

STEPS ARE TAKEN TO OBSERVE TRUCE

End to Hostilities Is Ordered by Factious.

VALERA ASKS FOR UNITY

Determination to Endure All Necessary Is Urged.

TERMS ARE AGREED ON

Government in Dublin Issues Order That All Military Activities Are to Cease.

DUBLIN, July 9.—(By the Associated Press.)—A general order directing the suspension of hostilities during the peace negotiations, which is to be effective from noon, July 11, was issued tonight by Richard Mulcahy, chief of staff of the Irish republican army.

The order said: "To the officers commanding all units: In view of the conversations now being entered into by our government with the British government and in pursuance of the mutual understandings to suspend hostilities during these conversations, active operations by our troops will suspend from noon, July 11."

Valera Asks National Unity.

Eamonn de Valera, the republican leader, issued a manifesto urging national unity during the peace negotiations with "unbending determination to endure all that is still necessary." With this is coupled a warning against "undue confidence in the result."

The manifesto said: "Fellow Citizens—During the period of the truce each individual soldier and citizen must regard himself as the custodian of the nation's honor. Your discretion must prove in the most convincing manner that this is a struggle of an organized nation."

"In the negotiations now initiated your leaders will do their utmost to secure a just termination of this struggle, but history, and particularly our own history and the character of the issue to be decided, are a warning against undue confidence."

Fortitude Is Requested.

"Unbending determination to endure all that may still be necessary, and fortitude such as you have shown in all your recent sufferings—these alone will lead to the peace you desire. Should force be resumed against our nation, you must be ready on your part once more to resist. Thus also, the termination of the final abandonment of force and the acceptance of justice and reason as the arbitrator."

BODY IN RUINS POINTS TO MURDER

Cabin Is Burned; Victim's Pal Is Sought.

SKELETON IS DISTURBED

Ashes Declared to Have Been Thrown Over Bones.

FRESH TRAIL FOLLOWED

Complete Still Is Found in Operation Nearby; Man Apparently in Bad at Time.

ABERDEEN, Wash., July 9.—(Special.)—The circumstances surrounding the finding of the charred body of a man, which county authorities today were convinced was that of Martin Saari, in a lonely cabin nine miles from Copalis last night, has developed in a determined hunt for George Bruel, partner of the dead man, on the theory that he might throw light on circumstances surrounding Saari's death.

The authorities today declared that Saari was murdered and the cabin set on fire by the slayer to hide the crime. Tracks, believed to be those of Bruel, were followed for six miles this morning, but were finally lost in the dense swamp grass south of the cabin, and it was believed the missing man made his escape by boat or was hiding in the woods near the scene of the tragedy.

Charred Bones Are Covered.

Deputy Sheriffs Hamm and Truman and County Coroner Austin visited the scene of the fire at 1 o'clock last night and found the body of one man. Further search at daylight revealed that a man had visited the place just before the officers had returned and had covered carefully the charred bones with ashes and rubbish.

Tracks, which apparently had been freshly made, were found leading from the burned dwelling. The officers picked up the trail and followed it to numerous deserted clam diggers' huts in the vicinity.

In one of these cabins a complete still was found in operation. From the clam diggers' settlement the trail led across the stretch of beach and then into swamp grass, which made further tracking impossible.

It is believed that Bruel eluded the officers in that parade had come here where they would have found the people that emptied them.

15,000 ENDEAVORERS MARCH IN NEW YORK

FIFTH AVENUE SEES MIGHTY PARADE OF CHRISTIANS.

Portland Delegation Among Most Picturesque in Line; Bryan Addresses Throng in Park.

NEW YORK, July 9.—Fifth avenue resounded today with militant hymns as 15,000 Christian Endeavorers marched in a mighty Christian citizenship parade. It was the crowning feature of the sixth world's convention of the society.

Colorado was given the honor of heading the parade. One of the most picturesque groups was the Portland, Or., delegation carrying red parasols and roses.

"Onward Christian Soldiers" and "Brighten the Corner Where You Are" were favorite songs of the marchers. Great crowds lined the avenue and cheered the procession. Only American flags—a sea of them—were carried by the delegates.

The parade disbanded at Central park, where William Jennings Bryan addressed the marchers, urging them to use all their force to bring about world peace through disarmament.

Unless there is disarmament, he said, the world would face bankruptcy and wars would be continuous.

He said America's hopes for peace were bright as "we have a president who is a Christian and believes in the Bible and the Son of God." He paid tribute to both houses of congress for their efforts to bring about a conference to discuss disarmament.

He pleaded for America to call upon the rest of the Christian nations of the world to disarm. If an attempt to get disarmament by agreement failed.

Referring to the local Independence day parade of anti-prohibitionists, he said: "If those people who carried empty bottles in that parade had come here they would have found the people that emptied them."

"That parade represented the sunset and whatever glow there was, the glow of a closing day, it represents a dawn and the glow brightens every minute."

Mr. Bryan told newspaper men that "if there was any question about prohibition it died July 4, with the fixing of the anti-prohibition trade. The anti-prohibitionists couldn't gather together more than 14 per cent of the number of people the democratic party can corral at any time."

SEATTLE DOCK FIRE

DAMAGE IS $300,000

SPARKS FROM SWITCH ENGINE START BLAZE.

SEATTLE, Wash., July 9.—Damage estimated at $300,000 was caused today by a fire which, started by sparks from a switch engine, destroyed a large section of the East Waterway Dock & Warehouse company's 1100-foot wharf and gutted an adjacent warehouse on the south water front here before it was put out late in the afternoon.

All available fire apparatus, together with two fireboats, aided by 500 sailors from the superdreadnought Idaho, fought the blaze for several hours, preventing it from spreading to highly combustible steel tanks of vegetable oils on one side and to warehouses containing 50,000 cases of salmon on the other.

The loss was covered by insurance, according to officials of the company. The flames destroyed approximately 100,000 feet of lumber, 400 bales of wool and 1000 tons of various materials.

The shipping board steamship West Isen was moored to the wharf when the fire broke out, but escaped after her lines were cut.

Base Is Reached at Tingri Dzong.

NEW COUNTRY TRAVERSED

Non-Asiatics Probably Never Saw It Before.

EXPLORERS' CHEMIST DIES

Dr. A. M. Kellas Passes Away After Illness—Colonel Bury Writes Details of Company's Travels.

This exclusive dispatch from the Mount Everest expedition, reveals the greatest progress yet reported. The date line of the dispatch indicates that 20 days ago the explorers had arrived at Tingri Dzong, which is only 40 miles distant—the highest mountain base ever explored.

In reaching Tingri Dzong the party had covered 120 miles in 10 days or less through a country where it is doubtful if any non-Asiatic has ever previously passed. The last reports left the expedition in the hands of Dr. A. M. Kellas, the chemist of the expedition, died suddenly. Details of Dr. Kellas' death are contained in the dispatch printed today.

At Kampa Dzong, the explorers, after having advanced northward from Darjeeling over the arduous but well-known route, turned definitely westward along the mountain advance to Kampa Dzong, while it had been surveyed by native engineers of the Indian government, was comparatively a terra incognita. Nevertheless, the march through this region has actually, the date of the dispatch printed today reveals, been made in less time than the advance to Kampa Dzong. The transport after the breakdown of the Indian mules in Sikkim. Altogether, the expedition has traveled 240 miles since May 15.

Dr. Kellas' death is a serious blow to the expedition. The expedition is being forwarded by telegraph and cable to The Oregonian.

WOMEN RAGE OVER AGES

Voters' Lists Giving Data Send Mercury Up When Posted.

BROOKFIELD, Mass., July 9.—It was only 30 in the morning yesterday afternoon when the assessor posted the list of 906 women voters in the town, but it was estimated to be 120 in the assessor's office today when it became known that each name was followed by the number of the voter's age.

Not satisfied with storming the assessor's office many of the women attacked the list with erasers. The list was accepted as authority for setting many long standing arguments as to age.

BOYS' JURY ACQUITS WHITE HOUSE OWLS

PRESIDENT AS JUDGE APPROVES VERDICT.

Hundreds of Nature-Loving Children Submit Briefs on Value of Defendant Birds.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 9.—President Harding has approved the finding of the school boys' jury which decided that the owls in the White House grounds may live. Interest in the subject was widespread among nature loving children all over the country, hundreds of whom submitted briefs to the American forestry association, which arranged the trial.

The president today addressed his approval to Jimmie Bradley, a Washington school boy, and members of a John Burroughs club, who headed the jury. In the following letter:

"My dear Jimmie: Your conclusion is that the balance is in favor even of the least desirable of the birds, and I am inclined to agree with you. For why should these birds have been put here, unless to perform some useful service? On the whole, I think, we will grant them a reprieve. I think your John Burroughs club must be doing a useful work. I hope you will continue your nature studies and that later on, when you all become men and women, you will be as much disposed to apply the rules of equity and justice as you have been in this case."

"Most sincerely yours, WARREN G. HARDING."

BILL WILL BE REFERRED

Certificate of Necessity Law Goes to Washington Voters.

OLYMPIA, Wash., July 9.—(Special.)—Twice as many signatures as were needed, or 52,482 names, were found when the legal on-line petition to refer a vote of the people house bill 174, now chapter 59 of the sessions laws of 1921, commonly known as the "certificate of necessity" bill. The check was completed today by a special force working under Secretary of State Hinkle, in the house chamber of the old capitol.

There were 6425 uninitiated and 1077 duplications in the 52,478 names filed with the petition, out of which the 52,482 were accepted as legal.

SAWMILLS RAZED BY $150,000 FIRE

Little Monarch Plant Is Totally Destroyed.

RAILROAD DEPOT WIPED OUT

Bridge Across Slough Saved. Wind Hinders Fighters.

INSURANCE COVERS LOSS

Employees at Kenton and City Bureau Keep Flames From Reaching Larger Lumber Mill.

FACTS ABOUT YESTERDAY'S MILL FIRE.

- Property damage, $150,000 well insured.
- Little Monarch mill burned.
- Larger mill escaped.
- About 25,000 feet of cut lumber destroyed.
- North Portland railroad depot burned.
- Oregon slough railroad bridge scorched but not seriously damaged.
- Defective wiring thought cause of fire.

Fire of undetermined origin which swept through the plant of the Little Monarch mill in the Kenton district totally destroyed the mill with a resultant damage estimated at $150,000 by fire bureau officials. The main Monarch mill, adjacent to the little mill, escaped the path of the blaze.

The fire broke out at the northeast part of the mill shortly before 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, and within an hour it was under complete control. Four engine companies from the Portland fire department, under direct charge of Chief Young, assisted the local fire departments at the Kenton plant in fighting the conflagration and in preventing it from spreading to adjacent plants.

In addition to the damage to the mill, approximately 25,000 feet of sawed and finished lumber were burned, mill employees said.

Investment bankers prominent by fire bureau officials led to the belief that defective wiring in the plant had started the blaze, although this could not be determined for a certainty.
