PORTLAND ELK BAND TAKES FIRST PRIZE

Three-Day Convention at Marshfield Closes.

SEA FOOD DINNER BIG

More Than 3000 Persons Fed and Crowd Is Reported to Be Well Handled.

MARSHFIELD, Or., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—The three-day Elks' convention closed tonight with fireworks representing the battle of the Argonne, put on by the Elks, American Legion and second company coast artillery, following a delightful day of amusement here and in the lower district at Charleston bay. The weather was ideal, as summer, without wind and with a mellow atmosphere, made an outing at the beaches a pleasure.

The programme today opened with the parade over the principal downtown streets. The Portland Elks, with their uniformed band, drill team and marching units, won rounds of applause and much praise. There were other lodges in the line of march, some with bands, including Medford, Baker, Ashland, Eugene, Albany, Salem with the Cherrian band, Astoria, The Dalles, Pendleton, Roseburg, McMinnville with band, Corvallis and other towns.

Prizes Are Awarded.

Some valuable prizes in manufactured myrtlewood novelties, such as floor lamps and other designs for various competitors, were awarded. The judges of the parade were officers of the United States destroyers. They were: Lieutenant J. E. Boak, Lieutenant F. W. Dorr and Ensign A. B. Peden. The awards were as follows:

Bands—Portland first, Salem second and McMinnville third.

Automobiles—Bergens, Mashfield, florlet car first, and Hale Music company, second.

Largest number in parade—Portland lodge first and Roseburg lodge second.

Best uniformed lodge—Portland first and Albany second.

McMinnville Gets Prize.

Lodge offering best stunt—McMinnville first and special prize of $50 to Marshfield Elks' wives, comic.

Mayor George Baker of Portland and other notables were in the parade, the Portland executive having a special charger and riding at the head of the Portland aggregation.

Sea Food Dinner Served.

The sea food dinner at Charleston bay was served in admirable style, 1200 being fed in the first 45 minutes of its opening at noon. Three thousand people had been fed at 3 o'clock, and there were stacks of food left over. Much favorable comment was heard from among the visitors of the excellence of the local entertainment. They declared the people of Coos Bay treated them splendidly.

Trains will start with the convention delegates to their homes at 8 o'clock tomorrow morning, the two specials leaving at that hour. Others who are here in automobiles will, many of them, remain for a longer visit to places of interest they had no time to see during the convention.

Three thousand dollars was the gross receipts of the boxing card given last night.

At the beach the local airplane company put on a fine exhibition of smoke trailing and the American Legion gave some special entertainment in fireworks, while the coast guard crew gave a lifesaving demonstration lasting an hour, in which apparatus was shot and lifesaving boats overturned.

PRUNE MEN FIX WAGES

Pickers to Get 6 Cents for Pound With Bonus at Season's End.

ROSEBURG, Or., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—A meeting of the Douglas County Prune Growers' association was held today to fix the wage scale for hired help to be employed during the prune harvest. It was decided to pay employes $3 per day with board, or $4 per day without board, this rate applying for all drier employes except the head dryer, who will receive $4 per day with board, and $5 per day without board.

Drier men will work 12 hours and all others ten hours. Pickers are to receive 6 cents a 60-pound box for Italian prunes, with a 2-cent bonus if the pickers stay throughout the season. Eight cents will be paid for pickers handling petite prunes with a similar 2-cent bonus. Arrangements were made whereby these wages might be increased where local conditions make the handling of the crop difficult.

HOUSE PASSES TAX BILL

after the end of the recess on September 21. Meantime the senate finance committee will hold additional public hearings on the whole tax question and probably revise the measure in a number of details.

As finally passed by the house with nearly 100 amendments, the bill is estimated to produce a total of $3,347,000,000 revenue this fiscal year, or $221,000,000 less than the estimate under the existing law.

As repeal of the excess profits tax and higher income surtaxes would not become effective until January 1, next, the full force of the bill will not be reflected in government receipts until the calendar year 1923, but republican leaders said that the repeal of the transportation and other taxes and reduction in the tax bill in the next calendar year will be approximately $512,000,000.

A number of additional amendments were approved today by the ways and means committee.

The first one adopted was that exempting "pensions from the United States for service of the beneficiary or another in the military or naval forces of the United States."

Another amendment adopted would exempt from the administration tax all receipts at agricultural fairs where the profits were not divided among the shareholders of agricultural associations or promoters of such fairs.

The house also adopted amendments eliminating provision for a 5 per cent tax on toilet preparations, perfumes, soaps and proprietary medicines and reducing the 10 per cent tax on yachts to 5 per cent and exempting from this tax motor or other craft less than 32 feet in length or with a carrying capacity of less than five tons.

Before the vote Representative Mondell, republican leader, delivered a prepared address praising the tax bill and saying it remained for a later congress to fully revise the tax schedules "when we shall have passed beyond the shadow of the war overhang."

"In this measure we have relieved the burden where it is most clearly of an emergency character," he said, "and relieved it and lightened it for the benefit of every class and condition of the nation.

Burden Is Lifted.

"We have lifted rather than shifted the more oppressive and annoying of the war taxes. We have kept faith and while some will rail against the measure for purely partisan purpose, it will receive the commendation of the great body of the American people."

Mr. Mondell was cheered from the republican side. Representative Connally, democrat, Texas, arose to ask the republican leader to show him the pledge in the republican platform for the relieving of the taxes on men of large incomes.

Mr. Mondell tried to get recognition to answer, but the house was in an uproar, which did not end until 3 o'clock, when the way was cleared for voting under the rule.

Blow at Harding Fails.

Representative Cochrane, democrat, New York, rising to a point of privilege, offered a resolution condemning President Harding for addressing the senate July 12 on soldier bonus to the exclusion of the house. The democrats forced the first rollcall on Representative Mondell's motion to lay the resolution on the table, which prevailed.

The house adopted the committee amendment reducing the tax on cereal beverages from 6 to 4 cents, but it failed in the last minute to reach a vote on the provision for creation of a tax-investigating commission.

WHAT CONGRESS DID AS ITS DAY'S WORK.

Senate.

Received letters from President Harding and Chairman Lasker in effort to save appropriation for shipping board, which was under discussion throughout day.

Complete agreement presented on beer and wine bill, with substitute for Stanley amendment, which is not acceptable to senate.

Majority and minority reports presented on administration bill for refunding of foreign indebtedness.

Favorable report made on Kenyon resolution directing the Federal trade commission to investigate the excessive cost of house furnishings.

House.

Passed by vote of 274 to 125 bill revising existing tax laws after rejecting proposal of democrats to retain high supertaxes or incomes above $60,000 a year.

Cabinet officers would attend sessions of congress and be permitted to enter late debates under bill introduced by Representative Kelly, republican, Pennsylvania.

President Harding submitted estimate for $240,450 for putting into operation the packers' and stockyards act of 1921.

ANIMAL'S ANCESTRY OLD

RAT-LIKE MAMMAL SURVIVES 3,000,000 YEARS.

Creature of South American Wilds Quite Unlike Any Other Specimen of Quadruped.

CHICAGO, Aug. 20.—For 3,000,000 years one of the few survivors of the fossil animals has lived in fastnesses of what is now South America. Nine years ago it was discovered by an exploring expedition of the Field Museum of Natural History. The museum has just published its first scientific report on its find.

Speaking of his discovery, Dr. Wilfred H. Osgood of the Field museum named some of its features.

Through all these ages this animal has continued reproducing itself without important change.

It is one of the most notable examples of the "simple life."

All the other animals of its group have utterly vanished or been turned to stone hundreds of thousands of years.

It dates back to the period when the warm-blooded animals were just beginning to evolve from the cold-blooded reptiles. It is one of the oldest living mammals.

It is a "mirror of the past," with a practical value difficult to estimate.

A little animal, it looks like a sharp-nosed rat. It is only about six inches long. But its size has helped to preserve it. It has small eyes, rounded ears, a slender tail and soft brown hair.

Caesnolestes is its name—modern representative of an ancient group of predatory animals.

Dr. Osgood made his discovery in Venezuela in 1912. He secured his specimens in the heart of a dense forest of the mountains there. Access to the spot was gained by laboriously cutting narrow trails for long distances through the heavy undergrowth.

Since then Dr. Osgood has made an intensive study of the animal, and it is this which the Field museum has just published in a book entitled "A Monographic Study of the American Marsupial, Caesnolestes."

"This little animal is quite unlike any other now living in the world," Dr. Osgood said. "Although it does not resemble closely any species now living, it is very intimately related to animals which flourished far back in geologic times, when the foundations were being laid for the evolution of the higher animals of the present day.

"All the others of the group to which it belongs became extinct ages ago and Caesnolestes alone has survived to the present.

"We know this because its bones and teeth are essentially the same as those of the extinct animals. If the bones are the same, it is probable that other parts also are similar. Therefore, Caesnolestes is a prize to the student, for it enables him to learn more about the ancient fossils than is shown by their bones, which of course are the only parts preserved."

McCOY FUNERAL PLANNED

San Francisco Y. M. C. A. Man Long in Association Service.

BERKELEY, Cal., Aug. 20.—Funeral arrangements were completed today for Henry J. McCoy, former general secretary of the Young Men's Christian association in San Francisco and for 49 years a member of the association. He died at his home here yesterday after an extended illness.

He is survived by his widow, Fannie F. McCoy, his daughter Ruth and his son, Henry J. McCoy Jr.

At one time the colonial possessions of Spain included more than one-half of the western hemisphere.

NONPARTISANS' CALL DRAWS 40 PERSONS

League Organizers Hold Portland Meeting.

PLEA MADE TO FARMERS

Plight Is Declared to Be Result of Own Attitude; State Programme Is Adopted.

Non-Partisan league organizers yesterday held a public meeting in the central labor council meeting rooms, 227 Yamhill street. The total attendance, including organizers, curious outsiders and those interested in the league was 40.

J. D. Brown of Portland, long an active member and president of the state farmers' union, was chosen as temporary chairman and later selected as a member of the state organization committee. A. J. French of Carlton, master of the Yamhill county Pomona grange, and C. M. Benedict, farmer of Albany, were selected as the two additional members of the state committee. Fees of $18 for a two-year membership in the National Nonpartisan league were collected by H. H. Stallard, organizer.

Members of the league, including Stallard, Claude Townley, a brother of A. C. Townley, founder of the league, and Brown were reluctant to give information regarding the standing of the league or future plans for their work in the state.

Work Is to Be Pushed.

The organization work has been taking shape for some weeks and will be pushed forward in every county they said. Present or anticipated membership in the state were not divulged. Mr. Brown indicated in his opening speech as chairman of the meeting that the coming of the league organizers has been the day looked forward to by his organization, the Farmers' union.

A state program was adopted advocating state or municipally-owned terminal elevators, warehouses, cold storage plants and other sufficient state-owned public utilities to prevent profiteering.

2. State owned bank to finance agriculture, co-operative associations and the building of homes.

3. State development and distribution of water power.

4. The enforcement of the grain grading and dockage laws of this state.

5. The exemption of farm improvements from taxation and city homes to the extent of $1000 valuation.

6. A national demand that surplus wealth be compelled to pay the money costs of the war through incomes and excess profit tax.

Townley Discusses Arms.

In a meeting devoid of sensational developments Claude Townley dwelt upon the aims of the league in the principal speech of the afternoon. He dwelt in generalities so far as local conditions were concerned, but was not sparing in sarcasm on present conditions among the farmers.

The banking situation in North Dakota under the present regime was passed by rather briefly, to dwell upon the hail insurance law which has been put in force since the non-partisan league carried that state.

He declared that it is true that 40 banks have closed in North Dakota within the last year, but he declared that it is equally true that one-half of the state has experienced almost total crop failure for the last four consecutive years. The failure of the state bank to supply farmers with needed loans is due to the inability of the state government to float the $10,000,000 bond issue authorized for the purpose, he said. The bonds have been declared constitutional by the supreme court of the United States, he said, but he did not advance any information on the proposed programme to market the issue.

Townley Young and Boyish.

Mr. Townley presented something of a contrast to the conventional type of organizer. He is young, almost boyish in expression.

Stallard, non-partisan organizer, who is reputed to have come from Washington, carried out the programme of ridicule of the farmers for a large share in the responsibility for their present condition.

"I'm not going to throw any bouquets at you," he declared in a preliminary statement before inviting those present to come forward and deposit their membership fees.

R. E. Cherrick, Barlow farmer, and A. J. French, granger of Carlton, expressed their belief in the need of a non-partisan league to relieve the farmers of the state of their tax burden.

ROAD PARTY ENTHUSES

Canadians Telegraph Felicitations to Association.

The committee of Canadian road enthusiasts who are urging the early completion of a continuous highway across the Dominion of Canada telegraphed W. J. Hofmann, president of the Pacific Northwest Tourists' association, yesterday from Sand Point, Idaho, sending greetings and felicitations to the association. The party is on its way from Victoria to Calgary by way of Spokane in the interests of the movement and are also making a preliminary survey of the territory over which the highway will pass. The telegram to Mr. Hofmann follows:

"On crossing the eastern boundary of international territory whose tourist and residential advancement is the object of the organization over which you preside, we extend to you salutations and also felicitations upon the many evidences observed of the tourist traffic development. In the face of the world depression, the existing flow of tourists into the Pacific northwest is an excellent accomplishment and the foundation is being laid for a great increase on the return to normal conditions. We are enjoying the trip. The roads so far are all good. Tourists along the route are from every state and from Canada, several being from southeastern states bound for California, and are emphatic in their expressions of delight and preference for the northern route.

"(Signed) Stephen Jones, Harry J. Scott, Arthur Linehan, A. E. Todd."

A. E. Todd is an ex-mayor of Victoria and was the first president of the Pacific Northwest Tourist association. He made the first trip in an automobile over the Pacific highway from Canada to Mexico.

BANDIT SHOT 2 TIMES

OFFICERS HAVE RUNNING GUN FIGHT WITH YEGGMEN.

Wounded Bank Robber Declares He Is Escaped Lifer From Washington State Prison.

FORT DODGE, Ia., Aug. 20.—Two men were shot today in a running gun fight between city police, George Bassett, sheriff, and Hi Yawke, state agent, and three men believed to be the bandits who robbed the Citizens' Savings bank at Curley Friday. One of the bandits was shot two times, a second was arrested and a third escaped. A hotel bellboy was shot through the leg by one of the bandits when returning the fire from the officers.

The wounded bandit told newspaper men he was an escaped "lifer" from Washington state prison, but refused to divulge his name. The clothing worn by two of the men captured contained trademarks from Minneapolis and St. Paul stores. The bandit was wounded twice, in the wrist and right breast. He will recover.

The second prisoner was captured in bed in a hotel in a room by himself. The third still is at large, pursued by a posse. He got out of the business district to the edge of the city by holding up an automobile driver with a revolver and making him drive. Not satisfied with the speed the small car could make, he jumped out and disappeared in the timber.

BURCH RELIES ON ALIBI

REPUTED SLAYER OF BROKER CONFIDENT OF ACQUITTAL.

Attorney for Defense Declares Evidence Lacking to Convict Madalynne Obenchain.

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 20.—Prediction that a "complete alibi" would be established for Arthur C. Burch, indicted with Mrs. Madalynne Obenchain for the alleged murder of J. Belton Kennedy, was made today by Richard Kittrelle, one of counsel for the defendants. The attorney did not go into details, but said he was confident Burch would be able to account for every moment of his time the night of August 5, when Kennedy was shot to death.

The case against Mrs. Obenchain, he said, would fail because "there was no evidence to convict her."

Another development today was the announcement of Obenchain that he would demand the prosecution produce letters he declared were in the possession of J. D. Kennedy, father of the dead man. He did not indicate what the letters were except to say he believed they had an "important bearing" on the case. At the district attorney's office, it was said no information had been received there of any letters of this kind.

HOME IS PROTECTED IN ANTI-BEER BILL

Conference Report on Measure Goes to Senate.

COMPROMISE IS EFFECTED

House Search Without Warrant Is Held Misdemeanor; Passage of Measure Yet Uncertain.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 20.—The conference report on the anti-beer bill, definitely agreed on today and presented to the senate, exempts a man's home from search without warrant obtained in due course of law, but requires no warrant to search other property, provided an officer acts without malice and has reasonable cause to suspect the presence of liquor.

Along with the presentation of the report word reached the senate that prohibition leaders of the house had declared there would be no recess of congress until the measure had been finally enacted. Senate leaders, on the other hand, announced that it was hopeless to expect senate acceptance in view of the rejection by the conferees of the Stanley amendment, passed unanimously and designed to protect the home and other property from indiscriminate search through imposition of heavy penalties.

Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona, who "bolted" the conference early in the week, and Representative Dyer, republican, Missouri, failed to sign the report. It was approved, however, by Senators Sterling and Nelson, republicans, and Representatives Volstead, republican, and Sumners, Texas, democrat.

The only point at issue in final deliberations of the managers was the searching provision. In reaching a compromise both the senate and house amendments on the subject were discarded. In their place the conferees adopted the following section:

"Section 6. That any officer, agent or employe of the United States engaged in the enforcement of this act, or the national prohibition act, or any other law of the United States, who shall search any private dwelling as defined in the national prohibition act, and occupied as such a dwelling, without a warrant directing such search, and who while so engaged shall, without a search warrant, maliciously and without reasonable cause search any other building or property, shall be guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be fined for a first offense not more than $1000, and for a subsequent offense not more than $1000 or imprisonment not more than one year, or both such fine and imprisonment.

"Whoever, not being an officer, agent or employe of the United States, shall falsely represent himself to be such officer, agent or employe, and in such assumed character shall arrest or detain any person, or shall in any manner search the persons, buildings or other property of any person, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not more than $1000 or imprisonment for not more than one year, or by both such fine and imprisonment."

MURDER TRAIL DISCLOSED

Italian's Confession Points to Slayer of New York Detective.

NEW YORK, Aug. 20.—(Special.)—A sinister underground trail from Chrystie street in this city today to the market place in Palermo, Sicily, March 12, 1909, a span of more than 12 years, has been uncovered which it is hoped will lead to the discovery of the assassin who shot down Joseph Petrosino, police lieutenant and noted New York detective, according to a police statement.

Confessions made to Acting Detective Sergeant Flaschetti, head of the Italian squad here, by Bartol Fontano, were said today by Flaschetti to furnish a clew to the slayer of Petrosino.

Petrosino was shot in the Palermo market place while on a trip to Italy and Sicily to devise means of preventing a flood of Italian criminals from entering the country. Innumerable arrests have been made and clews disclosed since his murder, but none has been brought to justice for the killing.

Fontano is the Italian whose confessions to the police led to the arrest of five men charged with implication in the murder of Carmello Caizzo near Asbury Park, N. J., and in the recent Chrystie-street killings. History of the existence of an organized band of criminals here linked by working agreements with the Camorristas, or members of the Sicilian Mafia in Italy and Sicily, were said today to be virutally substantiated.

TESTS IRK OLD EMPLOYES

Municipal Carmen in Tacoma File Protest With Council.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—Threatened with the loss of their seniority rights by reason of civil service rules that would place employes having the highest standing in the examination at the head of the list, more than a dozen employes of the municipal street railway sent a petition to the city council today and backed it up by the presence of a committee to insist that the old men in the service be protected.

"It will disorganize the whole system over there, and I am certainly opposed to it. I am going to go before the civil service board and protest Monday," said Commissioner Harrison.

"Let's turn the whole road over to the civil service board and let it run the line," suggested Mayor Riddell.

Mount Olympus Scaled.

HOQUIAM, Wash., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—After two weeks spent in the Olympics, during which half of the party reached the summit of Mount Olympus (8200 feet) and all scaled several lesser peaks, 12 members of the Olympians are back in the city feeling well paid for their trip. They report heavy snow on the upper peaks. Just over the ridge from North Kinta there was an immense snow field and they made camp there.

DEBT FUNDING BILL IS SENT TO SENATE

Passage Recommended by Finance Committee.

MINORITY PROTEST FILED

Freedom and Broad Powers Given Secretary in Handling Billions Held Hazardous.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Aug. 20.—The administration's bill for funding the allied debts was reported to the senate today by the finance committee with a majority recommendation for its passage so that the treasury secretary may have broad powers in adjusting the questions at issue. An amendment requiring the funding to be completed within five years was added by the majority.

The freedom and broad powers with which the majority said the secretary should be endowed, however, was attacked by Senator La Follette, republican, Wisconsin, and five democratic members of the committee, who declared in a minority statement that this constituted a basis sufficient for rejection of the measure. The secretary, they contended, now has sufficient authority to negotiate the settlements, and they suggested that the obligations of the foreign governments be held in their present form "until our government shall have sufficiently crystallized its policy to know exactly to what use they can best be put."

The best and most practical method of handling the questions is afforded by the measure, the majority report declared, adding that it was necessary for someone to be authorized to deal promptly with the situation. Assurance was given that the treasury secretary does not intend to accept obligations other than those of the debtor country, in the case of the principal debtor countries, and that "it is not his intention to accept any German bonds unless it becomes necessary or desirable to do so in some now unforeseen special cases."

The minority report said the foreign obligations accepted should bear the same rate of interest the American government paid to raise the money loaned, and opposed the exchange of the obligations for those of countries other than the original debtors. The bill, it continued, would permit the secretary "to make any bargain he wants to make," and "become actual dictator of the disposition of 11 billions of dollars," with congress "having abdicated control."

MR. METSCHAN AT SALEM

Conference Held on Release of Tourist Association Funds.

SALEM, Or., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—Phil Metschan of Portland was here today conferring with I. H. Van Winkle, attorney-general, with relation to approving the release of funds appropriated at the last session of the legislature for the operation of the Pacific Northwest Tourist association.

The legislature appropriated approximately $75,000 for the present biennium, with the provision that the money could not be expended unless the state of Washington raised a like sum either by legislative action or by some other means.

The Washington legislature failed to make the appropriation, but later the Oregon fund was matched by funds raised by popular subscription in the northern state. Mr. Metschan brought with him today certificates showing that the state of Washington had raised its share of the fund. These certificates were turned over to the attorney-general for consideration.

Blue Sky Deal Charged.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 20.—B. E. Fluhart and S. S. Fluhart were arrested in Port Angeles, Wash., today, according to word received here, on a complaint charging that they sold more than $5000 in stock for a corporation that did not exist. They are held for Seattle authorities. Bail was fixed at $1500 each. The warrant charges grand larceny.
