JUSTICES OF PEACE THRIVE ON SPEEDERS
OR HELM JUDGE COLLECTS "DIME A CUP"

Other British Officials on Lower
Highway Fee Will Go on Plan

BEAVERTON, Sept. 15--(ᴘʀɪᴍ._)

Dime a cup" is the name given to the system of fines collected by Justices of Peace in this state, and it is the name used by Judge Ben M. Doolittle of Wilson County to describe the method by which he collects fines from speeders. In fact, Judge Doolittle has a form letter that he uses in collecting his fines, and it is known as the "Dime a Cup" letter.

Editorial

The system of fines collected by Justices of Peace in this state is a shameful one, and it is one that should be ended immediately. The fines are collected by the justices themselves, and they are used to pay for the salaries of their assistants, who are often relatives of the justices.

There is no real deterrent to speeding in this state, and this is because the fines are not large enough to be a real penalty. The system of fines is a travesty, and it should be ended immediately.

Defendants

The defendants in this case have been charged with speeding. They are: John Doe, age 25, of 123 Main Street; Jane Doe, age 23, of 456 Elm Street; and John Smith, age 30, of 789 Oak Street.

The defendants have pleaded not guilty to the charges.

The case will be tried on October 1st.

LACK OF THRIFT LAID TO U.S. HOUSEWIVES

Through a survey made by the United States Department of Agriculture, it has been found that the lack of thrift among American housewives is causing a great deal of concern. The survey shows that many women are spending too much money on unnecessary items, and this is causing a shortage of funds for essential items.

The survey also shows that many women are not saving enough money for the future.

In conclusion, the lack of thrift among American housewives is a serious problem, and it needs to be addressed immediately.
