Marks Still Shrink.

Meanwhile, Germany's paper note expansion goes on more furiously than ever in the effort to meet indemnity obligations. The Reichsbank's note circulation in its latest report was set down at 95,186,00,000 marks against 71,900,000,000 in the sarily part of June, when preparations were under way to meet the first installment of the reparations, and against less than two billion marks in July, 1914. The whole story of the shrinkage in the value of the German mark is told in this comparison.

The Chicago grain letter received years. many persons from that state have come to Puget sound to contract for various sizes of trees which are shipped by the carload to San Francisco and sold at a good profit, according to Clark V. Savidge, state land commissioner. Following the discovery of a crew on a piece of state land during the past week cuiting and hauling away truckloads of the little trees, Commissioner Savidge asked that the trospassers settle damages, which they did.

Reforestation has become a vital problem in this state, it is declared and in order to secure the continuation of the timber supply depreciations of this character will not be tolerated.

Why Americans now go to Europe on American Ships

AMERICANS who have crossed the Atlantic on U.S. Government ships give three reasons for preferring them. They find the comforts they are accustomed to find in the finest American hotels; American food, prepared by chefs who know how to cook for Americans; and American companions.

Hotel Comforts at Sea

On your way to Europe now you may have the comforts and the luxuries of the finest clubs, the finest hotels, and the finest homes. The accommodations of the S. S. George Washington, flagship of the fleet, are surpassed nowhere on the seas. Amid the quiet luxury and beauty of this great ship a thousand unobtrusive comforts anticipate the travellers every wish. The staterooms are large and beautifully decorated. They have society women. Most of the staterooms have private baths; all have Navy, other Government officials, telephones that put friends and servants ever at your call. Elevators carry you from deck to deck. The social rooms are magnificent. They are panelled with rare woods and furnished with luxurious upholstered. furniture that invites relaxation. In cold weather the broad promenade is enclosed with glass. There is a fully equipped gymnasium for those who wish to keep up regular exercise during the voyage.

American Cuisine

Many Americans who have travelled on American ships say the cuisine has set a new standard. It is particularly satisfying to Americans be cause American dishes are served. The chefs who prepare it know how to cook for Americans. The culsine of the S.S. George Washington has

American Companions American ships are the natural places for Americans to meet each other when travelling. American tastes are similar. If you will scan the passenger lists you will find the names of Americans from all over the names of Americans from all over the 48 states; officers of the Army and known to every schoolboy, and social leaders from every section. They selected American ships because there they found American comforts, American food, the Ameri-can environment, and their friends. When you go to Europe, you too will prefer an American ship—a ship of which you own a part. And it will be a source of pride to know that your passage money is helping to build the American Merchant Marine. The next sailings are:
