

WARS ROY GARDNER TARGET OF WOMEN

Appearance Here in Vaudeville to Be Opposed.

CLUBS TO TAKE ACTION

Federated Organizations Declare Wife of Outlaw Capitalizes Husband's Crimes.

Clubwomen of Portland will make a fight to prevent the vaudeville appearance of Mrs. Roy Gardner, wife of the notorious criminal, who is scheduled to appear soon in one of the local theaters. They have decided yesterday at a meeting of the Portland Federation of Women's Organizations, held at the Hotel Portland, and will be backed by the entire organization, composed of 125 women's clubs in Portland.

The women announced they would carry their fight against Mrs. Gardner's appearance to the mayor if necessary. They have also adopted a resolution opposing Mrs. Gardner's appearance and appointed a special committee to meet Monday at 11 A. M. at the Y. W. C. A. and decide what steps are to be taken.

Principle Is Opposed.
"We are working to prevent crime and build up citizenship," declared Mrs. Alexander Thompson, president of the federation. "The parading of Mrs. Gardner before a public eye with no other recommendation for her ability as a vaudeville actress than that she is the wife of a notorious law-breaker is a crime in itself, and we are opposed to the very principles for which we stand."

"We shall create a strong enough sentiment against this woman who presents the exploits of her husband and bring the matter to the attention of the mayor, city council and press, and bar her from appearing here."

Mrs. Thompson appointed a committee composed of Mrs. O. L. Burland, Mrs. G. J. Frankel, Mrs. George L. Williams, Mrs. Lee Davenport, Mrs. L. T. Deane, Mrs. M. J. Burley, Mrs. Frank O. Northrup and Mrs. E. J. Steale.

Dr. Smith Speaks.
The regular programme of the club included talks by speakers whose topics were of vital interest to the public. Dr. Andrew C. Smith of the state board of health, also a member of the board of health, recently appointed by the governor, presented "The Narcotic Evil." In pointing out the seriousness of the situation and soliciting the aid of the women, Dr. Smith stated: "The hospitalizing of the thousands of addicts in the United States, who are responsible for their own acts, would mean the neglect of hungry, needy little children who in time would grow up to be good and useful citizens."

"The only way to stop this evil is at its source, and the women of the United States will have to put their heads together and say, 'It shall not be.'"

H. J. Langoe, editor of the Northman, gave an address on "Americanization," in which he pointed out many of the requirements necessary to raise the standards of an American citizen, and the seriousness of the immigration problem.

Wayson Case Discussed.
"Native-born and foreign-born citizens must join hands to preserve the heritage of our fathers who came here," stated Mr. Langoe.

Mrs. George H. Williams, president of the Unimabed Veterans auxiliary, spoke on the "Wayson investigation." Business matters of the federation were discussed. Mrs. Alexander Thompson presided.

Douglas Farmers Gather.
ROSEBURG, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—More than 300 farmers and their families gathered here today for a farm bureau rally. The meeting concluded an active membership campaign in which the organization has increased its membership in this county by a large percentage.

Newspaper to Be Revived.
ROSEBURG, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—W. J. Hayner, retiring postmaster at Sutherlin, announces that he expects in the near future to resume publication of the Sutherlin Sun, a weekly paper, which was published here by Mr. Hayner until about a year ago. He has served as postmaster at Sutherlin for the last eight years, but is to be succeeded by C. A. Stark, who has been named for the position. Mr. Hayner sold his equipment about a year ago and it was moved to Roseburg and put in use in a job printing establishment.

Scio to Have Gymnasium.
SCIO, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—The Scio high school is planning an entertainment for the coming week in the next week in the interest of the new gymnasium. Bonds are selling at $15 each and are to be bought by every business man in town. At present there is no gymnasium here, and the basketball teams have been hindered by having no good place to play. The building will also be used as a community house and for all entertainments and other high school activities.

Women Reject Jury Duty.
ASTORIA, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Three of the five Clatsop county women drawn as members of the circuit court jury for the term beginning on February 20 have claimed exemption on account of household duties demanding attention. They are Mrs. Laura Wooden, Jewell; Mrs. Bertha Irving and Mrs. Bessie Ryan, Wauvaki. The other two women drawn for jury duty are Mrs. Sophie Makela and Mrs. Carrie L. Glaser of this city. Notices of their selection will not be served on them until next Tuesday.

Co-Eds Shy in Making Dates.
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 11.—(Special.)—University sailors are complaining because the senior co-eds are shy in calling them for dates for the "loaf week." Only a few of the women have so far made dates. A meeting of the "loaf week" was held yesterday to discuss ways and means of enticing their masculine classmates out on dates. The "loaf week" begins Monday and ends the following Saturday. This is the first time in the history of the university that such an affair has been held.

GROUND BROKEN FOR PORTLAND WOMEN'S CLUB BUILDING.

Mrs. CHARLES E. RUNYON, PRESIDENT OF THE CLUB, WITH THE FIRST SPADFUL OF EARTH FROM THE EXCAVATION.

At a simple but impressive ceremony attended by about 50 clubwomen yesterday afternoon, ground was broken for the new building of the Portland Women's club on the site of the proposed structure on Taylor street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets.

Shortly after 3 o'clock Mrs. Charles E. Runyon, president of the club, deftly scooped out the first spadeful of earth and tossed it into a nearby dirt wagon. Applause greeted her action, for the official breaking of ground was symbolic of another step in the transformation of a dream of 20 years among Portland club women into reality.

Mrs. Runyon made a brief address and was followed by Mrs. Ida B. Callahan, president of the State Federation of Women's clubs, Mrs. Sarah Evans, Mrs. F. Egbert and Mrs. M. G. Gilmer, chairman of the club's building committee. Mayor Baker, representing the city administration, paid tribute to the women of Portland and Oregon and congratulated them on the success of the building project.

The proposed building will be headquarters for the Portland Women's club, which was organized 20 years ago, and the use of it will be shared by other women's clubs and organizations. The new structure will have a large auditorium, a dining hall with a capacity of 600 persons, and numerous committee rooms. The ground floor space will be 60x100 feet. The cost of the building will be approximately $50,000.

Inauguration of Lincoln Is Described.
President Grew Weak After Shaking Hands Throughout Day.

A DESCRIPTION of the inauguration of Lincoln as president on March 4, 1865, is given in a letter written at that time by a member of a cavalry regiment stationed in Washington, to his sister. The letter follows:

Headquarters First Squad, Provisional Cavalry, 1st Brigade, V. C., Washington, D. C., March 8, 1865.

Dear Sister: I received your letter and have written sooner, but I had no time to do so. I am very glad to hear about your writing and I am glad to hear that you are all well. I am glad to hear that you are all well. I am glad to hear that you are all well.

Spelling Is No Trouble For Poet Who Doesn't Spell
E. Rohrbach of Hills, Cal., Offers to Write Each Week for The Oregonian and to Show What He Can Do—Submits Poem.

GENIUS is not out. Geoffrey Chaucer, "father of English literature," who was a wicked poet, according to literary experts, but his spelling did not conform to up-to-date requirements. He spelled as the spirit moved him, without regard to customs that were to follow.

Now comes E. Rohrbach, a national poet, and "My Heart is Not for Sale." The poem from Mr. Rohrbach's pencil which has given him at least a temporary place in history, is "My Mind is Whiter My Sweet Heart's." However, Mr. Rohrbach has written other poems, among them being: "Invade all Creatures to doo Your Part," "Feet for Our President," a national song, and "My Heart is Not for Sale."

Mr. Rohrbach has volunteered to write for The Oregonian each week, and the matter is being given consideration. It is seldom that poets—spring or otherwise—break into the news sections of the paper, but with Mr.

FORMAL CANDIDACY ANNOUNCED BY BEAN

Speaker of House Enters Race for Governor.

RECORD IS POINTED OUT

Federated Patriotic Societies Discuss Whether to Indorse Mr. Patterson for Office.

Louis E. Bean of Eugene, speaker of the house of representatives, is a candidate for governor. Speaker Bean made his formal announcement last night, while on his way to Ontario, where he will make his first public appearance as a candidate for the nomination.

Bean was preparing and reading his statement to the press, the 30-odd delegates of the Federated Patriotic societies were in session to decide whether the federation should indorse for governor L. I. Patterson of Polk county, Charles Hall, of Coos county, or George H. Kelly, of Multnomah county. According to reports, the federation expected to reach a decision.

Mr. Bean has been considered as a tentative candidate for several months, but his determination to enter the race was not arrived at until yesterday, while he was in Portland. He stressed the statement that he has made no "pre-election promises" and stands on his record, as shown in the votes of the legislature during the many years of his membership.

Announcement Is Brief.
The announcement made last night was brief, but will be followed later, he explained, by a formal platform. The statement of Mr. Bean follows: "If, by the sovereign will of the electorate, I shall become governor of Oregon, I shall become governor of Oregon in fact as well as in name. I have made no pre-election promises and intend making none other than to the whole people. No man is made over because he is made governor. If the record of his previous life does not reveal his qualifications for office, no promises or declarations for campaign purposes will qualify him."

"For 14 years I have taken an active part in public life as a member of the state legislature. During this time I have served on committees of both the senate and the lower house and as speaker of the house during the two previous sessions.

Record Held Open Book.
"Every vote that I have ever cast upon the thousands of measures that were up for consideration by the legislature during that period is indelibly written on the public record. Every voter who will read my record is an open book. These measures have probably included almost every phase of principle and public policy. It is upon this record that I submit my candidacy."

If I should be honored by being selected to the office of governor, the highest office in the gift of its people, I would be my sincere ambition to prove myself worthy and to work unceasingly for the upbuilding and general welfare of the state, for the happiness and prosperity of its people, and particularly at this time for the early release from the crushing burden of the debt which has been laid about by a delirium of public waste and extravagance.

"I would enter office free from promises or commitments to special interests. I would be in position to give everyone the full measure of justice and equality due to them under our American form of government."

What Rest Will Do Isn't Known.
What Messrs Patterson, Hall, Kelly, and Kelly, will do after their election to reveal. Ben Olcott, incumbent, will be a candidate for re-election. It is surmised, but thus far the governor has made no definite statement.

Train Demolishes Jitney.
ROSEBURG, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—A jitney car was demolished here late last night when it was struck at the lane street crossing by a string of passenger cars which were being switched onto the main line. The jitney was completely destroyed and the driver escaped uninjured.

Bridge Work Is Delayed.
SCIO, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—The bridge over Thompson creek is still in a half finished condition, due to bad weather and lack of material. Replanning was started two weeks ago, and the old boards were relaid when it was found that the new lumber was two feet too short. County Commissioner Tomes said new material would be delivered by the county as soon as weather conditions permit.

Scio Recorder to Resign.
SCIO, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—John Ritchie, city recorder, who has been appointed postmaster, has announced his intention of resigning his city office. The city council will not appoint a successor as his resignation is tendered.

EXECUTIVE OFFICES APPEAR TO NEED RENOVATION BADLY

Shabbiness Causes Unfavorable Comment Among Visitors but It May Be That Changes Will Be Made With Warmer Weather.

BY R. T. S.
(Copyright, 1922, by The Oregonian.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—The executive offices at the White House are becoming distinctly shabby in appearance. Some distinguished visitors recently have commented quietly upon the fact, but the shabbiness has been only too apparent to all. The single story structure, just to the west of the White House proper, are not palatial affairs at best and in their present run-down condition they are particularly unimpressive.

It is difficult to believe that motives of extreme economy can be responsible for neglect of the offices. The executive offices are the most important in the government, and it is not surprising that they are the most prominent in the city. The shabbiness is not only a disgrace to the government, but it is also a disgrace to the city. The shabbiness is not only a disgrace to the government, but it is also a disgrace to the city.

When the federation will indorse a congressional ticket and legislative ticket is not certain. Franklin E. Korell is expected to be the indorsee for representative of the 3d congressional district. Dow W. Walker and Ralph W. Hoyt are supposed to be the prospective indorsees for county commissioner, and the legislative indorsements will include W. W. Banks, Milton M. Klepper and E. C. McFarland for the state senate and W. C. North, William E. Woodward and Captain Horsford for the house of representatives, with more representatives to be indorsed eventually so that there will be a complete ticket for the members of the federation to support.

SEASIDE HOTEL ELECTS
G. O. Madison of Portland to Run Resort This Summer.
SEASIDE, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—The board of directors of the Seaside Hotel company today announced the selection of G. O. Madison of Portland to be manager of the Seaside hotel beginning March 1 next.

Paintings to Be Exhibited.
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 11.—(Special.)—As part of the general plan working toward an art museum for the university an exhibit of 92 paintings by Professor A. Schroff of the fine arts department will be held at the Eugene chamber of commerce beginning February 20. Professor Schroff's exhibit has won much favorable comment in Seattle at the northwest art exhibit. W. K. Newell, superintendent of properties, is making arrangements for the exhibit. This is the first exhibit of its kind to be held here since the war.

Tax Collections to Begin.
ROSEBURG, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Tax collection will begin in Douglas county on February 20, according to an announcement made at the sheriff's office today. The amount of tax to be collected this year is $1,000,000, this being the first time the county tax ever has been more than $1,000,000. Last year the amount levied was $921,353.02.

Severe Storm Sweeps Lakeview.
LAKEVIEW, Or., Feb. 11.—(Special.)—One of the most severe storms in years enveloped this section for 48 hours. Mail service probably will be interrupted for three or four days. Carriers are trying to get tough with lock sacks on horseback and snowshoes.

Mr. Cakes' Name Mentioned.
A development of the week was the infection of the name of William M. Cakes into the campaign. Judge Cakes has not been an active figure in reason public policy of recent years, although formerly he was chairman of

of the Colorado delegates who walked out with Mr. Teller office at one time. "From where we sat to the door of that convention hall was the longest walk I ever took in my life," said "Big Steve." The crowd's humiliation, he added, came from the convention chairman just as the "bolters" had reached the door of the convention hall. "There seems to be a quorum present, so we will proceed to business."

OFFICES ARE VACATED

Normal Glee Club Elects Leaders as Result of Clause.

OREGON NORMAL SCHOOL, Monmouth, Feb. 11.—(Special.)—Many vacancies were caused in practically every organization on the campus as a result of the enforcement of a clause in the student body constitution which provides that no student may hold more than one office at one time. This provision had been overlooked until recently and a strong sentiment arose for its enforcement. The clause was passed by the student body without officers and the following were elected to fill the vacancies: President—Sue Bower of Silverton; vice-president, Jane Gunn of Hermiston; secretary-treasurer, Greta Brumback of Portland.

BANKER TO GET HEARING

California Governor to Decide on Lindeberg Extradition.

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Feb. 11.—A hearing on the request of the authorities of Pierce county, Washington, for the extradition to Tacoma from San Francisco of Jafet Lindeberg, former president of the defunct Scandinavian-American bank of Tacoma, charged with conspiracy in connection with the failure of the bank last summer, will be held before Governor Stephens Thursday, February 16, it was announced today at the governor's office.

Co-Eds Plan April Frolic.
UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, Feb. 11.—(Special.)—The only dance of the year which is not attended by official family, and the Women's League is now laying plans for the affair. Ella Rawlings of Corvallis, president of the league, has appointed the committees for the non-muscular function: Jessie Todd of Eugene, Lenora Cram of Hood River, Sara Lamerson of Portland, Ruth Fowler of Los Angeles, Cal.; Carlotta Howells of Eugene, Jane Campbell of Eugene, Margaret Scott of Portland, Ellen McVough of Merrill, Velma Rupert of Eugene, Miriam Swartz of Jefferson, Lillian Auld of Eugene, Norma Wilton of Portland, Mary Alexander of Portland.
