Miss Corinna Brougher, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. Whitcomb Brougher, is a bride. Her marriage to Norman Bulet, a young San Francisco broker, was solemnized at a surprise wedding Christmas day in the home of her parents in Los Angeles, where her family had assembled for a holiday dinner. The young people had conferred their plans only to the bride's father and mother. When the relatives had assembled and were waiting for the announcement, "Dinner is served," Dr. Brougher and the couple arose and to the astonishment of the assemblage, took their places and commenced the wedding services. Then the dinner came in with congratulations and later the couple left for a trip to San Francisco. They will reside in Los Angeles. Mr. Bulet is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Wallace Bulet of San Francisco. The Bulets and Broughers formerly lived in Portland and have many friends here who will be interested in their happiness. Dr. Brougher formerly was pastor of the White Temple and is well known as a churchman and lecturer. The family has a summer home at Gearhart.

A motor party drive on the Columbia River highway near breakfast at Highway lodge, formerly the automobile clubhouse, were enjoyed yesterday by a party of 20. The affair was arranged by George Hotchkiss Street, after the breakfast the guests enjoyed a social hour and sang Christmas carols.

Mrs. R. M. Blatchford will honor Mrs. W. P. Ingie next Wednesday at a luncheon. Mrs. Ingie will leave soon for a visit in California.

Among December's weddings of note in New York has been that of Miss Dorothy Britton Longman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Seel Gill of 14 East 51st street, and Stuart English Kimball son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kimball of Hood River and formerly of Boston, in St. Bartholomew's, Park avenue, at 4 o'clock Wednesday night, December 21. The bride was a former Brooklyn girl, and she and her mother have for several years spent their winters at Belle Air, Fla. After a honeymoon of a fortnight, bride and bridegroom will make a visit of two months at Belle Air, not going to Oregon until spring.

Tremper Longman, brother of the bride, gave his sister in marriage. Nearly 100 guests were at the ceremony and reception, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. Dr. Leighton Parks, rector of St. Bartholomew's church, assisted by the Rev. John Henry Sattig, rector of St. Philip's church, Brooklyn. It was a lustrous and peach wedding, the maid of honor and the two bridesmaids attending Miss Longman being in gowns of peach-color satin charming with fuchsia chiffon and silver lace over and carrying flowers to harmonize. For her wedding gown Miss Longman wore rose point lace and chiffon over silver cloth, a gown made very plainly and simply and on straight lines. The gown had a court train of chiffon and rose point lace with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. Her headpiece was of rose point with a tulle veil scattered with orange blossoms.

Both chapel and reception room of St. Bartholomew's were decorated simply, the chapel with bouquets at the altar and with palms and roses. Mrs. Gill, the bride's mother, wore old blue chiffon over silver cloth, and gown embroidered in jewels in the same color, and Mrs. Henry English of New Haven, the bridegroom's aunt, wore black chiffon over silver cloth, and both carrying bouquets of roses and orchids. Miss Longman's maid of honor was Miss Matilda Hapelle Smith of Brooklyn, her cousin, and the bridesmaids,

Miss Eleanor Woodward, Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Woodward, Home from College.

Mrs. J. Sternberg, celebrated 80th birthday.

Mrs. Tremper Longman, her sister-in-law, and Miss Jean Whiting, both of Brooklyn. Philip Henry English of New Haven, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man, and the ushers were Harold Kimball English of New Haven, a cousin of the bridegroom; Paul Barbeau Valle of Wynnewood, Pa.; John Lothrop Priest of Boston, and Gordon Hunt Michler of Greenwich, Conn. Among the guests at the chapel and reception were: Henry F. English, Mrs. Walter Longman Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Robert Longman, Kenneth Leons, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar H. Lee, Mr. and Mrs. Edward P. Morse, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt Clinton Whiting, Miss Emilie Honeyman, Miss Margaret Cowell, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Wheeler, Mr. and Mrs. Fred B. Trimm of Brooklyn, Mr. and Mrs. William Earle Smith of Toronto, Canada; Baisley Powell, Elsbah, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Gillies, Miss Marjorie Greene, Frank Lucien Hale of Pelham, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sackett, Miss Beatrice Sackett, Miss Eleanor Sackett, Alfred Purdy Hodgman of Greenwich, Mr. and Mrs. H. Morton Holbrook of Hood River.

One of the largest sorority teas of the week was that for which Nu of Gamma Phi Beta was hostess Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Caroline B. Unander on Talbot road. Christmas decorations adorned the living room, while in the dining room a basket of varicolored flowers centered the tea table, presided over by Mrs. Fenton E. Grigaby. Mrs. George Carter, Stirling, Mrs. C. E. Simmons and Mrs. P. H. Allen. Assisting in the dining room were Miss Margaret Masters, Miss Helen Verones, Miss Helen Barbara Simmons, Miss Frances Warrens, Mrs. H. Margaret Rankin, freshmen members of the Nu chapter of the University of Oregon. About 60 guests called during the afternoon.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton H. Watson are delighted to know that they have come from Vallejo to make their home in Portland. They shared in many of the holiday festivities. Mr. Watson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Watson, prominent Portland residents. The daughter of the hostess is a member of this newly organized club, which is planning some worth-while work and social events.

Mrs. Coleman H. Wheeler Sr. was hostess for one of the most attractive of the early week events, entertaining Monday her home in Montgomery drive for a club of young girls and their friends. About 60 guests attended the evening quite ill, is recovering steadily and soon will be able to see his friends.

One of the interesting family dinners given during the Christmastic holiday was that at which Mr. and Mrs. John Cullen Bryant were hosts. A company of 21 enjoyed the festive event. The decorations were in red and green. Those present included Mr. and Mrs. U. S. Bryant of Newberg, Mr. and Mrs. H. W. McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Whitten, Mrs. Coleman H. Wheeler Sr., Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bryant and their families, and Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Wheeler Jr.

Mrs. Catlin Wolford will be hostess January 5 at a bridge party for Miss Lenore Blasing.

Mrs. Albert Bernal was hostess at tea Tuesday for Miss Marion Harris of Boston. Mrs. Robert Livingston (Eather Tucker) and Mrs. John L. Riddell (Ethel Malpas) presided at the tea table.

Mrs. F. A. Nitchy was chairman of the Mills' club committee that presented "Alice in Wonderland" yesterday for the benefit of Mills' endowment fund.

Miss Helen M. Tyrell and Miss Lillian Durham Luders will be hostesses on January 7 at a dancing club at Irvington clubhouse.

Portland friends of Mrs. Eleanor Martin and Mr. and Mrs. Walter S. Martin of San Francisco were interested in the ball at which they entertained at the Martin residence in Broadway, San Francisco. The occasion was the formal debut of Miss Mary Martin. San Francisco has a bevy of debutantes this season. Several of them are girls whose families are well known here and many of them have visited here.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. George Mason at dinner and at the Rotary charity ball Thursday night at the Multnomah were Mr. and Mrs. Sam Laders, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Reed, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gertinger, Mr.

and Mrs. James Beckett, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilbur, Mr. and Mrs. MacMasters, Dr. and Mrs. Olla Wright of Portland and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Sargent of Seattle. The table was centered with red roses and ferns. The dinner was one of the most attractive of the many given that evening.

Among the box and line parties at the Russian opera at the Helix yesterday was a party given for the matinee performance by the Laurelhurst Study club. Those in the group included:

Mrs. C. A. McGinn, W. H. Williamson, W. T. Williamson, Otto Johnson, Thomas Anders, A. H. McChardy, Ralph Fallert, Vardine, John Hotchkiss, R. E. Koon, J. C. Stevens, G. D. Johnson, A. W. Bryan, C. L. Moore, F. I. Guss, L. J. Stevens, A. L. Du Fay, George W. Gearhart, M. H. Broughton, F. S. Henshaw, F. E. Skelley, C. W. Hayhurst, L. H. Howland, H. B. Murphy, Hathaway, C. B. Handy, W. W. Jordan, D. A. Jones and the Misses Maud Shaler and Ethel Handy.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Copper of 584 Crampton street are being congratulated upon the arrival of a son, Davidson of Hood River.

Miss Jeanette Wiggins will entertain at a tea on next Saturday.

There will be no less than 17 gatherings of the Portland Hunt club during January and February, the schedule for these months being the largest posted for over a year, and indicating from recent events are that more than the usual number of hunters and huntresses will be in the field and at the clubhouse.

Close to 30 riders have registered for the annual New Year's paper chase to be held tomorrow morning. This is the second chase of the season and Mr. and Mrs. James Nicol will be the hares. The field with gather at the clubhouse at Garden Home at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning and will return to the clubhouse after the chase for breakfast.

Another paper chase for the Junior members of the hunt club will be held next Saturday, the juniors using the same course that the seniors use on New Year's day. Next Sunday morning a cross-country ride from town to the clubhouse will be held.

At the request of the chamber of commerce the club will be in convention here that week. After the ride the members will be the guests of the association at a special reception at the Multnomah hotel, when an exhibition of riding habits will be held.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Martin will act as hares for the next senior paper chase, to be run Saturday, January 14, and a week from that date Jack McDougal and Jack Katyon will be the hares for the second junior paper chase. Sunday, January 22, Natt McDougal will lead a cross-country ride which will end with a club breakfast.

Two more paper chases for the seniors come on January 22 and February 11. Mrs. W. U. Sanderson and Norman Ely will be hares for the first and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Fagan will officiate for the second one. Another junior chase will take place on the Saturday between, when Miss Flora Jane McBride and Ambrose Cronis will lead the cross-country ride scheduled for Sunday, February 12.

and Mr. and Mrs. W. U. Sanderson will direct the one to be held Sunday, February 19.

The last chase for the juniors during February will see Miss Anita McBride and Harvey Dick acting as hares.

In the latter part of February four feature events will be held. The first is a special musical ride for the newly formed intermediate section, made up of about 30 young equestriennes and the youthful horsemen who are members of the club.

St. Valentine's night the seniors will ride in masquerade at the riding academy, and a party will be held at some member's home afterwards. The juniors will have another masquerade on the following Friday.

What is considered the best event of the entire year is the paper chase on Washington's birthday. The hares will be Mr. and Mrs. Natt McDougal and the course will be laid over country that has not been used for the other chases. A party and dance in riding togs will follow the ride.

Mrs. R. M. Blatchford will be hostess on Wednesday at a luncheon at Vancouver barracks.

The marriage of Miss Virginia McDougal, daughter of Mrs. G. C. Von Egloffstein of Portland, and Robert Brann of Tulsa, Okla., was solemnized at the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman T. Powell, Thursday at Superior, Wis. Rev. Reed Tait Bayne of the Congregational church performed the impressive service at 3 o'clock in the evening. The bride was given in marriage by her mother. Only immediate relatives and near friends attended. Mrs. Warren E. McCord, grandmother of the bride, was among the guests. After a wedding trip in eastern cities the young couple will make their home in Tulsa, where Mr. Brann is engaged in oil business. Mr. Brann is a member of the Kiwanis club and a graduate of Yale. Mrs. Brann is a popular member of Portland society.
