Appropriate Exercises Mark Departure of Seniors From City High Schools—Pupils Already Prepared for Activities of Next Term.

Philhenaem Girls Give Program.

Entertaining Meeting Is Held by Philhenaem Girls at the Assembly Room on Friday Evening. Exercises Held Friday.

BY ELOISE GRAY.

THE Philhenaem girls sponsored a most enjoyable afternoon Thursday, January 19. The Harlow Shakespearean Club was a delightful comedy presented by several of the Philhenaem girls with Dorothy Coulter, a club member, as coach.

A reading by Thelma McCree and a piano solo by Florence Blomgren completed the interesting program. Refreshments, consisting of chocolate and water, were served.

Mr. Boyer was a welcome visitor at assembly Thursday, January 19. He led the students in singing the patriotic songs, and this was the last assembly of the term, the seniors choosing the selections.

The members of the Sodality Latin club enjoyed their last meeting of the term Friday evening, January 20. A well-balanced program was presented by Annie Dorothy Kammner was much appreciated.

The numbers included two readings by Onora McKinley, vocal solo, "Dawning," Lena Crump; piano solo, Mary Harnay; vocal duet, Rose McCauley and Karl Torney; short play, "The Apple of Discord," by members of the club, and glimpses of the "Traveling Salesman" by club members. Games in the gymnasium, managed by Carl Gilstrap, followed a short business meeting. Fruit salad and sandwiches were served by the refreshment committee.

One of the most exciting of the girls' basketball games was that on Friday, January 20, when the pedagogical girls played the fifth term basketball team. The score was 17 to 8 in the fifth term's favor. A large number of interested students were in attendance.

The members of the January '22 class brought their high school careers to a close with many enjoyable social activities. Romayne Brand entertained the class at his home Friday evening. Officers for next term were delightfully spent in playing interesting games and dancing. Gloriosa, call and organ were arranged. Mr. and Mrs. Hiestand and Mr. and Mrs. Brand helped the happy seniors to end their term.

Mrs. Hiestand, who is a teacher, invited the class to her home last Sunday morning for a "senior breakfast." The room was prettily decorated with the class colors, old rose and maize. One of the interesting features of the occasion was the presentation of a diamond silver sandwich plate, to the hostess, Mrs. Hiestand delighted the class by presenting to each member an attractive postage stamp.

Sunday evening the graduates attended the graduation services, conducted at the St. Johns Christian church by Rev. Herbert Jones. Rev. Mr. Jones called his talk "Thoughtful." He urged the students to carry on the ideas he had given them regarding pleasure, fame and disappointment. Every member of the class attended. As part of the program they sang their class song. The church was attractively decorated with the class colors.

Commencement exercises of the January class were conducted in the school auditorium Friday evening. An excellent program was given. The address was by Rev. Charles W. MacCabe. Diplomas were awarded by Principal Fletcher.

The stage was effectively decorated with the class colors and the motto, "Those who aim at the greatest things rise the highest," occupied a conspicuous position. The seniors of the seventh term were responsible for the decorations in the auditorium, and the sixth termers for the decorations in the gymnasium, in which was held the reception following the exercises.

Membership in the James John Honor society was attained by four of the graduates: Dorothy Coulter, Louise Jacobson, Lena Crump and McKinley. Dorothy Coulter is the "high point" member of the society, owing to her record in the school. The greatest number of honor points were awarded.

Miss Norma Bassett had as her guests Saturday at her studio in the "Roof Colony" of the Worcester building the students in her James John art class.

A theater party at the Baker was enjoyed by the eighth termers Tuesday evening.

A very successful "hard times" party was a third-term social affair Saturday evening in the school building. The "hard times" thoroughly enjoyed themselves.

Final examinations were the main event at James John during the past week.

Numerous Displays Made by Students.

Polytechnic Girls Have Exhibits of All Sorts of Garments—Three Plays Well Presented.

BY KATHLEEN SHAW AND HARRIET HOLLEN.

THE last garment of the second term is a cotton dress. They are made of voiles, gingham or plain organdy and are trimmed with ruffles, collar and cuffs or hemstitching. The results have been beautiful dresses.

A luncheon was given by the domestic science department on Wednesday in honor of the girls who have taken four terms of cooking. The meal was attractively served in the school dining room by the third-term domestic science girls, who also cooked the lunch.

A display of dainty little baby skirts trimmed with lace, and completion suits finished with lace and embroidery, was held in the lower hall on Tuesday.

Baby bonnets, a beautiful satin hat and several interesting pieces of material were on display last Wednesday. The textiles, the work of the members of the high school girls, were hand-woven in 1888 and were brought to America by her from Norway.

Each third-term girl is required to make a baby dress. These little garments, dainty and well made, were on display last week in room 12. Many of the girls kept the dress, but some were for sale.

The graduation dresses, held by their proud owners, were exhibited in every room in the school. The girls

BY HELEN L. ZWINGLI.

ON Thursday, January 19, Mr. Elton called the student body together for the first time in two weeks. The typing department of Commerce had made another splendid showing, and Mary Semenza was awarded the Remington gold medal for writing 619 words in ten minutes without an error. Esther Nelson also won the Remington gold medal for writing 608 words in ten minutes. Esther Cohn, who wrote at a net speed of 669 words on the Royal, without an error, was awarded the Royal certificate.

Lincoln's 62 Seniors Receive Diplomas.

Inspirational Exercises Held in Pretty Setting—Girls' League Elects Officers for Next Term.

BY MARGARET KRESSMANN.

INCOLN'S senior class of 62 members was graduated last Friday night. The commencement address was given by Dr. Harold Leonard Bowman of the First Presbyterian church. C. A. Rice, assistant superintendent of schools, presented the diplomas. The June class had decorated the stage with palms and ferns and the girls' white dresses and colonial bonnets made the stage very colorful.

The honor members of the class were: Dorothy Bolling, Dorothy Cookerham, Ruth Craig, Ella Goss, Bernice Holmes, Beryl King, Margaret Kressmann, Jessie Lawton, Helen Maly, Gladys Miller, Charlotte Rice, Elmer Rosenkranz, Helen Snow, Henry Teiger, Sydney Weinstein and Philip Silver.

As the class was small, all of the friends and relatives of the class were invited. The auditorium was full of these friends and after the graduation they gathered in the gymnasium to congratulate the graduates.

The class Cardinal was in the hands of the pupils last Friday morning. The Cardinal was the best class issue that Lincoln has ever seen. The cover of the book was hinged like a regular leather book cover and had a very pretty, original design. One front page was left absolutely blank for the autographs and original headings were used for each page.

The pictures of Mr. Davis and of the members of the class were in formal snapshots taken in and around school. In many other ways this year has been a very successful one for the Lincoln school. The girls' league has grown a great deal this year, both in its work and in the number of its members. The girls have done and in the position it holds in the school's activities. Practically all of the school's social service work has been done through the league and plans have been made to carry this work still farther in the future.

Work of Term Ended at Franklin.

Examinations and Commencement Features of the Week—Opera to Be Next Important Event.

BY EDNA MAY ROOT.

IN THE past week final examinations absorbed the minds of Franklin students, to the exclusion of all club and social activities, except the commencement exercises.

The January, 1922, class held its commencement exercises Friday evening at the school. Relatives and friends of the graduates crowded the gymnasium to its capacity. The professional was led by George Selfridge and Irene Pournier, president and vice-president of the class respectively. Franklin orchestra, directed by Carl Denton, played several selections during the evening in a most pleasing manner. Other numbers on the program included the vocal selections by members of the graduating class. Rev. Edward Constant gave the commencement address and Principal Ball presented the diplomas.

Members of the June '21 class decorated the gymnasium for the affair, and the following girls of the June class ushered: Bernice Anderson, Kathryn Pickard, Mabel Renne, Anna de Witt, Gladys Onstad, Elizabeth Rauch, Dorothy Dodge and Helen Leonard.

A number of Franklinites visited the grammar school tributory to Franklin recently, and talked to the graduating classes on "Why Go to High School?" Those who gave the talks were Martha Billeter, Anna de Witt, Winnifred Williams, Margaret Kennedy, Alta Brash, Gladys Pen-

January 22 Class Graduated With Appropriate But Simple Exercises—Big Spectrum Issued.

BY HARRY G. JOHNSON.

COMMENCEMENT exercises of unusual attractiveness were held at Jefferson on last Friday evening, when the class of January, 1922, including 117 students, formally graduated from Jefferson. The young women, 75 in number, were uniformly gowned in dresses of pastel colored tulle and white. The boys were garbed in ordinary dress, and numbered 42.

The diversified programme of pleasure numbers was given. Dr. H. H. Griffin gave the address to the class. Hopkin Jenkins, principal, made an address in which he stressed the importance of the diploma to the class. Through the whole commencement exercises proceedings were marked by simplicity, following the precedent of former classes.

The January class issue of the Spectrum was distributed on Tuesday. The cover design was a young man and a young woman receiving their diplomas. The issue contains offerings of the literary class, as well as photographs of all the Jefferson student organizations.

According to the annual report, published in the magazine, 23 students have completed their high school course in three and one-half years. The honorary graduates, number 21; 24 students are going to the University of Oregon, 23 to the Oregon Agricultural college, 13 to the University of Washington, three to Reed, seven to normal schools, one to Stanford, two to business colleges and one to Berkeley.

The total amount earned by the girls was $12,497, averaging about $350 apiece. The total amount earned by the boys was $1723, averaging $1118 per boy. This issue was the last of the fall term, and the student body considered it a fitting finale.

The last assembly of the term, held on Tuesday, was unusual because all the students were in the auditorium together, instead of the customary two assemblies. After the singing Dr. Bosserman, faculty adviser of the Live Wire, presided. He presented the school with a large Victoria, which had been purchased for that purpose.

Jefferson Fire Squad Called on Tuesday.

Interior Fire Drill on Thursday, January 19, in which the students marched only to the doors on account of the inclement weather. The time was officially announced as 50 seconds.

Charles W. Walker, who talked to members of the Commerce club at Franklin recently, is president of the Northwestern School of Commerce, the successor of Link's Business college. Through an error it was stated that Mr. Walker was president of the Behnk-Walker Business college.

Much interest in being shown in the reception to be given by the Portland Parent-Teacher council, which will be held at Franklin the evening of February 17. The affair is in honor of the school board and the teachers and principals in the grammar and high schools of the city. Active committees have been appointing to plan the reception and a general good time for everyone present is promised.
