WARFARE BELIEVED ENDED

Army Officer After Investigation of Uprising and Protest March of Miners Issues Report.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 27.—State and federal authorities were tonight in declaring that the march of miners from Marmet to Mingo county as a protest against Governor Mingo's martial law had ended and hundreds of the men were already back home.

Brigadier-General H. H. Bandholtz, who came here from Washington to investigate conditions for the war department in answer to Governor Mingo's request for federal troops, drove from Charleston to Racine over the line of march taken by the miners earlier in the week and expressed himself as being convinced that "the jig is up. He addressed a party of miners at Racine who were waiting for a train to take them home, and after further investigation along the line returned to Charleston to prepare his report for Washington.

Much confusion was occasioned during the afternoon by reports from Wilson, Mingo county, and Welch, Boone county, that Sheriff Chafin of Logan county had sent out a hurried call for assistance, and that forces of the state police and deputies had been hurried to Logan by automobile.

Movement Later Explained. An all information reaching government sources from Boone county was to the effect that the situation there was quiet, this movement of reinforcements which had been expected until it became known in Welch after Sheriff Hatfield and his men had departed for Logan that the men were broken up and that the men were on their way home.

The movement of the state police from Williams county and Welch, Boone county, that Sheriff Chafin of Logan county had sent out a hurried call for assistance, and that forces of the state police and deputies had been hurried to Logan by automobile.

A statement with reference to the march and the consequences was issued by General Bandholtz tonight, in which he said that he placed responsibility directly on the United Mine Workers which they have created and represent.

"It is a fixed administrative principle that leadership not only has prerogatives, but carries with it responsibility for the action of subordinates. It was entirely in view of this that Messrs. Keeney and Mooney were summoned to a conference and plainly but courteously informed that in case martial law was declared they and others would be held responsible for the acts committed by the law-breaking members of the organization. No inducements or promises of any kind were offered, nor were any threats made. They were told that it was believed the movement had grown out of all proportion to any probable original intention and might soon get entirely beyond control. They appreciated the situation and promised to take immediate remedial action, with known results.

Two Men in Hospital as Result of Fray on Road.

MADISON, W. Va., Aug. 27.—Paul Curley of Madison was shot last night at Danville, Va., by a party of his friends were driving along a road lined with men on the Marmet-Mingo march. A miner striking by the road received part of the charge of the bullet in his face and was taken with Curley to the hospital.

LABOR TO DEMAND EQUALITY

Conduct of Industry for Good of All to Be Object.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 27.—In order that the corporate industries conducted under co-operative plans shall be operated for the common good and "not merely for the profit of a class of men," the executive council of the American Federation of Labor tonight announced that it proposes to investigate this entire subject, so that the "people of our land may be fully and accurately apprised of the real situation of affairs."

Rights, privileges and opportunities equal to those granted the corporate interests are demanded by wage earners, said the council, declaring that an inquiry also will be made with a view of devising a comprehensive plan for the correction of the "grave dangers and great evils that have fastened themselves like barnacles upon our people."

"Organized labor," the statement said, "intends not to suffer longer under the persistent efforts being made to misrepresent their hopes, aims and aspirations and to deny them equal rights and opportunities with all other classes of citizens. It intends to remove the smoke screen that has been raised to place in security those interests whose profits are enlarged when the people's suffering is increased. It intends to have powers extended when the liberties and rights of the people are curtailed."

WOMAN SAYS POLICE AIDED IN ESCAPE

Alleged Murderer Relates Flight From Knoxville.

SERGEANT GIVES $1000

Automobile Also Donated for Dash to Freedom While Out on Bond Declares Mrs. Stubbs.

TACOMA, Wash., Aug. 27.—How she escaped from Knoxville, Tenn., by the aid of police officers, one of them a sergeant, who gave her $1000 and an automobile, was described tonight by Mrs. Helen Stubbs, formerly Maude Moore, convicted in Knoxville of the murder of Leroy D. Harth, wealthy automobile dealer, according to a statement given out by the police.

In describing her flight, which took place two years ago, Mrs. Stubbs, the police said, declared that Harth was the son of the prosecuting attorney who was to have appeared against her in her fight for life and liberty at the new trial, pending which she was out on bond, and therefore was out on the best course was to leave the country.

Train Boarded by Woman. Mrs. Stubbs, according to the police statement, said tonight that she accompanied her in an automobile to a point 42 miles out of Knoxville, near Clinton, gave her $1000, and then left her to proceed alone.

Shortly after midnight, the statement continued, Mrs. Stubbs caught a train from Clinton and rode to Danville, Ky. From Danville she left for Louisville and then to St. Louis, from St. Louis she traveled by train to Kansas City and from there to Billings, Mont. The next stop in her flight was at Spokane, Wash., and from there direct to Tacoma, where she remained until now.

"I knew detectives were on my trail all the time," Mrs. Stubbs was quoted as saying, "but I did not imagine so hotly. If I had thought I was in any immediate danger I would have left the United States. I had planned to go to Honduras, Central America."

Departure Due Monday. Letters from Mrs. Stubbs to her mother were received at Louisville from time to time, she stated, and mailed in Los Angeles, Cal. Accompanied by her bondsmen, Robert E. Boring and Edward M. Wright, Mrs. Stubbs is scheduled to leave here Monday morning, arriving at Knoxville Friday evening.

"I am confident that I now will be cleared of the charges against me," Mrs. Stubbs tonight asserted. Asked if her husband would accompany her across the continent, she said he would first have to dispose of his home and hotel business in Tacoma.

$5000 Spent by Bondsmen.

More than $5000 was spent by the bondsmen, they stated today, in apprehending Mrs. Stubbs, the search extending throughout the United States as a result of foreign sources. Included in this is $2000 offered as a reward by the bondsmen, who today handed Harry D. Smith, chief of police, a check for $1500, the expenses of Mrs. Stubbs' return to Knoxville being deducted.

Half of the $1500 goes to Jack Brown, a petty officer of the navy, living at Bremerton, Wash., who furnished the police with the information leading to the arrest. The other half goes to the Tacoma police pension fund. The bondsmen were duped to have the $10,000 they furnished as bond forfeited September 1 if Mrs. Stubbs had not been found.

WOMAN FLEES HOSPITAL

Patient Makes Escape Clad Only in Nightgown and Bathrobe.

The "top" on the beat has to be on the lookout for many strange things in addition to the usual routine of trying doors, watching for fire, chasing drunks, but Patrolman McCutcheon had a new one added to his list last night.

When McCutcheon reported in at 10:30 Desk Sergeant Reno flashed him the following message: "Watch for woman dressed in a nightgown and bathrobe," Reno told him.

"Huh? Wasn't?" McCutcheon took a new interest in affairs. "Yes," she escaped from the Portland medical hospital at Nineteenth and Lovejoy streets about 10 o'clock," Reno answered.

The hospital nurse said the woman was Mrs. J. D. Sears of Albany, Or., who had been there about a week for nervous treatment. She was in a private room on the second floor of the institution. During the absence of Mrs. M. Hinton, nurse in charge, Mrs. Sears slipped out of her room into a joining room and climbed out of a window onto a fire escape. The patient in the room rang for help at 11:00, but Mrs. Sears had run across the yard and escaped from the premises before it arrived.
