Prospective Head of Board Democratic Target.

NOMINATION DELAY HIT

President Doing His Best to Get $100,000 Men for $12,000 Jobs, Republicans Retort.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 21 .- The invitation, anderstood to have been extended by President Harding to James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation, to become chairman of the shipping board, was the subject of partisan debate in the house today during debate in the house today during consideration of the $100,000,000 deficiency appropriation bill, which includes items for the board.

Mr. Farrell's name was brought up by Representative Davis, democrat, Tennessee, a member of the merchant marine committee, after Chaigman Good of the appropriations commit-tee had been questioned by demo-crats as to the board's policy.

"It will be the substitution of a business policy for a lack of busi-ness policy," replied Mr. Good, adding that the president, required by the shipping act to appoint men from certain geographical sections, was doing his best to find $100,000 men for $12,000 lobs. Personal Interest Alleged.

Asserting that all appointments were being held up "while the president was trying to persuade Mr. Farrell to accept." Mr. Davis declared that the man being sought by the president was head "of one of the greatest monopolies in the world and one which would be most vitally concerned in the extension of singning. cerned in the extension of shipping operations."
"Is this Mr. Farrell the only may capable of holding the high posi-tion?" Mr. Davis asked. "Why are his qualifications such as to delay appointment of other members?" Representative Madden, republican.
