

HOOD RIVER GLACIER PROUD OF SILVER CUP VICTORY

Best Oregon Weekly, According to Judges in College Contest, Built on Idea of Serving People, Editor Declares.

BY JOE D. THOMPSON.

HOOD RIVER, Ore., June 25.—(Special.)—Honors come so seldom to those whose lives are devoted to weekly newspaper work that we know our fellow craftsmen will pardon our expression of pride in the award made last week at Corvallis, when as a feature of farmers' week at the Oregon Agricultural college, judges awarded first place to the Hood River Glacier from a standpoint of rural community service. We feel that the people of Hood River should be elated, and more especially so, since the town's only other newspaper, the Hood River News, was awarded the second place, running the Glacier, according to the judges, almost a tie race. Newspapers, big or little, of the smallest country town or the biggest metropolis, must show aggressiveness and initiative to develop, but they also most assuredly are in a measure a reflection of the demands of the citizenry of the communities in which they exist.

The month of brides and roses happens also to be the birth month of the Glacier. This newspaper, the oldest business institution of the Hood River valley, with the exception of the Mt. Hood hotel, came into being in June 22 years ago. The paper has made a steady growth since its first issue was turned out on an old hand press. The paper was founded by George T. Prather, now a rancher of the Summit district. The late John H. Cradlebaugh, one of Oregon's most gifted writers, was its editor until 1891, when he sold the paper to S. F. Blythe, Civil War veteran and dean of northwestern printers. The latter sold the paper in 1904 to its present owner, A. D. Moe. Ink for the first copy of the pioneer newspaper was spread over the old press by D. E. Rand, now a local merchant, who for two years was printer's devil and general assistant in the original office.

Victory Causes Thrill.
News of our Corvallis victory naturally makes our 33d birth our proudest and happiest. The award is a recognition of the efforts of weeks, years and months of hard work. It is a stimulus to urge us on to an even better record.

While we believe we can say without being guilty of immodesty that the decision of the Corvallis judges resulted to a large extent from our own efforts, the Hood River community should accept the victory in a great measure as its own. The general community spirit of progress is always a spur to industry on the part of the newspaper. The merchants of Hood River, too, should feel themselves responsible for the award. The Hood River community should accept the victory in a great measure as its own. The general community spirit of progress is always a spur to industry on the part of the newspaper. The merchants of Hood River, too, should feel themselves responsible for the award. The Hood River community should accept the victory in a great measure as its own.

We consider our victory at Corvallis the result of years of striving. Our predecessors set a pace for honest journalism. The early brilliancy of Mr. Cradlebaugh sticks us to emulation. The continuing interest of Mr. Blythe, although ownership of the publication passed completely in 1904, remains an inspiration.

Silver Cup Citizens' Trophy.
We expect to receive our silver cup soon. We have invited the people of Hood River to come in and join us in admiring it. We will possess it merely as custodian. We have asked the people of the city and valley to think of the cup or look upon it as their own, for it belongs to Hood River.

The Glacier aims to make further progress. We do not, however, expect to participate in anything sensational. This would not be in keeping with our past record. We prefer to be conservative, but to fight when occasion demands. When we criticize we aim that it be for constructive purposes. We never intend to inflame passions or to tear down. From week to week we devote our space proportionate to merit and demands of the public, among all of the activities of the county, including religious, civic and business, and faithfully make record of them all; to stimulate honest endeavor in all fields and thus bring about rural community co-operation and growth.

We notice that a criticism attached to us because of advertisements on our front page. Despite the fact that this has been a characteristic mark of the Glacier, we know those front page advertisements must offend the eyes of other newspapers, for the reason that they are no longer the fashion. But the Glacier to its customary readers would be like Mount Hood without Cooper's Spur, were the front page advertisements eliminated. Some newspapers that present a handsome front page make us think of the type of man who spends his all on a flashy suit of clothes, but who wears a dickie and no underclothes.

Advertisements Feature Page.
We do not mean to imply a sole justification for our front page advertisements simply because we are a newspaper. The custom established the front page advertising copy has advantages and benefits for the mutual good of us and our advertisers. We have frequently received complimentary and interesting reading matter and advertisements of each page. If we did not carry advertising on our front page, we would necessarily have to add two additional pages almost exclusively with advertising copy. By utilizing a set portion of the front page each week we equalize the advantage of advertisers by having all of their messages to prospective purchasers closely aligned to reading matter.

The Glacier is a local newspaper, purely. We do not try to settle national or international affairs. Our scope is limited to Hood River and things that touch on Hood River life. We have frequently been asked this question by men and women, who by the mere asking show an inexperience in newspaper work: "Why don't you start a daily?"

But we have never had a desire to turn a good weekly into a commonplace newspaper. Indeed, modern methods of transportation have ended the usefulness of most daily newspapers of small communities. Circumstances render the smaller town dailies superfluous.

TRUCK DRIVERS TARGET VIOLATIONS ARE REPORTED TO MOTOR DEPARTMENT.
Chief Inspector Issues Warning That Recently Enacted Statute Must Be Obeyed.

SALEM, Ore., June 25.—(Special.)—T. A. Rafferty, chief inspector for the state motor vehicle department, announced today that he had issued instructions to his traffic officers to enforce strictly the new law which became effective May 25, relative to maximum loads carried by trucks and speed on the highways.

The following table shows the maximum loads, based on tire equipment, and the rate of speed they may travel on the highways.

Combined weight vehicle and load, pounds.	Not in excess of miles per hour.
	Vehicles equipped with pneumatic tires.	Vehicles equipped with solid tires.	Vehicles equipped with metal tires.	Vehicles equipped with metal tires.
6,500.....	20	25	8	8
9,500.....	20	25	8	8
12,500.....	22	18	8	8
15,500.....	20	12	8	8
22,000.....	18	12	8	8

Mr. Rafferty said he had received many complaints regarding the overloading of trucks, together with accusations that many of the drivers apparently had no regard for the speed limit. Loadometers have been ordered by the motor vehicle department, and upon their arrival next week, action will be taken to stop truck violations.

Copies of the new law regulating trucks have been printed, and may be had by drivers applying to the secretary of state.

BOYS BUILD HUGE CAMP
Gift of Plot Stirrs Youngsters to Construction Work.

HOOD RIVER, Ore., June 25.—Activities of boys of Hood River, organized into the Recreational club, are making headway in the development of a wooded plot five miles out on the west bank of Hood river. The plot was donated to the club by Leslie Butler, a banker here. The youngsters are now engaged in clearing the grounds, building trails and erecting a 50-foot flagpole. They are planning a swimming tank and a cabin which will have a large room with a dormitory balcony. The club members now make weekly trips to their club quarters. One hour of each day spent at the camp is devoted to school.

Almost 4500 Licenses Out.
VANCOUVER, Wash., June 25.—(Special.)—To date, almost 4500 automobile licenses have been issued in Clarke county this year. Last year the total number of licenses issued was 4690. As licenses are being issued at the rate of from eight to ten a day, it looks as though last year's record will be passed, though early in the year it was generally believed that there would not be nearly so many machines operated this year.

Vancouver Traffic Heavy.
VANCOUVER, B. C.—According to the report of the harbor board, Vancouver had a most successful shipping year in 1920. During the year 644,402 passengers passed in and out of the port, 56,300 being trans-Pacific passengers and the remainder being on coastwise steamers. In the 12 months 11,449 coastwise steamers, with a ton-
