CLUBWOMEN of the city have abandoned many of their formal meetings and decided on informal picnics and gatherings for the members this summer. The various parks have proved ideal settings for these affairs, and the women find that this is an excellent method of getting acquainted.

One of the biggest events of the coming week is a picnic to be given by the city parent-teacher association Tuesday at Peninsula park. The women plan on being at the park at 2 o'clock, and their husbands will join them at dinner time. The afternoon will be spent in swimming, playing tennis, and a 4 o'clock an informal business meeting will be in order. A large attendance is expected.

The Portland Parent Teacher council, of which Mrs. W. H. Bathgate is president, will sponsor another delightful dancing party on the river boat Swan Tuesday night, August 29, the boat leaving the dock at the foot of Taylor street promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Tickets are 50 cents for either adults or children and may be obtained from any local president or of Mrs. Bathgate, Tabor 4971, or it is possible a few may be had at the starting point of the boat on the night of the affair.

Mrs. Rose D. Pittman, past high chief ranger of the Women's Catholic Order of Foresters, and Mrs. Kate Howes, chief ranger of St. Rose's court, are in Omaha, Neb., to attend the national convention of the order, which will convene August 22. Mrs. Rittman has been away some time, being in attendance at the state conventions throughout the northwest. Mrs. Hawes left August 15. After the convention Mrs. Hawes plans to visit her old home in Dayton, O., and will probably be away for two or three months.

Study Hour Programmes to Reveal Oregon History.

Series Prepared by Professor Horner to Be Instructive.

CLUBWOMEN, teachers, members of granges and pioneer associations will be greatly benefited by a series of Oregon programmes, prepared by J. B. Horner, professor of history at the Oregon Agricultural college. Educational people are realizing more and more the beauty and value of a knowledge of Oregon history, and are planning programmes with Oregon as a theme. The music mentioned may be found in the "Western Songster," an inexpensive book published by the Oregon Teachers' Monthly. Professor Horner's "Oregon History" is now widely used throughout the state, and he is considered one of the most eminent authorities on this subject.

The programmes, collectively called "Study Hours in Oregon Literature," follow:

Woman Will Attend Press Congress as Delegate.

Manager of Ohio Publication to Discuss Journalism.

WARREN, O., Aug. 20.—An American woman has been chosen to discuss the place of women in journalism at the world's press congress at Honolulu next October. She is Mrs. Zell Hart Deming, managing editor of the Warren Tribune for 20 years.

Mrs. Deming has been appointed a delegate to the congress by the American Newspaper Publishers' association, the Inland Press association and the Associated Ohio Dailies. She is a member of the central division advisory board of the Associated Press.

"Sentiment should not be laid aside in managing a business if you want to be really successful in the best sense of the word," is a conclusion Mrs. Deming has arrived at in her newspaper work.

"Good housekeeping is needed in the printing plant as in the home," is another, and she has followed this out by installing the last word in every kind of printing machinery. She has taken especial interest in the mechanical end of her paper.

Mrs. Deming is planning to take her daughter with her to Honolulu.

Portland women who took an active part in the near east relief work will be interested in a message from J. J. Handsaker, head of this movement, now in Constantinople.

"The sight of hungry babies and thousands of orphans being fed, and of refugee mothers at rest after months of wandering has inspired me these past few days," writes Mr. Handsaker. "The crowds here look as if there were stories in every face. It is our first impression that our relief workers are doing a great piece of work."

A group of Oregon's W. C. T. U. delegates left Monday night for the national convention at San Francisco. They were headed by Mrs. Mary Mallett, Mrs. George Buland, Mrs. Theodore Strohmeyer, Mrs. M. C. L. Hidden and Mrs. H. M. Goran, all of Portland; Mrs. H. Levitt of Astand and Mrs. A. C. Marsters of Roseburg.

Schools to Be Named for Great American Women.

Venice, Cal., to Honor Betsy Ross, Florence Nightingale, Martha Washington.

VENICE, Cal., Aug. 20.—The tradition of naming public school buildings after George Washington, Theodore Roosevelt and other men of American history has gone, temporarily at least, out of vogue in Venice to permit an honoring of famous women. Accordingly, the three newest schools in this city are to be christened soon the Betsy Ross, Florence Nightingale and Martha Washington.

In selecting names for the schools, the judges considered 22 others that had been suggested. Besides the names of George Washington's wife, the maker of the first American flag, and the name of the noted philanthropist, interested persons suggested names which ranged from Virginia Dare to Susan B. Anthony.

* * *

At the Disabled Veterans' auxiliary meeting Mrs. Clara Adams reported that about 200 of the disabled boys were the guests of Judge Walter McCredie at the ball park. Mrs. E. M. Simonton was appointed chairman of the relief committee. Mrs. W. L. Block having resigned to go east. Miss Viola Ortschild was appointed chairman of a committee to keep in touch with the return of the bodies of the overseas men and report to the organization. Mrs. E. Sheldon was appointed chairman of the committee to help the disabled men get their compensation and back pay straightened out. Mrs. Martha Daniels was asked to see the county and city commissioners and ask that the city flags be at half mast when the bodies of deceased overseas soldiers arrive.

The time of the meetings has been changed and the organization will meet the second and fourth Mondays of each month in room A, central library.

The Oregon Democratic Study club will hold its annual picnic August 25 in Peninsula park at 6 P. M. An interesting programme is being arranged. It will consist of music and short speeches by prominent democrats. Members and friends of the club are urged to be present. Bring your basket lunch, cups and spoons. Coffee will be served by the club.

Mrs. Bessie M. Richards, president of the club, will preside. Anyone desiring further information may call Columbia 983.

With the change of its name from the Association of Collegiate Alumnae to the American Association of University Women, local leaders under the direction of Mrs. Norman Coleman, president, are making every effort to have the Portland branch gain in corresponding comprehensive responsibility and outlook.

The association was founded in 1882 for the purpose of uniting alumnae of different institutions for practical educational work and for the maintainance of higher standards of education in general. At the national convention held recently in Washington, D. C., it was united with the Southern Association of College Women and the name of the combined organizations was selected so that it is on a par with similar groups composed of British and European women.

About 100 colleges and universities are represented today by members of the American Association of University Women.

Special stress is laid by the organization on its scholarship funds and nine fellowships are awarded annually by the national committee. The Portland branch administers a scholarship loan fund into which $200 is added annually. Mrs. L. P. Hewitt is chairman of this committee, but during the summer months Mrs. E. P. Geary is acting chairman.

In addition to the national work, the organization has been asked by the American University union in Paris to award two fellowships offered by the French ministry of education to American women for study in the Ecole normale superieure at Sevres.

Special national and local committees inform members of national and state educational legislation on juvenile vocational supervision, on international education relationships and other important subjects.

Work of the entire organization is more easily understood when the groups with which it co-operates are known. Among them are the National Council of Women, Naples Table association, General Federation of Women's clubs, American Council on Education, Women's Joint Congressional committee, Woman's Foundation for Health and a number of government departments and bureaus, notably, the bureau of education, children's bureau of the department of labor and the United States public health service.

Miss Ada Comstock, dean of Smith college, is president while the national executive secretary is Mrs. Gertrude S. Martin, 934 Stewart avenue, Ithaca, N. Y.

The regular monthly meeting of the Business Women's club will be held Saturday, August 27, at the Columbia Gorge hotel. Reservations should be in by August 22. They can be phoned to Mrs. A. E. Crafts, Woodlawn 6237. Dr. W. W. Youngson, district superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church, will be the speaker at the luncheon next week, his subject being "Alaska." Miss Harriett Monroe will be the hostess.

* * *

The Methodist deaconess' auxiliaries of the city and their frineds in all the churches will unite in a picnic Friday, August 26, in Laurelhurst park. There will be a basket lunch at 12:30 and hot coffee will be served. Bring cups. An interesting programme will be given in the afternoon.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

ABOUT 80 "white ribboners" and their friends enjoyed the hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. George Honey and the Gresham Women's Christian Temperance union at the beautiful country home of the Honeys near Gresham, Thursday, at the August institute of the Multnomah County union.

The morning meeting was held in the parlors of the Honey home, the weather being too threatening for an outdoor meeting. Devotional exercises were conducted by Mrs. Ella Diamond, evangelistic superintendent, who took as her subject some passages from the Bible regarding the arising of "many false teachers . . . who should deceive the very elect." She read forceful extracts from current religious literature showing how many various philosophies and "cults" were being substituted for the true gospel and were gaining a considerable following among professedly Christian people. At the hour of noontide prayer the famous Women's Christian Temperance union hymn, "All Round the World the Ribbon White Is Twined" was sung with its refrain, "We'll Take the World for Christ's Own Kingdom Some Glad Day."

Mrs. Helen Harford spoke of the value of the "red letter days" in keeping the home fires of the Women's Christian Temperance union burning and said "that any union that failed to observe these birthdays of Women's Christian Temperance union leaders, with all the inspiration that they involved, made a great mistake."

The noon luncheon and the afternoon meeting were enjoyed in the grove. The principal speakers of the afternoon were Mrs. Ada Wallace Unruh, who spoke in behalf of the department of temperance and labor, on the problem of the working girl and her amusements; Miss Edna Shoemaker of the northern Baptist missionary field in China, and Mrs. C. W. Barzee, superintendent of fairs and exhibits, who outlined plans for a Women's Christian Temperance union booth at the coming Multnomah county fair. Miss Henrietta Honey gave two delightful readings at the opening of the afternoon meeting.

Miss Shoemaker said that at the present time only one-half of one per cent of Chinese women can read and write and that as it has been said that no nation can rise higher than its women, who are the mothers, the only hope for China lies in the education of the women.

She spoke of the China national Women's Christian Temperance union organized a few years ago and which has now a membership of 2000 women, and this winter is to put in the field a scientific temperance instructor who will work through the public schools. She told of a native Chinese woman lawyer who is working actively for the enfranchisement of women and the obtaining for them of an equal status with men in personal as well as political rights, including the right to voluntary marriage. She said in the interior of China was an immense population whose social status harked back to the days of Confucius, and to reach them by the crude transportation facilities available required more than twice the time that it takes to reach China from America.

Mrs. Barzee said "that the unions throughout the county were responding heartily to her request for canned fruit and vegetables, and textiles for the booth at the fair and that the various department superintendents would be present on certain days with an exhibit of their specialties in Women's Christian Temperance union work." One entire evenings entertainment would be furnished by the Women's Christian Temperance union under the direction of Mrs. Emma Walton and Mrs. Cora Ponnsy.

Mrs. Lulu Horning, agent for the Union Signal and Young Crusader, the official papers of the National Women's Christian Temperance union, said that the Mattie Sleeth union had been instrumental in placing 100 copies of the Young Crusader in a Sunday school in their neighborhood. George Honey offered $2 each on the subscription price of 100 copies, to the first five Sunday schools which should subscribe within two weeks.

Heywood-Shensgreen.

On Saturday, August 13, at the Star of the Sea chapel at Seaview, Wash., Miss Bernetta Claire Shesgreen became the bride of Herbert Joseph Heywood. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father P. Talley and they were attended by Miss Carmel Corrine Shesgreen, sister of the bride, and Hubert Jacobberger, a fraternity brother of the bridegroom. Both the bride and her attendant wore dresses of canton crepe in gray and beige shades with tailored hats to match. Immediately following the ceremony a wedding was served at the Shelburne hotel for about 40 of the bride's closest friends and relatives. The tables were decorated with honeysuckle and sweet peas.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. P. Shesgreen of this city and a graduate of St. Mary's academy and college. She has a very charming personality and has many friends among the younger set of Portland. Mr. Heywood is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. C. F. Heywood of Aberdeen, Wash. He attended both Oregon Agricultural college and the University of Oregon, is a member of Phi Gamma Delta and is now engaged in the advertising business here. He is a grandson of the late Mrs. E. Cashen, a pioneer of Portland.

The bride's going-away suit was a green tailleure trimmed with beaver, with hat to match. Mr. and Mrs. Heywood will pass their honeymoon in the Olympics at Quinault and will be at home after September 5 at 700 Corbett street, Portland.

Knick-Walker.

The wedding of Louise Jane Walker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Walker of Oregon City, and Thomas Knick of Los Angeles was at the home of the bride Thursday evening, August 11, in the presence of 150 guests. Rev. Herbert Crocker performed the ceremony. The bride's gown was of Canton crepe trimmed with Duchess lace. Her sister, Miss Marie Walker, maid of honor, wore an attractive gown of pink organdie over white silk. Mrs. John Walker's dress was of sand-colored silk.

Mr. Knick was attended by his brother, James Knick of Los Angeles.

After the reception refreshments were served in the dining room with Mrs. H. Buckley and Mrs. Lovett presiding at the tables. The bride's bouquet was caught by Miss Ann Borlie of Portland, after which the happy couple departed for Texas, where the bridegroom is in business.

Smith-Benjamin.

One of the pretty weddings of the week was that of Miss Harriet L. Benjamin and H. T. Smith on Thursday evening at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Benjamin of Forest Grove. The Rev. C. R. Carlos of the Methodist church officiated. The young couple immediately left by automobile on their wedding trip to Rainier national park to be gone two weeks, after which they will be at home in Forest Grove. Both young people are former students at Pacific university. Mr. Smith is assistant cashier of the First National bank of Forest Grove.

Paulbach-Hyde.

A pretty wedding was that of Miss Margaret Hyde and Arthur E. Paulbach at the First Presbyterian church August 6, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Norman Kendall Tully.

The bride wore a gown of white Canton with bridal veil and carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses, orchids and sweet peas. The maid of honor was Miss Wanda Paulbach and the bridesmaids the Misses Olga and Emily Proska.

The bridegroom was attended by John Bauer.

After the wedding a reception for about 50 guests was held at the home of the bride.

Crooks-Ireland.

The marriage of Miss Olevia Ireland and John S. Crooks was solemnized at the home of the bride, Rev. John Parsons officiating. Mr. and Mrs. Crooks left for Salt Lake City on a wedding trip and upon their return will make Portland their home. Both the young people are well known in Portland and their wedding came as a surprise to their many friends. While in Salt Lake Mrs. Crooks will attend the second annual convention of the Western Association of Masters of Dancing.

Rine-Webster.

McMINNVILLE, Or., Aug. 20.—(Special.)—Miss Una Webster of this city and David Rine of Long Beach, Wash., were united in marriage by Dr. C. L. Trawin, pastor of the First Baptist church, Tuesday, August 16, at 8 P. M. The ceremony took place at the home of the bride, which was beautifully decorated with baskets of roses and sweet peas.

The bride wore a gown of white satin with drapings of georgette crepe. She carried a bouquet of white asters. The bridesmaid, Miss Naomi Davis of this city, wore a gown of blue crepe de chine and carried a bouquet of pink asters. The bridegroom was attended by Harry Miller of this place.

Only a few of the bride's intimate friends were present at the ceremony. Mrs. Rine was connected with the Oregon Fire Relief Insurance company for a number of years. After a brief outing trip Mr. and Mrs. Rine will be at home to their friends in Long Beach, Wash.

Fisher—Bumgarner.

The wedding of Miss Bess Bumgarner and Daniel Fisher took place in Vancouver, Wash., August 10. Miss Bumgarner is a Spokane girl who has visited here many times. Following the wedding they left on a short wedding trip and will be at home to their friends after September 1.

MISS PAULINE ALDERMAN, HEAD OF THEORY DEPARTMENT OF ELLISON-WHITE CONSERVATORY, RETURNS FROM CALIFORNIA.

THE MUSICAL world is very quiet indeed, for most of the artists are away on their vacations, getting energy and strength for the coming season. A few are utilizing the summer months as a time to get in some concentrated study, but for the most part little is being done. Musical work is so often a strain on the artist that the vacation time is always welcomed as a period of rest.

Thomas Egan, the Irish opera tenor, completing a series of concerts in California, will fill a brief operatic engagement in Mexico and will then tour northward on the Pacific coast, appearing in song recital in Portland during the latter part of September. Mme. Lilian Breton, dramatic soprano, will appear also on the Egan programme on the return transcontinental tour. The Irish tenor will return to Ireland at completion of his American tour.

Greater interest is being shown this year in the Portland symphony orchestra than ever before, according to the board of directors. The orchestra will enter upon its 11th season this fall and six concerts will be given at the Heilig theater, following the plan of former years.

Many telephone inquiries are being received daily, asking about season tickets, and Portlanders seem eager to obtain seats early. It will be the plan this year to endeavor to sell out the house for all six concerts, by means of season tickets, before the first concert. This is the plan followed in many cities where the symphony orchestras are undeniably successful.

Circulars are being mailed this week all over the city announcing the programme, to which are attached the subscription blanks for season tickets.

Emil Enna recently returned from a visit to Canada and points of interest in the Pacific northwest and stated that it was gratifying to him to hear the many complimentary things said about Portland.

"It is truly remarkable the way the word has been spread in the northwest concerning the congeniality among musicians here and high standard of our various organizations," he said.

"Everyone seems very much interested in the 1925 fair, and I hope that all musical organizations here will unite in making the musical part of the event as fine as possible. I am strongly in favor of forming a 1925 musical boosters' association to carry the thing through successfully."
