More Practical and Moderate-sized House Found Better to Serve Needs of Average American Family-Comfort Is Embodied in Distinctive but Economical Design.

meeds of the average American family.

Even among people of moderate wealth and social prominence the tendency is to build more nearly for actual need and comfort than to build the show places of former years.

The house here illustrated is one that conforms in every way with this tendency, being both randsome and distinctive, and at the same time devoid of any unnecessary enrichment, simple in design, equare in plan, and in consequence quite economical to build. This design received the highest award in the suburban district competition in which it was submitted, because of its genuine merit as an economical and beautifully modern and thoroughly American stone home design.

The plot plan shows the suggested arrangement on a 100-foot lot having a comparatively flat contour with slight rise from front to rear of property, such as are found in most districts around Chicago and many other midwesters cities.

The house is set back 40 feet from property line, giving an ample well-kept lawn in front. This lawn is not cut up by walk in center, the approach to entrance being by walk at the left, to entrance being by walk at the let, or along the narrow walk formed by one of the cement automobile tracks across lawn at right. At the side of property, along both of these approaches, there are wide borders planted with flowering shrubs and hardy premnists arranged for season. hardy perennials arranged for season al bloom. Connecting both appoaches is a cross-walk, in back of which rises a low grass terrace, and the stone steps leading to front entrance. This terrace is inclosed with a low-clipped hedge of box.

The walk at right also leads to the lawn in front of inclosed porch or sun room and across that lawn to the long, THE really large and expensive painting arrays walk at rear, inclosed with shrubbery of a naturalistic planting.

Directly in rear of house is another carefully leveled and closely clipped lawn, around which the ground ries gradually giving way to the simpler and more practical moderate sized house, requiring but little help in its maintenance and better serving the meds of the average American family.

The designer of this house did not permit himself to be hampered by custom or be unduly guided by pracedent, and has produced a somewhat unusual but thoroughly practical and sensible design for a building of this character,.

The beauty of Indiana limestone used for the facing of the walls has been fully appreciated and taken advantage of. The usual heavy and often inappropriate cornice has been dispensed with, and the designer has given us a wall built of rather large plain units, heautifully proportioned, which serves as an excellent backsground for the cut work of pliasters, urns and entrance feature.

Buff limestone graded from moderstelly limestone graded from moderatelly fine to rustic or coarse in texture is used for the facing of the early with the finish as it comes from the saws, with the exception of window sills, linels, grade course, coping and the cut trim constituting the pliasters and entrance features.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Gas, Sourness and Pain. How to Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness, burning, gas, boating, nauces, etc., are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach and not, as some believe, to a lack of digestive juices. The delicate atomach lining is fritated, digestion is delayed and food soure, causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestents are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying saide all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist a few ounces of Bisurated Magnesia and take a tempoonful in a quarter glass of water right after setting. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never liquid or milk) is harmiess to the stomach, inexpensive to take and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion, all druggists.—Adv.
