

WIDOW IS WITNESS AGAINST PARAMOUR

Mrs. D. C. Corbin Takes Stand in Arson Case.

INTIMACY IS ADMITTED

Chauffeur Alleged to Have Wood Her While She Was Recovering From Operation.

SPOKANE, Wash., June 18.—Mrs. D. C. Corbin, widow of D. C. Corbin, related on the witness stand today her alleged intimacy with Louis E. Lige, her chauffeur, who is in trial in superior court charged with first-degree arson in connection with an attempt to burn the $40,000 Corbin home here in April. She admitted that they had lived as man and wife, and that she had made her home here in April. She admitted that they had lived as man and wife, and that she had made her home here in April.

She testified that Lige had proposed to her while she was in the hospital recovering from an operation for appendicitis, and that he had told her she was "a wonderful woman, with a mind that reminded him of Benjamin Franklin." He continually pressed her for money, she said, and when she had made her will at the hospital, leaving him only $500 and her nephew $25,000, he had complained. The witness further testified that Lige had threatened to sue her over the will through their common law marriage.

Fire Chief on Stand. Fire Chief Joyson was on the stand and testified that several fires had been started in the house.

Mrs. Corbin is held under bonds on a first-degree arson charge. Her confession of the alleged plot, shortly after the fire.

Taking the witness stand this afternoon to testify against Lige, Mrs. Corbin requested Judge Oswald the privilege of addressing a few remarks to the defendant. The jury was excused and the court then stated that Mrs. Corbin must obtain the consent of Attorney Gray, representing Lige. "I want to say that if Lige will speak the truth and nothing but the truth he will never be sorry," said Mrs. Corbin as she burst into tears. "When Lige came to my house, he said, 'You will never be sorry.' " "Between sobs Mrs. Corbin then said: "Your father was a minister. He has brought you here only for the best."

After these remarks Mrs. Corbin turned to Judge Oswald and stated: "I am through."

At the close of the afternoon recess Mrs. Corbin was escorted into the courtroom by Prosecutor Meyer, for the afternoon, where she had been during the afternoon.

Taking the witness stand, she gave her name as Anna L. Corbin, widow of the late D. C. Corbin, living at 507 Seventh avenue. "Mrs. Corbin, are you charged with a crime similar to that against the defendant?" Prosecutor Meyer asked. "Yes, I am," was the reply. "How have you come into this trial?" asked Judge Oswald. "I came of my own free will," said Mrs. Corbin, her voice trembling. "Were you given any promises by me or any members of my staff?" he asked. "No, indeed, I was not," she replied. "How long have you known Lige?" asked the prosecutor.

Privilege Is Asked. At this point of her testimony Mrs. Corbin asked if she could have a special privilege of the court.

"I have not talked with Lige since his arrest and I have something I would like to say," she declared to Judge Oswald. Judge Oswald dismissed the jury and allowed Mrs. Corbin to make her open statement to Mr. Lige, through Attorney Gray.

CROSSING HEARING SET

Highway Commission Would Change Its Original Plans.

SALEM, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—The state highway commission has filed a petition with the Oregon public service commission asking that the case involving the establishment of an overhead crossing over the tracks of the Southern Pacific company at Springfield be reopened. Previously the commission made an order granting the state permission to erect the crossing and apportioned the cost of the construction to the highway commission, Lane county and the railroad corporation. The highway commission now desires to change its plan of construction to the end that the proposed wooden approach will be replaced with a permanent fill. Hearing of the case will be held in Salem June 21.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 18.—"Motorists, beware the tribulus terrestris." Government weed shapers today issued such a warning against the "puncture vine" of the west and southwest, an undesirable immigrant from southern Europe, which probably was stowed away in the Decatur of the first sheep to reach this country. A California man, the report said, reported 79 punctures in one tire, committed by the weed.

COUNTY MAKES BIG SAVING

New Steel Draw at Walluski River Bridge Represents Economy.

ASTORIA, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—The report of County Roadmaster Hackett on the construction of the new steel draw at the Walluski river bridge showed that a large saving was made by the installation of the structure by the county's own crew. The county court some months ago called for bids on removing the old structure, supplying the steel and equipment and installing the new steel draw at a cost of $124,257.25. Later the county purchased the steel at a cost of $123,882.32. The steel was erected on barges by the port crew at an expense of $124,257.25, while the old draw was removed and the new one set in place by the roadmaster's crew, the total cost of the project being $123,882.32, or a saving to the county of $12,374.93 when compared with the lowest bid.

The Seattle contingent will go as far north as San Francisco, from which port they will attempt a return non-stop flight to San Diego, starting July 5.

CRAZED HUSBAND SUICIDE

Wife, Shot by Spouse, Thought Fatally Wounded.

WALLA WALLA, Wash., June 18.—(Special.)—Charles F. Perry, 49, was dead and Cora Perry, 26, his wife, was believed to be dying as a result of a shooting affray at the Perry home early today, when Perry, crazed by jealousy, tried to kill his wife and took his own life. Mrs. Perry recently started divorce proceedings, charging cruelty and non-support. The Perrys were living apart, Mrs. Perry staying at the home of her father, L. F. Crownover. Perry came to the Crownover door this morning and asked his wife to feed the chickens.

Ten minutes later two shots were heard. The couple were found lying on the bed, the woman with a bullet hole in her left temple and the man with a bullet hole in his right temple. Sheriff Springer was called and the two were taken to hospital, where Perry died a few minutes later.

Perry came to see Springer a few days ago and threatened to kill a man whom he alleged was keeping company with his wife.

PICKING WAGE IS FIXED

Oregon Growers' Association to Pay Cent a Pound.

SALEM, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—Members of the Oregon Growers' Cooperative association, at a meeting held here today, agreed that a cent a pound would be paid for picking cherries this season. The same amount probably will be paid for picking loganberries, although this was not definitely decided. In the absence of any report from the buyers, the growers did not attempt to set any price on cherries or loganberries. It was learned from the buyers, however, that cherries probably will demand from 3 1/2 to 4 cents a pound, while loganberries will sell at a similar figure.

ALUMNI HOLDS REUNION

DAVID GRAHAM OF EUGENE IS ELECTED PRESIDENT.

UNIVERSITY LUNCHEON FOR FORMER STUDENTS PROVES INTERESTING

Feature of Gathering.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, EUGENE, JUNE 18.—(Special.)—David Graham, of Eugene, a member of the class of 1905, was elected president of the alumni association of the University of Oregon at a luncheon held at the Hotel Thiele, former chief of the Hotel Thiele in Portland, who will manage the place. The luncheon, in dining room, reception halls and bedrooms, all substantial and attractive, featuring evidence of the cost, brought gasps of wonderment.

Benson Welcomes Guests. Mr. Benson welcomed in person today the guests at the reception. No present appeared happier than the president, perhaps, it was Mr. Thiele as he presided over a kitchen fitted, as he says, in full accord with his dream of years. The big dining room, occupying the center of the first floor, was cleared for dancing. The center of the floor was banked with superb bouquets sent by Portland clubs and merchants and local folk. A huge bouquet was presented by the Hood River commercial club, and Mayor Portland, in response, presented a beautiful basket of flowers to tender to the city and county officials.

Dancing had been planned in both the dining room and the basement ballroom, but workmen were unable to complete the latter for the occasion. Plans also called for a programme with speeches by Mayor Baker of Portland, Governor Olcott, Mayor Seebie and other prominent citizens. The former two notables, however, were unable to attend. The governor and Mayor Baker, however, and other prominent folk of the northwest sent messages of congratulation.

Mr. Thiele declared it his aim to make the cuisine of the luncheon an exceptional. In the estimation of the reception guests, who were regaled with a sumptuous buffet luncheon, he made an excellent beginning. Scores of Portland guests remained over for the night. They were following tonight by additional scores, among them a large delegation of the Kiwanis club. The initial dinner hour tonight saw the big dining room fairly crowded. Many local folk motored to the resort for the evening.

Hoff, state treasurer, through his deputy, James Crawford, today announced that he would oppose any attempt to erect the proposed new plant for the boys' training school on land within sight of the state's correctional institution. Mr. Hoff said that, if necessary, the state would purchase a site elsewhere. The new institution in order that the inmates may devote at least a part of their energies to production of farm crops and other work which contribute to the support of the school.

Mr. Hoff's announcement indicates that the board of control are divided as to the selection of a site, with the state treasurer and Sam A. Koser, secretary of state, each favoring an individual location proposed by Governor Olcott.

Such was a resolution adopted by the class at the alumni luncheon this afternoon and announced by Virgil V. Johnson, whom Senator Mulkey accused of being the instigator of the movement. THE DALLES, Or., June 18.—(Special.)—Thousands of dollars' worth of Wasco county cherries were today endangered by high showers, which fell over the entire county. Picking was suspended immediately. Another day of rain will virtually destroy the entire crop in the Wasco county cherries, according to J. H. Under the name of the Feldstein Furniture Co. I conduct three stores—one in St. Johns, one on Washington st. and one at First and Yamhill.

The investment in stock, overhead expense and interest charges on the three stores is tremendous and a very peculiar season has left me overstocked with an immense amount of furniture.

THE TIME HAS COME WHEN I MUST REDUCE my enormous stock and MAKE ROOM for my fall goods, and I MUST GET THE MONEY TO PAY CASH for the new goods, as they arrive. In that way I can buy to better advantage and maintain the low-price level that keeps this store the busiest on First street.

I therefore announce THE MOST DARING FURNITURE SALE ever attempted by any Portland merchant to my knowledge in my 15 years in Portland.

I have REPRICED every piece of furniture, every cooking utensil, every piece of China, every garden tool—in fact, every price on EVERY ARTICLE in my store has been slashed to the bone, way below present replacement prices. Original cost has been disregarded. I WANT THE CASH and will sell for CASH at such prices that people must buy.

I would rather stand a loss on half my stock than lay off my salesmen—family men who have been loyal to me—or to continue paying high interest charges or to borrow money for fall buying.

I guarantee to offer you the biggest bargains in medium and high-grade furniture to be had in the west today. If you see you will need furniture or any household article within the next six months, buy here next week. YOU WILL MAKE MONEY. This AMAZING SALE will be limited to 10 DAYS ONLY. You will have to act quickly. Thousands of people will be crowding this store. The earlier you come the wider your choice. This ad will NOT appear again. THEREFORE, ACT PROMPTLY, before you forget.

Yours truly, ADOLPH FELDSTEIN.
