

LOCAL GROCERS PICK JULY 27 FOR PICNIC

Elaborate Programme to Be Held at Bonneville.

SLOGAN CHOSEN FOR DAY

More Than $1500 to Be Given Away in Prizes for Various Events Scheduled for Day.

Goodbye trouble, goodbye worry; Grocers' picnic. Hurry! Hurry! It seems that no big affair these days is complete without a slogan to help put it over and the 21st annual grocers' picnic, which will be held at Bonneville, Or., July 27, is no exception. The general committee in charge of the annual event, composed of Fred A. Olander, Gus Walstrom and Harry Corkill, decided to hold a contest about a month ago to find a snappy slogan with a kick to it. A prize of $25 was put up to be awarded to the person sending in the best few lines. After a good deal of pondering over the several thousand slogans in, the one foregoing rhyme was selected. The author is Alma Louder of Vancouver, Wash.

Big Affair Expected. Slogan of no slogan, the annual grocers' festival is a big thing. It is usually held on the last Wednesday in July and following the custom will be held on that day this year, July 27. There are more grocery stores closed on the last Wednesday in July here than Christmas. Thanksgiving, the Fourth of July or any other holiday. More than 300 people attended last year's gathering at Bonneville and preparations are being made to handle that many this year. The general committee and a flock of sub-committees have been working on the picnic for six weeks, lining up feature stunts, athletic events, prizes and entertainments of all sorts for the day's outing. Sixteen events or more will comprise the athletic programme with more than $1500 in prizes up to the winners in the various events. There will be something for everybody to enter, from the 4-year-old to the 50-year-old.

Dance to Be Held. There will be dancing from noon to midnight, with plenty of music all day. A chorus has been organized under the leadership of Miss Holcomb, and Miss Harriet Leach will sing solo.

Special attention will be paid to the children on this year's excursion. A corps of trained nurses will be hired for the occasion. A crowd of clowns will be out in full regalia to amuse the older youngsters and attempts are being made to obtain half a dozen burrows or "rodent mules" for the children to fuss with.

Ball Game Scheduled. One of the features will be a ball game between the grocers' all stars and the Portland police team. The afternoon. Two special trains are slated to leave Portland between 8 and 9 o'clock the morning of July 27, the exact leaving time not yet being certain. Many of those who will attend will journey to Bonneville by

WRIGHT SELLS, ANYWAY

MARKETMASTER DEFIED AND CHERRIES ARE OFFERED.

Hubbard Growers' Agent Erects Sign on Market in Spite of Refusal to Get License.

Fred Wright, agent of the Hubbard Berry Growers' Co-operative association, yesterday defied Marketmaster Eastman to stop him selling cherries and berries without a license at the public market, erected a stand and posted a sign, "Loganberries $1 crate, cherries 3 cents a pound. Eastman, be here at 2 o'clock to prove you are a liar, Fred Wright."

Unfortunately Mr. Eastman left at 10 o'clock in the morning on a fishing trip and did not see the sign. Junius Wright, assistant marketmaster, did not know the cause of the accusation, and said he had no intention of any attempt to make the Hubbard agent stop selling, but asserted that food unfit for public consumption had been sold at the stand during the week and made a complaint to Gordon Lang of the health department. Issuance of licenses has been held in abeyance recently due to confusion over the recent quarterly charge being raised from $1 to $6. A number of stand owners had applied for licenses in advance and obtained the $6 rate and they complained thereupon about paying $6.

Fred Wright is the man who advertised quantities of 95-cent strawberries some time ago, but produced only a few crates.

FALLING TREE KILLS MAN

Choker at Lumber Camp Victim of High Line Accident.

DALLAS, Or., July 2.—(Special.)—E. D. Ose, 29, a choker employed at the camp of the Willamette Valley Lumber company, at Black Rock, was instantly killed yesterday when a tree was uprooted by a high line and fell on him. The body is in possession of Coroner Chapman here, who is endeavoring to locate relatives.

Democratic Paper Appears.

MEDFORD, Or., July 2.—(Special.)—The Daily Clarion, Medford's new newspaper, published by the Clarion Publishing company, the stockholders in which are a number of Medford men who are democratic in politics, appeared in its first issue last Friday as a weekly of 12 pages, and 5000 copies which were distributed throughout the county.

Clearing House Company is Here.

The Lumbermen's Clearing House company is a Portland concern, with offices in the Union building. This statement is made to clear up doubt as to the company's identity as a local enterprise, which was contained in a news item of June 20. The item concerned the indictment of Edward H. Schafer, president and manager of the Oregon-Washington Lumber & Manufacturing company, charging him with attempting to defraud the Lumbermen's Clearing House company in securing a loan.

EIGHTEEN HUNDRED OREGON SOLDIERS PHOTOGRAPHED ON ARRIVAL IN PORTLAND FOR REVIEW.

GUARD'S STRENGTH SEEN

OREGON'S CITIZEN SOLDIERS PASS IN REVIEW.

Complete Military Unit, Infantry, Field and Coast Artillery and Engineers Number 1800.

The Oregon national guard demonstrated to Portland citizens Wednesday that the state has a complete military unit of infantry, field artillery, coast artillery and engineers trained and equipped to take the field on a moment's call in time of need. The entire organization, 1800 strong, passed in review through the streets of the city before a crowd of thousands of persons.

Former soldiers, citizens who had seen much of military display in war times and officers of the regular army praised the appearance and conduct of the Oregon men. Their appearance in the two weeks of intensive training at Camp Lewis and Fort Stevens on their regular summer encampment won them the praise of their officers and instructors. The national guard now includes a number of veterans, who saw service in France as members of the 182d Infantry and other fighting units to which the men from the state were assigned. The Oregon national guardsmen represent 14 Oregon cities, including mostly the Willamette valley, southern Oregon and the coast region. Portland furnished a large percentage of the men in the regiment. Company B of Portland won the silver trophy cup as the company making the best appearance in the parade and review Wednesday.

Lyubich to Be Arraigned. John Lyubich, indicted on a charge of assault with a dangerous weapon, will be arraigned Tuesday in the circuit court, according to Deputy District Attorney Mowry. Lyubich was arrested as the result of a fight in front of the soft drink place which he operates at Twenty-fourth and Nicolai streets. Herbert M. Feddersen received a bullet through the lung and it was thought for a time that the wound would be fatal.

WOODMEN CAMPS INSTALL

Webfoot and Portland Hold Joint Ceremonies for Officers.

Installation of officers of the two chapters was performed by Webfoot Camp, No. 55, and the Portland camp, Woodmen of the World, at a joint meeting in the Woodmen temple on Friday night. The following officers were installed:

Portland camp—Walter B. Schade, advisor; Lieutenant: C. A. Bequette, banker; Herman Schade, clerk; R. Bentley, watchman; J. Wraga, sentry; W. S. Ward, manager. Webfoot camp—A. J. Love, advisor; Lieutenant: N. E. Barstow, advisor; Lieutenant: N. E. Bird, banker; H. L. Barber, clerk; J. Van Hoomissen, escort; E. W. Jorgenson, watchman; Dr. T. W. Armstrong, sentry; M. T. Woodward, clerk.

Yeags Get $400. A small safe in the rear of the restaurant of Lange & Kruse, 145 Park street, was blown open early yesterday morning and robbed of $275 in cash and an unset diamond valued at $125. Police inspectors who investigated the case pronounced it the work of experienced yeags. Entrance to the restaurant was gained through a rear window.

BERRY PRICE TO BE LOW

FIRST GRESHAM SUPPLIES DUE IN CITY ON WEDNESDAY.

Arrangements Made Between City Council and Growers for Ample Quantities for Canning.

The first supply of berries to be sold on the Portland public market by the Co-operative Berry Growers' association of Gresham will reach the city on Wednesday, according to announcement yesterday by D. E. Towle, manager of the association. The association will undertake to supply the entire city of Portland with first-class berries at a reasonable price in July. It is estimated that more than 100 tons will be supplied.

The sale of berries will be undertaken along the lines of an agreement reached between the growers and the city council. The step is taken to help tide the berry men through a season with no established market and to provide Portland housewives with plenty of fruit for canning at the best price possible. Raspberries, blackberries, loganberries and blackberries will be supplied.

The berry season will continue for a period of at least six weeks. The supply will be placed upon the market as it ripens and it is hoped to be able to fill the demands of the housewives. The established price of a crate of 24 boxes will be: loganberries and blackberries, $1.10; Marion orange raspberries, $1.25; cutbert and black cap raspberries, $1.50. Loganberries will be more plentiful than the other varieties.

The scarcity of berry crates has worked a hardship on the growers during the entire season. The association will take over quarters equivalent to ten stalls on Yamhill street between First and Front streets.

CARE IN DISEASE URGED

DIPHTHERIA DEATHS LAID TO IMPROPER PROCEDURE.

27 Cases Are Under Quarantine by City Health Officer, Exceeding Last Year's Record.

Failure to take proper steps immediately on the outbreak of diphtheria cases may have resulted in the deaths of two Portland children from that disease within the week, Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, declared yesterday after receiving a report of the death of Raymond Campbell, aged 13, 1215 South Kellogg street.

"If cultures were taken when the doctor was first called, those deaths might have been avoided," said Dr. Parrish. "The trouble is that there is a wait while other methods are tried and the disease develops to a fatal stage."

The death of Raymond Campbell followed closely on that of Maxine Simons, aged 11, East Eighty-eighth street North. Nineteen deaths from diphtheria have occurred within the city during the year. The city health officer has ordered all cases quarantined at the present time. The number of cases and deaths has been much larger than last year.

ROAD TO BEACH BAD

Autoists Warned to Take Grand Highway to Tillamook.

Automobilists who expect to go to Tillamook today or tomorrow are advised to take the Grand Ronde road, south from Portland and through Sherburne, instead of the road through Tillamook county, last night telephoned The Oregonian to say the road from Seaside south to Tillamook was not open.

The Seaside-Tillamook road, Mr. Carroll said, is impassable about ten miles south of Seaside. Thirteen cars, he reported, were held up there Friday night, and machines were unable to get through yesterday. On the other hand the Grand Ronde road reported in good condition.

HOLD-UP YARN FLAYED

Sheriff Denounces $2500 Robbery in Mountains as Fake.

Because he is confident the reported robbery and assault upon J. R. Renoud of Tillamook county was a fake, Sheriff Aschlin of Tillamook county announced yesterday that he had dropped all investigation into Renoud's highly colored charges of being set upon and robbed of $2500 by automobile bandits along a lonely mountain road. The sheriff likewise believes that the Bert Sims, who Renoud reported was a companion, and who was believed to have been murdered, is a flippant character.

"So far as my office is concerned we are conducting no search for this other man," Sheriff Aschlin said. "My inquiry has convinced me that Renoud's story is false from start to finish."

Sheriff Aschlin said inquiries made by him revealed that Renoud was involved in financial difficulties. He declared it is probable Renoud might have faked the hold-up story to appease creditors.

11,942 AT EAGLE CREEK

Four Times Number Registered Believed to Have Visited Camp.

Albert Weisendanger, forest ranger at the Eagle creek camp grounds, reports that 11,942 have registered during the last four months. It is estimated that about one out of four visitors registers. At that rate it is estimated that more than 47,768 visitors have been on the grounds this season.

The camp grounds have been put in first-class condition for the large crowds that are expected over July 4. Mr. Weisendanger says "all signs indicate a heavy crop of wild blackberries and huckleberries in the mountains in the locality this year. Two large blackberry patches are located in this vicinity, one up Eagle creek trail seven miles, and the other, which covers several acres, is located across the river from Bonneville. A launch at Bonneville takes one across for 25 cents. Berries will be ready for picking within the next two weeks. Huckleberries will not be ripe until the latter part of August."

FARM TO AID POOR BOYS

Eighty Youngsters to Get Vacation at Country Home.

Eighty boys will spend the summer on the Big Brother farm of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Lyon near Lebanon, Or. This farm was opened eight years ago to homeless boys in need of the character-building influence of the Big Brothers. Each year dozens of boys have visited the farm and, according to Mr. Lyon, as a result many of them have been inspired to obtain better educations and now have careers.

Ben Selling this year, as in previous summers, is donating transportation for the boys who go to the farm from Portland. Miss Georgia Kiefer, a former Reed college student, has been chosen as assistant matron on the farm.

"The Boy They Call Bad" is the subject of an address that will be given this morning by Mr. Lyon at the Laurelhurst Methodist church.

ARMY DESERTER IN JAIL

MEDFORD, Or., July 2.—(Special.)—After James L. Burke, who drifted into Medford several days ago in an army uniform, had been bound over to the grand jury yesterday on the charge of forging on a check on a local business man, and attempting to pass it, Chief of Police Timothy Burke issued a telegram from the Vancouver barracks this morning saying that Burke was wanted there on the charge of desertion from the army and robbery. He was held in the county jail in default of $500 bail.

LOGGING CAMP NEAR KEISO CLOSES

KEISO, Wash., July 2.—(Special.)—The Bufaula company camp, west of Keiso, closed down last evening for two weeks over the Fourth. The but was arrested on her first attempt to do so, when she presented a check for $25 bearing the name of Paul

13 PASS OFFICERS' TEST

W. C. EPPS AND R. L. CRANE GET HIGHEST POLICE MARKS.

Ten Appointments From Civil Service List Are Expected to Be Made at Early Date.

William C. Epps and Robert L. Crane head the list of 13 successful applicants for the position of lieutenant in the Portland police bureau, according to returns made public yesterday by W. E. Marion, secretary of the city civil service board. It is thought that ten appointments from the eligible list now made available will be announced soon.

The results are the first returns from a civil service examination held on September 24, 1920. Six of the 12 men already have received temporary appointments and one is serving with the rank of captain. William C. Epps, Robert L. Crane, Fred M. West, Harvey A. Thatcher and William E. Robson are now acting lieutenants, and Henry A. Lewis is acting captain in charge of the traffic department. Captain Lewis received a temporary appointment to the position to fill the place of Leo V. Jenkins, now chief of police. The successful applicants and their ratings below: William C. Epps, 83.33; Robert L. Crane, 83.18; William H. Breunling, 82.23; Ralph L. Sobad, 81.49; Asa B. Clement, 81.23; Fred A. Graves, 79.50; Henry A. Lewis, 78.40; Fred M. West, 78.65; Harvey A. Thatcher, 77.37; Francis Mallon, 77.45; William E. Robson, 77.39; Albert E. Maas, 76.53; Frank R. Gouldstone, 76.19.

Tourtelotte was engaged by the committee of creditors of the house to verify the list of securities now in the possession of Trustee Earl C. Brown or held by banks as collateral for past-due loans. The creditors will make their bid for the assets as soon as he completes his work. Trustee Brown said that the bid must be made as soon as A. J. Tourtelotte, certified public accountant, has completed a check of securities and estimated the size of a loan needed to be made up by pledges from creditors for the sum required to bid on the total assets.

A proposal for purchase of the assets of Morris Brothers, Inc., bankrupt bond house, for liquidation purposes will be made as soon as A. J. Tourtelotte, certified public accountant, has completed a check of securities and estimated the size of a loan needed to be made up by pledges from creditors for the sum required to bid on the total assets.
