night at her home, honoring Louise Boyd of Chicago and the Misses Leartrus and Gaudencia Beckman of Indianapolis. Miss McBride was a recent hostess at a delightful house party at Gearhart for the Misses Beckman.

The marriage of Miss Ruth Slauson and Henry A. Freeman took place Thursday at 4 o'clock. The wedding was a very quiet affair, due to the recent death of the bride's mother. Only members of the two families were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Norman K. Tully. The bride wore a tailored traveling suit and was unattended. Following the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Freeman left for a two weeks' motor trip to Crater Lake and Central Point, where Mr. Freeman's parents reside. Mrs. Freeman is the daughter of A. B. Slauson. She is a graduate of the University of Washington and a member of Delta Gamma. Her husband is a Stanford man and is now assistant cashier at the Lumbermens Trust company.

The engagement of Miss Ruth Barlow and Roger Plummer was made known by Mrs. E. W. Barlow during last week and the wedding date is announced as September 4. It will be a quiet home affair, due to the passing away of the bride-elect's father, E. W. Barlow, a prominent Portland business man, last October. Only relatives and a few especially intimate friends of the two families will witness the ceremony. The young couple will take a motor trip and will be gone until the first of October, after which they will be domiciled in Portland.

Miss Barlow is a graduate of the University of California and has a host of friends both here and in Berkeley. Mr. Plummer is the son of Mr. and Mrs. O. M. Plummer and is an ex-student of the University of Oregon and Oregon Agricultural college. He is a member of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity.

MOTOR trips to the beaches, the mountains or upon the highway are luring most of the smart set away from Portland. Society folk seem eager to abandon the usual routine of teas, dances and parties for the out-of-doors, and few affairs have taken place during the week. Rainier park and various points on Puget sound have attracted an unusually large number of guests from Portland this season, though Crater Lake, Seaside, Cannon beach, the Washington coast and Hood river continue in their popularity. A large number of Portlanders are planning to go to Gearhart this week for the golf tournament, beginning Monday. Special entertainment has been planned for the guests, including swimming parties, dances and teas. The possibility that George von Elm, who won the Pacific northwest and trans-Mississippi titles, may be in the links is drawing a number of golf enthusiasts to the beach.

Portland society is reluctant to see Mrs. Carlton Betts (Ruth Teal) return to her home in Buffalo after visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Teal. The arrival of Mrs. Samuel E. Halstead (Katherine MacMaster Mason) from Riverside, Cal., was noted with pleasure by the smart set. Mrs. Halstead has a host of friends in this city, and during her stay with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, she will be extensively entertained.

Portland has some interesting summer house guests, though their hostesses have planned so many motor trips for them that they are rarely at home. However, a few teas and luncheons

Bartholomew's FALL COATS

RELECT the season's authentic styles. You will like these simple wearable wraps in soft rich Marvella, Gerona, Pollyanna or Panvelaine. Pleasingly youthful are the straight-line models with string belt, which permits a graceful bloused effect. A happy feature of many models is the wide Mandarin-like sleeve contrasting quaintly with the silhouette.

You will enjoy a visit to our shop these days when we are unpacking smart fall garments. Why not select Your Coat the moment it arrives?

where refreshments were served, were Mrs. Hallett Clifford, Mrs. T. W. Young, Mrs. E. T. Sturgeon and Miss Harriet Griffith.

Mrs. Robert N. Stanfield returned early in the week from Pendleton, where she has been visiting her brother, Dr. David B. Hill. She was honor guest at a reception given at the Hill residence, and at a number of other interesting affairs.

Mrs. Henry Russell Talbot of Washington, D. C., the house guest of Mrs. J. B. Montgomery, has inspired several fashionable affairs during her stay in Portland. Monday Mrs. Margaret Burrell Biddle entertained in her honor at luncheon for 13 at the Waverley club. Friday Mrs. Lee Hoffman was hostess at her attractive home at a luncheon for Mrs. Talbot.

The most elaborate wedding of the week was that of Miss Elsa Goldsmith and Norman Leopold at the Benson hotel Thursday evening. It took place in the rose room and was followed by a dance and reception in the crystal room. A large number of
