PROWLERS GET RIFLE

Frowlers who broke into the home of Mrs. G. Blackwell, 226 Shaver street, some time Wednesday, stole $250, a rifle, a camera and other articles, according to a report filed with the police yesterday. Entrance was gained by means of a pass key, the police believe. A thief who broke into the home of T. Carlin, 77 Morris street, left a penciled, "Merry Christmas," before leaving with $5 in cash which he found. E. M. Huff, 483 Tacoma avenue, reported he heard burglars in the house when he awoke early Wednesday morning. He called the police, but the intruder escaped before they arrived.

FOUR Y. M. C. A. ARE IN CONTEST

A membership contest between the young men's divisions of the Y. M. C. A. of Portland, Minneapolis, Montreal and Toronto, with the possibility that Seattle may be the fifth city, will be staged until the end of February. Portland has the largest membership in the division, with 676, while Minneapolis has 662, Toronto 536 and Montreal 481. The contest will be based on per centage of increase in membership. Leslie Cranbourne and his committee will take charge of the Portland campaign and get young men between 17 and 21 into the association.

CREDIT MEN HOLD ELECTION

The Oregon Motor Supply Credit Men's association held its annual meeting last Tuesday evening in the Chamber of Commerce rooms and elected the following officers for the coming year: J. G. Beckett of the Marshall Wells company, president; Charles E. Maca of the Goodyear Rubber company, vice-president; C. L. Sigloh of the Alameda Lumber company, secretary and treasurer. A dinner meeting was held, followed by a number of talks on technical subjects of interest to the members.

BUILDING PERMITS ASKED

J. H. Johnston has filed a request with the city council for a permit to erect a brick and the building at Tillamook and Hancock streets for a public garage and repair shop. Alexander H. Kerr has filed a request for a permit for a two-story building on Fourteenth street, between Alder and Washington streets, and Jason C. Moore for a permit to erect an apartment house at East Fifth and Hawthorne. The matters will come before the council Wednesday.

GAS CONSUMPTION JUMPS

Showing the increase of population in the city as reflected in the consumption of gas, the statement made by the general superintendent of the local gas company at the noon meeting of the Gas Appliance Dealers' association is of interest. During the same term of December, 1921, the daily output of gas jumped to 12,400,000 cubic feet. Last Tuesday, although not nearly so high, output reached 12,700,000 cubic feet.

HOTEL LICENSES OPPOSED

Mayor Baker has recommended the denial of a license to Mrs. Pauline Guerra to conduct a hotel at 102 South Vancouver street and has recommended the granting of a license to C. Sinsone to conduct a hotel at 131 1/2 Water street. Both recommendations were made by police reports on the character of the places and the persons wishing to conduct them. They will come before the city council Wednesday.

GREAT MME. SCHUMANN-HEINK TO APPEAR HERE JANUARY 9

Peerless Songbird in America Again After Triumphant Tour of Orient. Portland Concert to Be at Auditorium.

ERNESTINE SCHUMANN-HEINK, CONTRALTO, AT AUDITORIUM, JANUARY 9.

ERNESTINE SCHUMANN-HEINK, the world renowned contralto, who will appear in concert at the auditorium on January 9, direction Steers & Conman, returned to America November 1, after a most successful tour of the orient.

From every point on the long tour that Mme. Schumann-Heink is now making come reports that the famous diva is singing in better form than ever and that through continued to acclaim her the peerless songbird of all time.

A few recent typical notices are as follows: "The concert was dominated by the irresistibly magnetic personality of Schumann-Heink, wonderful woman and great artist. She held her huge gathering in the palm of her hand from the moment she made her entrance. And during the group of songs every person in the throng seemed to be hanging breathlessly to every tone, every word, that came from her lips."—Max Smith, New York American.

"Such an audience has never assembled to hear her come forth only rarely, both as to numbers and as to enthusiasm."—Maurice Rosenfeld, Chicago Daily News.

"The audience was the largest in the history of the city. Mme. Schumann-Heink was in fine voice and spirit and she sang herself right into the hearts of her hearers. Her voice has gained in sweetness and tenderness, and the particular joy of her listeners was her pathos. She sang with her soul as well as her mind and throat."—Nowport News, Va., Times-Herald.

"Such an audience as had assembled to hear her come forth only rarely, both as to numbers and as to enthusiasm."—Maurice Rosenfeld, Chicago Daily News.

WEDDINGS

Duncan-Oswald. A pretty wedding took place Wednesday evening, December 21, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Oswald, 27 East Eleventh street, whose daughter, Fern Lilian, was united in marriage to Harold Milton Duncan, Rev. Norman Johnson of the East Side Christian church, officiated. The bride was attended by Miss Ethel Lucille Duncan, sister of the bridegroom, and Thaxter Daniels, a college friend of the bridegroom, acted as best man.

The bridal party entered the parlors to the strains of Loehengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. Ruth Miller. Preceding the ceremony T. F. Haley sang "O Promise Me" and immediately following the ceremony Avon Jesse, cousin of the bridegroom, sang "I Love You Truly."

The bride was charming in a gown of white satin crepe. Her veil was held in place with a band of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of white and pink roses and the maid of honor wore a dainty dress of orchid charmeuse, trimmed with narrow silver metal ribbon and carried an orchid bouquet of orchid chrysanthemums.

The home was artistically decorated with poinsettias and ferns. The bridal party stood under a canopy of holly and white tulle from which were suspended white doves.

Mr. Duncan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Duncan of this city and is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon fraternity. After the ceremony and congratulations, dainty refreshments were served. Relatives who attended the ceremony and a few intimate friends were present. A number of guests were from out of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Duncan will be at home to their friends in their new home in Rose City about February 1.

Francis-Kain.

Miss Lauris Kain and David S. Francis were married Wednesday night at the home of the bride's parents.

Pale blue charmeuse and georgette formed the beautiful bridal gown, the only trimming being an elaborate pearl yoke worn on the wedding gown. The bride's grandmother, who carried a large shower bouquet of Opheelia roses and lily of the valley.

The home was tastefully decorated in the season's flowers, Oregon grape, chrysanthemums and palms. Professor Mordant, a "Good-nough" played the wedding march and during the ceremony played softly "I Love You Truly," followed by the "Wedding March" from Mendelssohn's opera. Relatives who attended the ceremony and a few intimate friends were present. A number of guests were from out of the city.

Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Duncan will be at home to their friends in their new home in Rose City about February 1.

Price-Hedberg.

Daisy M. Hedberg and Jack E. Price were married Monday, December 12, at 4 P. M. at the First Methodist Episcopal church, Rev. W. M. Jansen officiating. The bride's sister, Jeanne Swain, and Miss Alice E. York were witnesses. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. L. M. Potts of Vancouver, B. C.

The marriages of Miss Ethel Beckman and Edward Tonkin was solemnized Wednesday at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. A. Beckman, 1030 E. W. Way. After the ceremony and a wedding repast the couple received their many friends at the Multnomah hotel, where a dance and reception for the couple and the 150 guests. After a trip to California Mr. and Mrs. Tonkin will reside at home in the Kingsbury apartments.

Tomkin-Beckman.

Northwestern National and Portland Trust Workers Have Evening of Entertainment.

The annual get-together of the Northwestern club, whose membership consists of the employees and officers of the Northwestern National bank and the Portland Trust company, was held Wednesday night in the Sunnyside Masonic lodge hall. It was one of the most successful affairs of the kind yet held by this organization. The purpose of the club is to promote fellowship and co-operation among the workers of the two institutions.

The entertainment of the evening consisted of a dinner, vaudeville, dancing and cards. There was speaking also by officers and directors. There were present 150 persons, including officers, directors, employees and wives. Several national bank examiners who were in Portland were guests of the club.

There were two toasts were given by the officers and by A. D. Charlton for the directors. Emery Olmstead, president, announced at the time the annual present to the employees of one-half of one month's salary.

The vaudeville entertainment of the evening was given entirely by Northwestern and Portland Trust talent. There was a piano solo by Miss Leona Johnson, a recitation by William Kendall and a tenor solo by Ted Karan. An animated photoplay, directed by W. R. Higgins, depicted the women from 1776 to the present, was featured, with these young women taking part: Louise Stern, Maggie Dahl, Charlotte Marguerite Romacely, Irene Jackson, Linna Stobbe, Ruth Renfer and Hazel Bowman.

The director was Emma Christman. Miss Mable Morse presented an artistic dancing number. A vocal number was given by George Hoyt, Dean McWain, E. H. Charters and C. F. Yates.

Warde W. Robinson is president of the Northwestern club. Lorena Dinamora, J. P. Nelson, Ralph Deane are vice-presidents. Other officers are: Philip Strack, treasurer; Crystal Knight, secretary, and Edgar E. Senesch and Walter H. Brown, official advisers.

gibbon, will make their home here after the first of the year.

Walter Olson has just returned from a two weeks' trip east, where he attended the convention of Scabbard and Blade, national honorary military fraternity, at Lansing, Mich., as a delegate from Oregon Agricultural college.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Martyn have received word from their son, Wallace, of Chicago that he recently took the Illinois state bar examination and passed successfully. Mr. Martyn is a member of the Illinois Trust & Savings bank as manager of the stock transfer department.

The Young Women's Christian association will find in its Christmas stocking a gift from Mrs. Santa Claus of a deed to 17 acres of land on the Clackamas river, known as the Joe Backman place.

This piece of property is said by those who have seen it to rival in its natural beauties the famous Eagle creek camp grounds on the Columbia highway, and has the advantage of the latter of being only 12 miles from the center of the city and accessible by car and by automobile over a paved highway.

Rock creek winds its way through the whole length of the property, emptying into the Clackamas river which marks off its boundaries. Ideal sites for camping purposes and recreational activities follow the course of the stream, and native iron—dogwood, maple, fir and yew—rise to wonderful heights up and over the hills which rise from either side.

Eight hundred girls connected with the Y. W. C. A. will share the pleasures of this park.

Tennis grounds, a swimming pool and a camp kitchen are among the first needs which the association hopes to put on this property and sometime in the future it is hoped that an all-year-round clubhouse may be built on the heights overlooking the river.

An interesting feature in connection with this property is that it has a historical setting. Near the entrance to the gates, called to a tree, is an old weather-beaten sign which says "Oregon Trail" and on the authority of Eva Emery Dye it is said that the early pioneer who came into the parts over the old Barlow road crossed over this very trail of land, and remnants of the old trail are still to be seen.
