CANNES, Jan. 7 .- (By the Assodated Press.)—Great Britain may enter into an agreement to guarantee the escurity of France in the event of an unprovoked attack by Ger-many. This was reliably reported in British circles at the allied supreme council meeting here this evening. It was pointed out that security for France in the nature of a British guarantee was one of the basic ques-tions before the conference. These same circles announce that the proposed guarantee was a subject of discussion during conversations at London between Mr. Lloyd George and

In the event the projected agree-ment is reached, it is thought in British circles that it will be preceded by a full, frank reconsideration of the submarine ratio as between the two countries, some of those commenting citing a report that Great Britain is offering the guarantee provided the Brench agree to arbitration in submarine tonnage.

German Experts Called. Representatives of Germany next week will come here to discuss with the supreme council the reparations proposals to be prepared by the allied

This was decided on at the second ay's session of the council today and actification was dispatched to Berlin, stipulating, however, that the German experts go to Paris first and there hold themselves ready for the call.

As originally introduced by Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain, the proposal would have asked the German representative. man representatives to come direct to Cannes, but M. Briand, youchsafing the opinion that it was necessary to each an agreement among themselves first, it was modified.

The work of the council slowed up today when the thorny reparations questions came up. Yesterday's speedy decision or calling an international financial and economic conference with the participation of Russia and Germany and the progress made by the reparations experts today raised the hope for a time that there might be an early adjournment, but later it became apparent that the council was not so near an agreement as were

Premier Briand, says:
"Mr. Lloyd George has spoken. He

of the allies follow as a subject follows the hypnotist. As he had an-nounced, he subordinated the question of reparations to that of the reconstruction of Europe, so that Germany can find in Russia the money she owes us. It is a well-known proceeding. It is that followed by all financial adventurers. When the company is unable to mee, its obligations a new one is formed in which the capital of the old one is drowned," The Figaro, organ of conservative opinion, remarks: "The first results at Cannes are frankly bad. Lloyd George wins easily all along the line. A great financial and economic conference is to be called at Turin or Genoa, where the French premier may exchange views on he reconstruction of Europe with Lenine and Dr. Wirth. Mean-while the inhabitants of our socalled liberated regions continue to live in their buts."

Ambassador Harvey's participation in the modification of the original text of Premier Lloyd George's resolution yesterday whereby, the Cannes corre-spondent of the Temps says, "from a mute observer Mr. Harvey became an active listener and then a collabora-tor," is placed in the foreground of the newspaper's description of Friday's proceedings at Cannes. INTERNAL CHAOS LOOMS

Attitude of De Valera and His Sinn Fein Supporters Held to Menace Country.

BY GEORGE N. BARNES. (Copyright, 1922, by The Oregonian.) LONDON, Jan. 7.—(Special by Wireess.)—The news from Ireland is both good and bad. De Valera's maneuver of resignation and subsequent retrac-tion and bitter debate at Dublin dur-ing the last half of the week have filled the friends of Ireland in Great Britain with misgivings. The question naturally has arisen.

will Ireland accept the democratic principle of a rule of the majority, or will the island be torn with factional warfare when the British troops are removed?

It is a lack of the spirit of democ racy, of majority rule, which is so disquieting. One of the speakers in the Dall Elreann this week expressed a view which appeared to find prett wide acceptance, but which strikes at the root of democratic government. He told his fellow members of the Dail that they faced merely a choice

Domestic Chaos Forecast. "Either we are to have chaos and war with England," he said, "or, alter-natively, we are to have chaos with-out war with British soldiers. I favor ratification of the treaty only because it will eliminate the soldiers."

De Valera's message was but little less significant. But surely there is a further alter native. There is the alternative o orderly, constructive work without either chaos or war. And that depends upon the majority and minority of the Dall closing up their ranks and showing what rational nationalism can do. Rational nationalism, unfortunately, has not been kept elsewhere in the new states created by the war. The multiplicity of states has but ultiplied the irrationalities. Ireland has the opportunity of redeeming the new practice and principle of "self-determination."

Ireland Land of Contrarcties. But Ireland is a country of con trarieties. No one can predict its future alignment of parties or forces with any degree of assurance. I am inclined to think, however, that self-interest and common sense would bring Ulster into line if the Sinn Fein parliament got settled down to prac-tical work, and I also think that Sir James Craig will enforce order in Belfast with a heavy hand as soon as he gets the new authority duly con-

It has been one of the unexpected developments in Ireland that, while the southwest has been law-abiding nd inclined to peace, the northeast announced further deliberation was necessary after which the council would receive the experts' report and make its decision.

Dublin Center of Gravity.

Dublin, however, has been the cen talk, ending with De Valera's declara-tion that he, for one, would "never be a British subject."
