Food Furnished by Soviets Insufficient to Sustain Life.

PLIGHT GROWING WORSE

Captain Marion C. Cooper of Jacksonville, Fla., Who Succeeds in Escaping, Tells of Starvation.

WARSAW.— (By the Associated Press.)—The plight of seven Americans, one of them a woman, held by the bolsheviki in prisons on various charges, is worse today than at any time since they were taken into custody, in the opinion of Captain Merion C. Cooper of Jacksonville, Fla., who escaped recently from one of the camps near Moscow. Captain Cooper at the time of his capture was commander of the Kosciuszko air squadron of the Polish army.

Life in a bolshevik camp is a matand the time of the Koschuszko air squadron of the Folish army.

Life in a bolshevik camp is a matter of physical endurance as to the length of time one is able to hold out if compelled to live upon the food furnished by, the soviets, Captain Cooper said. All of the Americans would have died long ago, Cooper believes, if it hadn't been for outside aid from time to time.

Captain Cooper said he was on the effe of starvation several in who were the work of a British in who were the work of the manufacture of the work of th meat usually not larger than an egg, were served on an average of about twice a month.

The black bread, according to Cooper, who, as an aviator with the First American army, was captured by the Germans during the St. Mihlel drive, is far worse than the bread served by the Germans even during the last few weeks of the war. Mrs. Marguerite E, Harrison of Baltimore, a writer, arrested nearly two years ago, is in the prison where foreigners under investigation by the extraordinary commission are held. Conditions in this place are said by the prisoners to be the worst of any all orison in all Russia. Estey (unidentified) and William Flick, moving-picture operators, were in the same prison near Moscow where Mrs. Harrison is confined. Soldier in Prison Hospital.

ATHENS.—The Greek newspapers found much diversion in the arrival here by airplane of young William B. Leeds, son of Princess Anastasia. They are calling the youth who is soon to marry Princess Xenia, the I7-year-old daughter of King Constantine's sister Marie, "Sir William Leeds," and it has been suggested that the king may confer a dukedom on him in return for the fortune he may inherit.

References are being made to him in the newspapers as "the duke of Piraeus" and "the prince of Leeds," "We hope," says a humorous writer in the Athena, "that the young prince ciuding services at Portland crematorium.
