-PORTLAND TO PASS LABOR DAY QUIETLY

Dedication of Temple Postponed Until October.

BEACH TRAINS THRONGED

Closing of Public Playgrounds at Elaborate Spectacle Will Be Big Event Tomorrow

Contrary to the original plans which had been promulgated by the Portland labor organizations for observance of Labor day, tomorrow will be one of the quietest Labor days witnessed here in many years. The Central Labor Council at first decided to abandon the usual parade and hold instead the dedication of the new Labor Temple and the inspection of the building by thousands of visitors Within the last few days it was found that this plan would not be possible as the building lacks too much of completion.

As a result of the postponement of the dedication it naturally followed that the other exercises which were to have been a part of the formal to have been a part of cancelled.

Beach Trains Thronged.

Saturday's trains to the beach points were packed with throngs of Portland residents who have taken advantage of the fact that the Labor day week end. This and the low rates on trains and boats to the beach points, took many to Seaside and the other resorts. In the city there will be plenies at the various parks. With a little sunshine it is probable that there will be a general outflow of Part and people for the day.

The closing of the Portland public playgrounds will be one of the big playgrounds will be one of the big events of the festivities tomorrow and will be marked with fitting programmes. At the Washington park playground an elaborate spectacle of fairy tales and flower dances will be given under the direction of Margaret Vedder. "The Frog Fairy" is the name of the sketch which has been dramatized for the consideration dramatized for the occasion and a cast of 18 girls will take part in the production. A feature of the programme will be dancing by the little flower girls in their dainty costumes.

A programme of athletics has been arranged for the closing exercises at Terwilliger playground, with races and contests for both boys and girls. and at Kenilworth playground a cir-cus will be the principal form of amusement. Mount Tabor playground has also arranged a final celebration

Churches to Hold Pienie.

The Mount Scott playground will be the scene of an interchurch gather-ing, which will include a picnic and programme. Pie-eating contests for the small boys, tug-of-war and horse-shoe pitching will be features. The churches which will take part are Anabel Presbyterian, Miliard-avenue Presbyterian, Arleta Baptist, Fourth United Brethern and Brentwood Naz-

Portland's new labor temple when completed will be one of the largest and finest in the country to be owned and occupied exclusively by organized labor. Parole of First Offenders Receives Approval.

FINES ADVISED

trenit Court Declared to Have Been Too Easy on Bootleggers and Lottery Operators.

Three months' of investigation, durng which 185 cases have been probed and acted on served to convince members of the Multnomah county grand jury that the parole system in effect is all right in the case of first of fenders, according to the final report submitted to Acting Presiding Circuit

Judge Tucker yesterday.

"We strongly recommend that a foilow-up system be installed whereby the one paroled should be watched and made to report." reported the jurors. The necessity of a closer check on paroled persons has long been seen by authorities dealing with criminals. Although no direct comment was made by the grand jury on the prevalent practice of paroling Judge_Tucker yesterday. ment was made by the grand jury on the prevalent practice of paroling criminals a second and even a third time for offenses, the inference in their report, coupled with expressions of opinion before Presiding Judge Morrow recently, indicated that the system is held in disfavor by the jurors.

Judges Are Criticized. Criticism of circuit court judges for lenlency in dealing with cases of lot-tery dealers and bootleggers appeal-ing from municipal or district courts was found in the report.

was found in the report.

"A great many cases have come to our attention where lottery dealers and bootleggers are let off with light fines or sentences time after time," asserted the grand jury. "We feel if these cases were given the maximum sentences for second offenses and in case of appeal backed up by the circuit court there would not be as many violations of the law as there are now."

as there are now."

The jury found in its investigation of Kelly Butte that the men are cheerful and well treated, but reported that the plumbing appears to be in very bad condition, recommend ing that a separate shower room be constructed so that the water would not run into the men's quarters.

Nursery Is Approved. In the Albertina Kerr nursery 42 babies were found and "conditions of the very best" at the time of the visit of the grand jury. The jurors found that the Louise home is in good condition and well managed. The Frazer Detention home building is in poor condition, however, and inadequate for the number of inmates, said the jurors, who recommended that a new location with ade-quate quarters be provided in the
