party. The guests were the Misses Beatrice Sexton, Mary Gavelli, Bertha Singer, Lena Gross, Edith Whitfield, Lucille Mohler, Rose and Anna De Martini and Messrs. James McMahon, Fred Neth, John Callahan, Edward and Leonard Brady, Glenn Muir, Gene Leitch, Eldon Lambert, Frank Danaher, John and James Flynn.

Mrs. LeRoy Huntley's swimming high links at her houseboat at Willamette moorage was one of the affairs of last week. Twenty-five guests assembled at 11 A. M. and took part in a bathing suit dress parade, in which Mrs. Harold Lyman won the prize for the most eccentric costume. The following won prizes in a number of original stunts, races and contests: Mrs. Mary E. Woods for the oldest swimmer; Mary Hastorf for the youngest swimmer; Mrs. George Wood for the best springboard dive; Mrs. Hurlburt in the beginners race, contestants wearing life belts; Mrs. LeRoy Huntley in the feather race, swimmers carrying long peacock feathers in their mouths and swimming to and from a given point without allowing the feathers to get wet; Mrs. George Larkins in the floating contest; LeRoy Huntley Jr., for the best standing dive; Miss O'Brien in the spoon race; Mrs. Huntley, in the speed boat race, swimmers pushing toy boats ahead of them.

Mrs. Stark came out first in the under-water swim, and also made the best side dive. The relay race was won by the team consisting of the Mesdames Burmeister, Lyman, Huntley and Larkins. LeRoy Huntley Jr. bent the best dive from the roof of the houseboat while prizes for other stunts went to Mrs. Harold Lyman, Mrs. Earl Larkins and Miss Van Tyle.

Lunch was served on the side veranda and the necessary hour before swimming could be resumed was spent in playing cards, prizes going to Mesdames Wood, Green and Robinson.

Four generations were present at the celebration of the 50th anniversary of the marriage of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Davis at Starkville, Colo., August 11. Mrs. L. E. Hartmann, 415 Madison street, Portland, was maid of honor. The couple were married in Wales August 10, 1871, and came to the United States in June, 1873.

Mr. and Mrs. John Faarl, 1161 East Burnside street, gave a delightful dancing party Tuesday honoring Dr. John A. Faarl of Indiana and Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Faarl of Evelyn, Minn. Other guests were: Miss Ella Faarl, who has just returned from Mount Ida college in Massachusetts; Dr. Emma Matt Wickstrom, Mr. and Mrs. D. Berg, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Norman, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Juntila, Mr. and Mrs. Tobin and Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Lindgren.

The toll operators of Portland and their friends, numbering 65, were delightfully entertained with a lawn party given by Miss Esther Heathman at the suburban home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Heathman, of the Meldrum district. Misses Mary O'Brien, Della Heathman and Marie Hayes assisted the hostess in serving and entertaining.

Matching pictures was the unique way the guests had in choosing partners for the refreshments of ice cream and cake which were served.

The yard was gaily decorated with Japanese lanterns and incandescent lights in shades of blue and pink. Pink and white gladioli and ferns lent charm to the affair.

A delightful dancing party was given at Vincent hall by the Misses

Daisy Gerber, Helen Wolcott and Mildred Ohm for a group of Rose City young people. The guest list included:

Edith Bader, Luella Mason, Dorothy Taylor, Katherine Asher, Mildred Melville, Bertha Brinkerhoff, Margaret Brinkerhoff, Eugenia Holderman, Emma Rodda, Dorothy Hessleberg, Kathryn Carlson, Anita Brown, Nadine Cady, Marian Dickson, Beth Underdown, Elmyr Chandler, Beatrice Anderson, Alice Bakstrom, Marian Thomas, Eleanor Boyles, Margaret Lewis, Elizabeth Blumrose, Harold Tucker, Carl Torven, Bob McCaskey, Ben Kather, Jack Underdown, Fred Braeker, Jack Foley, Harold Brink, Albert Wolsch, Jack Jones, Merritt Rodda, Ira Gardner, Allen Braeker, Frank Ball, Donald Church, Elmer Price, Gerald Beach, Harold Whitlock, Louis Rappell, Marvin Beushell, Jack Cloush, Eugene Reed, Wallace Marks, Edwin Braeker and Van D. Rawlins.

CONDON, Or., Aug. 20.—(Special)—Mrs. Mary F. Dyer celebrated her 81st birthday anniversary at her home in Condon, Or., August 18, when her children and friends called to congratulate her. The rooms were decorated with roses and daisies, one very large bouquet containing 51 pure white dahlias. The birthday cake bore a candle for each year of her life.

The Association of Independent Bankers will give a moonlight excursion aboard the Bluebird Tuesday evening, August 23.

WEDDINGS.

Hankins-O'Brien.

One of the most interesting of the week's weddings was that of Miss Anna O'Brien and Alvin H. Hankins of Seattle, which took place at the home of Archbishop Alexander Christie Monday noon. The bride is the daughter of Captain and Mrs. John O'Brien of Cottage Grove, and has many friends in Portland where she attended school. She spent some time in Boston, finishing her education. Mr. Hankins is a jewelry manufacturer of Seattle and belongs to a number of clubs in that city.

The bride's costume was of orchid georgette with silver trimmings. Her bouquet was a shower of sweet peas and orchids. Mrs. Charles G. Briggs, matron of honor, wore a white embroidered crepe de chine gown, and picture hat of black lace. The Rev. Father George Campbell officiated, and Charles Briggs acted as best man.

The wedding supper was served at the Briggs residence in Carter Lane, and only the wedding party and a few close friends attending. The table decorations were in pastel shades and a huge bouquet of flowers formed the centerpiece.

Mr. and Mrs. Hankins left for a motor trip to various points near Mount Rainier. They will be at home in Seattle after September 1.

Strohecker-McCormick.

A very pretty wedding took place Tuesday evening, August 9, when Miss Opal Llewellyn McCormick of Boise, Idaho, became the bride of Rowell John Strohecker of this city. The wedding ceremony was read by Rev. J. J. Staub in the new home of the couple at 723 Patton road, in the presence of many friends and relatives.

The bride was beautiful in her gown of ivory satin crepe, effectively draped and having an under bodice of point in unusual fashion. She carried a bouquet of Killarney roses.

The couple was attended by the sister of the bride, Mrs. Donald McGuffin, and brother of the groom, Armand Strohecker. The rooms were effectively decorated with roses and sweet peas. After the ceremony refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. Strohecker left the following day for a tour of California, where they expect to be for a month.

Mugg-Lake.

Announcement of the marriage of Miss Lydia Catherine Lake of Astoria and Leslie Mugg of Los Angeles, Cal., has been made. The ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Kellogg at Multnomah station. It was a home wedding, only a few close friends being invited. Mr. and Mrs. Mugg went to Seaside for their wedding trip.

Moore-Pox.

Announcements are being received by friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. Arthur

Moore (Dorothy Pox) telling of their marriage July 19 in Seattle. Mr. Moore is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. James Madison Moore of Illinois and his bride is a young girl, one of Portland's talented pianists. Mr. and Mrs. Moore have returned from their wedding trip and are now in their new residence at 723 East Sixtieth street North.

Beck-Anderson.

Miss Ellen Anderson of Portland and Borden F. Beck were married August 2 at the country home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Anderson of near Hillsboro. The bride wore white canton crepe with a veil and carried a shower bouquet. The maid of honor, Silvera Anderson, wore rose tulle over silver cloth and carried pink roses and lavender sweet peas. Clifford Mabee attended the bridegroom.

Proceeding the service Miss Mable Downs sang "Beloved, It is Morn," Mr. Irvin of Redmond, Or., played the wedding march from "Lohengrin."

After the reception Bertha Gardner sang "At Dawning."

The rooms were prettily decorated with greens and summer flowers. About 40 relatives and friends were present.

Miss Anderson was graduated with the June 20 class of Oregon Agricultural college. Mr. Beck is a University of Kansas man and is head of the agricultural and industrial department of the Redmond high school and surrounding districts where the young couple will reside after a honeymoon spent in the Blue mountains.

Barette-Davis.

A summer setting of gladioli, pink lilies and ferns made a beautiful background for the wedding of Mrs. Leonard Gale Davis to Edward A. Barette at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Gale Monday, August 16, in Eugene. The service was read by Rev. Andrew Fish at 7 P. M. Masses of gladioli were set against a lattice of greenery, flanked with ferns and branches of clematis and lighted with tall candles arranged in a pyramid across the back.

After the ceremony there was an informal reception and supper for relatives and members of the wedding party. The dining room and table were decorated with bowls of pink sweet peas and roses with multi-colored candles.

Mrs. Barette is a member of two of the old pioneer families of the state and is a daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth M. Gale of Eugene and the late James Newton Gale, newspaper man of Oregon and Washington. Mr. Gale is well remembered by old-time Portlanders as the editor and publisher of the Portland Daily Union and Astoria Marine-Gazette during the early years of his life.

Mrs. Barette is a niece of the late Harrison R. Kincaid, ex-secretary of state of Oregon. She has lived in Eugene since childhood and received her education at the University of Oregon. Mr. Barette is a native of Chicago, but has lived in Oregon for ten years and is the representative in the Willamette valley of an eastern wholesale house.

Mr. and Mrs. Barette have gone to San Francisco and Carmel Bay for a trip, and after their return will reside in Eugene. Mrs. Barette traveled in a suit of sand-colored tricotette with small duvetyne hat to match, which she wore for the ceremony with a corsage of orchids, roses and ferns.

Hand-Bater.

The marriage of Miss Muriel Bater and Dewey Allyn Rand took place Friday. The service was read by Dr. J. J. Staub of the Sunnyside Congregational church. Only immediate relatives and friends were present. Mrs. Rand is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Frederick Bater, well-known residents of Elgin, Or. She is a University of Oregon girl and a member of the Delta Delta Delta sorority.

Mr. Rand also attended the University of Oregon and is a member of the Kappa Sigma fraternity. Mr. and Mrs. Rand will make their home in Portland.

Bakke-Newell.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard P. Banks of 1286 Mallory announce the marriage of their sister, Esther Newell, to Judge Norris Conroy Bakke of Sterling, Colo., where the couple will make their home. Mrs. Bakke is a sister of Lewis R. Banks and Walter

Mrs. J. J. Strohecker (Opal McCormick) with guests.

Mrs. J. J. Hermann of Chicago, visiting in Portland.

Mrs. P. A. Ten Haaf and daughter, Mrs. and Miss Mary De Martini entertained a number of friends at her home with a dancing party.
