Miss Marjorie Hall, Visiting in the East.

Mrs. Thomas Chambers Bailey (Bernice McFadden)

WHEN the hillsides are putting on a gray mantle of autumn coloring that is splashed with crimson, orange and golden brown, when the schools have opened and when the theaters are promising some smart attractions, social entertaining takes on a new interest.

Among the most delightful of the past week's gatherings was the reception given by Mr. and Mrs. George T. Gerlinger for Dr. and Mrs. Richard T. Scholz of Reed college. A number of distinguished guests assembled to greet Dr. and Mrs. Scholz and Mrs. Everett Ames, who will leave soon for the east, and who shared the honors with the Reed college president and his charming wife.

Among the attractive young visitors who have been entertained during the past week have been Miss Josephine Grant of San Francisco and Burlingame; Miss Jeannette Merritt of San Francisco; Miss Dorothy Corbett, daughter of Mrs. Harrison Corbett and Miss Marjorie Kerr who has returned from Victoria.

Mrs. Thomas Kerr entertained Thursday at a dance for Miss Kerr and Miss Grant. Miss Isabella Gauld gave an informal luncheon for Miss Grant on Tuesday.

For Mrs. Frederick L. Warren, who will spend the winter in California, a dance was arranged at Waverley Country club during the week.

For Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Cobbs, who left Thursday for Europe several days and other gatherings were given. Mrs. George Nevin entertained Monday at the Golf club for Mrs. Cobbs.

Mrs. Everett Ames plans to leave next Wednesday for the east to place her son in school and remain until the holidays. Several social honors were arranged for her during the past week.

Mrs. Robert N. Stanfield, wife of Senator Stanfield, has been feted at numerous affairs. Yesterday Mrs. W. H. C. Bowen and Miss Gladys Bowen gave a luncheon at the University club for Mrs. Stanfield.

Miss Louise Boyd, who visited here for the summer, left Saturday for entertained at many of the most delightful of the summer festivities.

One of the interesting announcements of the season is that of the engagement of Miss Ruth Crittenden to Donald O. Bates. News of the betrouhal was told yesterday at a tea given by Mrs. Richard Word and Miss Hazel Strief. The bride-elect is a charming and popular girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Crittenden. She attended the Oregon Agricultural college and is gifted in music. Miss Crittenden has a wide circle of friends who will shower her with good wishes and there doubtless will be many delightful social affairs planned in compliment to her.

Mrs. Frank K. Reinhardt (Margaret Reader) Bride of the Week.

Mr. Bates is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Bates. He is associated in business with his father and brothers. He served during the war overseas.

At the announcement cards of the betrothed pair were distributed as the guests arrived. Mrs. Bates and Mrs. Crittenden received in the party with the honor guests and the two young hostesses. In the dining room Mrs. W. W. Crittenden Jr., Mrs. Elmer Young, Mrs. Charles Parker and Mrs. Howard Word poured. Assisting about the room were Mrs. Lawrence Brown (Mildred McClung), Mrs. E. M. Wardle, Miss Marjorie Crittenden, Miss Schartz and Miss Emily Akers. The rooms were decorated in gay flowers of the early autumn. A number of young matrons and maids called to meet the charming bride-elect.

Honoring Mrs. Frederick L. Warren who will leave soon for California, a group of 50 society folk assembled at the Waverley Country club on Wednesday evening for a dancing party, which was a no-host affair arranged by Mrs. David T. Honeyman, Mrs. D. W. L. MacGregor and Mrs. Antoine G. Labbe. Mrs. Warren will go to San Rafael where her daughter, Miss Sally, will enter a girls' school. Mrs. Warren then will proceed to Santa Barbara to pass the winter.

Plans for the Junior league festa are going along and the event gives promise of being an important social affair. A meeting will be held Wednesday when dates and details will be discussed. The meeting will be in the home of the Misses Helen and Frances Page, Portland Heights.

and the bridesmaids were Penelope Gehr, Thera St. Clair, Marie Carter and Honor Youngson. The bride was gowned in a robe of white satin and silver lace with veil and a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower of roses and lilies of the valley. The bridesmaids were attired in pastel shades. Their gowns were all of organdie. They carried sweet peas. Dorothy and Louise Howell were the dainty flower girls and they, too, wore organdie. They carried baskets of pink sweet peas. Frances Jordan, who received at the door, wore pink organdie. The rooms were decorated smartly in gladioli.

On September 14, wedding bells will ring for Corbellia Tevis and Al-asters, carnations and palms. In the dining room, Lucile Carter, Grace Carter, Helen Hawkins and Beth Packer assisted. The couple left for a wedding trip and they will be at home after October 1 at 890 Hoyt street. A pleasing feature of the wedding was the music. Mrs. H. L. Overman sang, Miss Mary Bullock played the piano and Mrs. L. W. Waldorf played the violin.
