club, on September 25 last year on his return from the Olympic games. The American and also world discus record stands at 158 feet 1 1/2 inches, made by Jim Duncan May 37, 1912.

Improvement in both events has been steady. Twenty-four feet have been added to the original discus record made 15 years ago, while 48 feet have been added to the original javelin record made 22 years ago.
