Though the exercise of ad-ministrative rights over the territories leased is relinguished by China to the lessee power during the lease, the sovereignty of China over them is reserved. These lease holds were granted by China with the sole purpose of maintaining the balance in the far east between the other powers concerning China,

"Twenty years had elapsed since then, and conditions had altered. With the elimination of the German menace, an important disturbing fact to the peace of the far east had been removed. Bussia had disappeared from the scene and it could be hoped with confidence that she would even-tually return as a great democratic nation. The misrule of Manchu dynasty had also disappeared. The very fact that this conference was being held at Washington for the purpose of providing a mutual understanding on the part of the powers, indicated an added reason for dispensing with the necessity of mixing the balance of power in the far east."
