CONCERTS ARE POPULAR

MUSIC LOVERS OUT OF TOWN WILL HEAR SYMPHONY.

Civic Organizations Assisting in Sile of Tickets for Big Series Next Week End.

Out-of-town residents are showing an interest in the concert to be given Friday night at the municipal auditorium by the Portland symphony or chestra, as the first in its series of three popular concerts this season. Many of the inquiries have come from week-end attending the Oregon State Teachers' association, and who are eager to avail themselves of this opportunity to hear good music.

A number of civic organizations have been assisting in the sale of tickets for the concerts. Tickets for the three concerts are being given as Christmas gifts. Holiday greeting cards accompany the tickets and the gift is as appropriate for New Year's

PARRISH, VICE-PRESIDENT.

Dr. J. Guy Strohm, formerly lieutenant-colonel in the United States medical service overseis, and Dr. George Parrish, city health officer, will head the City and County Medical society during the coming year as president and vice-president, respectively, as the result of elections last week. Dr. Harold C. Bean will serve as scoretary.

The society now has a membership of 395 doctors of Portiand and Multinomah county and is planning to increase its membership during the year. In addition, the work will be developed along the lines of co-operation between the medical men of the city and the public health service. More live discussions on health topics, and a closer touch with city health problems are promised for the regular meetings of the society.

Dr. Parrish, in addition to his connection with the local medical society, is also a director of the Oregon League for the Conservation of Public Health.

-and to say that our holiday business was far beyond our ex-

When we concluded to concentrate our two stores under one roof at Park and Glisan streets we realized it would be a radical move on our part and many of our friends and patrons looked upon the venture as a very unwise one (all this in an undertone voice), and especially so when we (according to their ideas) were moving so far away (we fear that some of our patrons still think we are located somewhere between Linnton and the outskirts of Astoria) that we could not hope to do very much business, as we had moved outside the "charmed circle," better known, perhaps, as the uptown congested shopping district.

Well, despite all the dark forebodings, we made the move (and we're very glad we did), but with the consciousness that the public would sooner or later realize the fact that we had moved to a finer, bigger and better salesroom (by the way, it's the finest on the coast), where every department is located on the ground floor; that could be quickly reached by auto or by street cars; where motorists could find ample parking space and do their shopping in a leisurely way.

In "sizing up" the situation we concluded to do some advertising in hopes we could induce the public to come down our way "sooner" rather than "later." And such proved to be the outcome. They came, they saw and were surprised-surprised even though we told them what a fine salesroom we had and how easily they

Many kind words of praise were extended to us during our holiday sales by very well pleased friends and patrons (some of the "doubting Thomases" were among them) and a kind of universal feeling expressed that they were through "fussing" around in the congested district and that in the future when they needed Hardware or Sporting Goods they would "head" for Park and Glisan streets. Kind friends, we thank you for your very liberal patronage and it shall be our earnest endeavor to merit it in the days to come.

> May the coming year bring to you and yours a full measure of success and happiness.
