

POINCARÉ MINISTRY DEFINITELY FORMED

M. Barthou Vice-President of New French Cabinet.

LLOYD GEORGE CONFERS

Ambassadors Hereafter May Take Charge of International Problems in Europe.

PARIS, Jan. 15.—(By the Associated Press)—After a conference with M. Barthou and other supporters lasting until midnight, M. Poincaré announced his cabinet had been definitively formed as follows: Premier and minister of foreign affairs—M. Poincaré.

M. Barthou Vice-Premier. M. Barthou has accepted the post of minister of justice in the cabinet and the vice-presidency of the council.

M. Maginot will be minister of war and director of pensions in the cabinet, the ministry being eliminated from the cabinet.

M. Marmoury has been appointed minister of the interior. M. Le Trocquer public works and M. De Lasteyrie finances. A message has been sent to M. Sarraut at Washington asking him to remain at the head of the ministry of the colonies.

Andre Tardieu declined to accept the ministry of liberalized regions after having consulted with M. Clemenceau. The fact that M. Poincaré offered three of the most important portfolios after foreign affairs, which he takes for himself, to men of little experience in political affairs is regarded as significant that he intends to have his own way so far as French policy is concerned.

Genoa Conference Stands. As in accordance with established principles, cabinets are bound by the decisions of their predecessors, the Genoa economic conference will be held. It is probable, however, that France will seek to limit the discussion to purely economic and financial matters, to the exclusion of political problems.

M. Poincaré engaged in a lengthy conversation today with the British premier, but no conclusion was reached. M. Poincaré, it is declared, has international questions henceforth will be settled as heretofore, through ambassadors.

This, in the opinion of the premier-designate, would mean "there must be one final meeting should the French viewpoint prevail, and I have good reasons to believe it will so far as Great Britain is concerned."

He thought there had been too many meetings in the present conference and he desired a return to the old-fashioned way of dealing.

Conference Declared Success. The conference turned out to be quite a success for the premier, according to the French view, as he apparently convinced Mr. Lloyd George that it would be construed by the French as a uniform and friendly attitude on his part.

Mr. Lloyd George met ex-premier Briand and Dr. Rathenau, German representatives. In consequence, M. Briand's visit to the British embassy was merely a social function during which he had a brief informal talk with the British premier. Mr. Lloyd George did not meet the Germans.

The British premier came here with ratification of the policy of the moratorium for Germany tentatively granted by the reparations commission, but met with strong opposition from M. Poincaré, who argued that Germany had not paid to the limit of her capacity and that some means must be found for lightening France's burden.

France Held to Stand Alone. The conclusion in Belgian circles, which have rallied to the British and Italian views, is that France stands alone on the reparations problem.

Mr. Lloyd George had notified Elysée palace that he would like to call on President Millerand, but the latter had an engagement and suggested an hour which was the time when the premier was conferring with M. Poincaré.

It was said by the British delegation that Mr. Lloyd George did not call at Elysée palace, as custom is, but rather an invitation. The official explanation was that the protocol provides for visits from the heads of foreign states only on invitation.

British circles do not conceal their disappointment over the failure of Mr. Lloyd George to meet President Millerand.

Other Delegates Received. However, he received Premier Theunay and Foreign Minister Jaspard of Belgium and also M. de Lasteyrie, who is slated for the ministry of finance in the Poincaré cabinet, concerning the central international corporation, officially adopted by the Cannes conference, to which M. Poincaré is said to agree.

The Belgian and German delegations were anxious to hear the result of the Lloyd George-Poincaré discussions and received confidential information, which was greeted by the Germans apparently with satisfaction, while the Belgians appeared to be somewhat concerned.

FATTY'S TRIAL DELAYED

OPPOSING COUNSEL FAILS TO COMPLETE JURY. BELIEF IS EXPRESSED THAT TESTIMONY WILL NOT BEGIN UNTIL TUESDAY. LITTLE INTEREST SHOWN.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 14.—Inability of opposing counsel to complete the jury today in the second manslaughter trial of Roscoe C. (Fatty) Arbuckle led to the belief that testimony would not be begun until Tuesday. Defense attorneys expressed the opinion that this trial would take at least as long as the first one, which consumed three weeks.

The jury box has been filled six times since the case was called last Wednesday, but the use of six peremptory challenges has lengthened the process of selection. Eleven temporary jurors were in the box at adjournment today, and examination of a 12th was virtually completed.

According to court attaches, the case is attracting less public interest than the ordinary criminal trial. The only outstanding incident today was a request by the court to the jurors temporarily in the box and to the talesmen awaiting examination that if anyone approached them from either side he should be notified at once.

Howard Spreckels, son of Rudolph Spreckels, San Francisco banker, and nephew of John D. Spreckels, San Diego capitalist, who was temporarily selected yesterday, was excused today.

BORAH BILL CONSIDERED. Relief for Settlers on Irrigation Projects Purpose.

THE OREGONIAN NEWS BUREAU, Washington, D. C., Jan. 14.—The first of a series of hearings was held today by the senate irrigation committee on the Borah bill to extend the time for payment of construction charges on government irrigation projects.

After hearing six witnesses, no action should be taken until the return of Secretary of the Interior Fall from the west. Secretary Fall will then be summoned before the committee.

Several hundred settlers on western projects have complained that on account of the low prices of agricultural products they have been unable to meet the maintenance charges. These charges fall due December 1 last, and Secretary Fall has been "carrying" the settlers since, as the corner grocer says of a credit business.

Meeting in Mansion House. The parliament met under clauses 17 and 18 of the Anglo-Irish treaty, which made the members of the southern Irish parliament elected under the government of Ireland act of 1920, the body which should ratify the treaty and take measures for constituting a provisional government.

The meeting was held in the oak room of the Mansion House. The entire list of 128 members, including the four unionists elected for Trinity college, had been summoned, but only those who favored the treaty attended.

Mr. Griffith, president of the Dail, addressing the meeting, said he thought it desirable to make definite what the position was of the provisional government that had been called into being to carry out the terms of the Anglo-Irish treaty.

William Devolote of Cork City, who was chosen chairman, also announced that when the transition was completed the Dail Eireann would decree a general election, enabling the people to pronounce on a form of constitution and elect representatives to the parliament of the nation.

Mr. Hays Will Resign. (Continued From First Page.) nothing would be done toward selecting a new postmaster-general until Mr. Hays formally tenders his resignation.

Mr. Hays refused to discuss the salary which he would receive in his new position but it has been reported as upwards of $150,000 a year.

Postmaster-General Hays was said by his friends, however, not to regard the salary as the controlling factor in his decision.

GOETHALS TO DO SURVEY. (Continued From First Page.) correspondence with General Goethals indicated that he would be available about February 1. The present officers of the Columbia basin survey at Spokane will be placed at his disposal, if General Goethals desires them, the director said.

Postal Station Moved. Postoffice substation No. 2, formerly Alberta street and Williams avenue, has been moved to the Broadway drug store, in the new business block at the northwest corner of Broadway and Williams avenue. Roland D. Jackson continues in charge.

Foreign Minister Jaspard of Belgium announced this evening a tentative agreement for a British-Belgian pact in which Great Britain promises her aid to the full against an attack on Belgium or the violation of her territory.
