Term Reception for New Pupils Is Pleasing Event at James Jones, While Lincoln First-Termers Play Hosts—Student Bodies Hold Elections.

Lincoln High Play Cast Is Selected.

Seniors Begin Work on "Tailor-Made Man"—Hi-Y Members Enjoy Lively "Stage Party."

BY ROBERT L. GARDNER.

The cast for the June '22, class play, "A Tailor-Made Man," has been named. Those chosen for the parts are: Bill Hart as Mr. Huber; Robert Gardner, Mr. Rowlands; Hubert Brown, Peter; Joe Lipschutz, Dr. Gustavus Sonntag; Elinor Wright, Mrs. Wagner; Gladys Taylor, John Paul; Bart; Maurice; Tal; Pomero; Marion Kamusker, Mrs. Stanton; Otto Mauthe, Mr. Stanlaw; Etta Robin, Corinne Stanlaw; Jean Starwater, explaining; Leslie Lumber, Bobby West; James Englehart, Mr. Fleming; Francis Cleaver, Mr. Crane; Lancelotti, Mr. Carroll; Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Russell; Charles Colistro, Mr. Cain; Samuel Swol, Mr. Flynn; Grace Harlow, society girl.

Moses Tonkon was appointed business manager of the play. The cast held its first rehearsal Thursday and a rehearsal successful. The exact date for the play has not been set, but it probably will be given the first week in April. Members of the Lincoln Hi-Ys enjoyed a splendid "stag party" given Wednesday at the Y. C. A. committee, composed of Gracie Sutherland, chairman, Jerome Kinkead, and Veryl Flynn, made arrangements for the party.

The committee also provided a good program. The boxing bouts between Ben Lombard and Allan Schmeer and Joyce Albert and Hugh Wagner, the basketball game between Louis Hawk and Roy Hawk produced some delightful harmony on their guitars. Wesley McPherson, Wallace Brown, Gladys Taylor, and their saxophones and Ray Mosier at the piano gave several jazz numbers. The Hi-Y alumni turned out in force and produced an interesting program of stunts to the enjoyment of all. Refreshments were served during the evening.

At a recent business meeting it was decided that the Hi-Ys will give a moving picture show in the Lincoln auditorium. The show will be given for the benefit of a school paper, the Cardinal. Those appointed to look into the matter are: Earl Flynn, chairman, Moses Tonkon, Joyce Albert, Phil Sheridan and Foster McNair.

The Science club has reorganized this term and has adopted a new name. Hereafter it will be called the Epistol. The aim of the club is to promote the interest of science in the school. The officers that will preside this term are: George Hill, president; Fern Allen, secretary; Donald L. Mont, secretary-treasurer; Robert Holzer, editor. At a recent meeting the members had an interesting discussion of the proposed bridge over the Hudson river. All members of the club stated their opinions on the subject.

The freshmen of Lincoln held a reception last Friday. The students had as guests their parents and friends. A very delightful program was given. Marion Look gave a piano solo. A fairy dance by Elinor Winders was enjoyed. The freshmen quartet, consisting of Virginia Tuttle, Gladys Davis, Alice Lidburg and Boyd Williams Henry, sang a number of songs. Peggy Cooperhanger gave a pleasing recitation. The club also had several selections on the cornet. Marion Look and her sister gave a quaint Irish dance.

The Art Appreciation club is to have an interesting meeting next Wednesday. The question to be discussed will be "The Art of the Future." There are a number of fine Greek reproductions in the school, the discussion promises to be a good one.

The results of the Philo entertainment for new members is very marked. At the usual member election meeting a large number of girls were chosen for membership. Those elected were: Grace Boyd, Hortense Burkhardt, Grace Coyle, Regina Darr, Elizabeth Doney, Irene Hawkin, Marion, Caroline Miller, Doris Oberdorfer, Madeline Stabler and Elizabeth Ward. On Friday, at the home of Kay Hart, the newly elected members were initiated. This is one of the big Philo events of the term.

A number of new books of interest have recently been added to the history department shelves in the library. They include "Ambassador Morgenthau's Story" by Henry Ford; "The Slave," by Weis, and "An Economic Interpretation of the Constitution of the United States," by Beard.

Furnishing of Apartment Is Problem.

BY KATHLEEN SHAW AND HARRIET BOLLEN. How to furnish a three-room apartment with $200 is the problem upon which the fourth-term domestic science classes are working. The rooms have to be fully furnished economically yet tastefully for two people.

Attractive wool dresses are being made by the third-term girls in room 12. The dresses are of different materials, such as serge, French crepe, etc., and are made in a variety of styles.

The music club is practicing hard under the direction of Miss Minetta Mager for the auditorium concert to be given on Sunday, March 12. Several selections will be given by the chorus and the quartet will sing.

Despite the cold weather, a hike to Oswego lake was enjoyed by a party of girls from the school on Wednesday, February 22. Upon reaching the lake the girls built a huge campfire, in which they toasted "wienies" and marshmallows.

The first meeting of the third-term class was held Thursday, February 23. Mrs. Page was elected class adviser and officers were nominated as follows: President, Esther Jorquist, Vera Mitchell, Helen Hugel and Jenn Ott; vice-president, Agnes Duncan and Viola Bassi.

A trip to the Art museum was enjoyed by the industrial art class, under the supervision of Miss Fiskin. The exhibit owned by Mr. Lewis. As it was the first trip to the museum for many of the girls, they thoroughly enjoyed the trip, especially the especially pleased with oriental colorings.

The Celeste chorus, glee club and band have been asked to take part in the Easter services, to be held in the school auditorium. The Celeste chorus will also sing at a Kiwanis club luncheon in the near future.

Last Monday evening Mr. Ingram was presented with one of the chorus pins, a gold harp with Celeste on the scroll and the name of the club. The January '22 class is busy making final arrangements for the class picnic. It has selected Japanese buns and henna as class colors. Ted Waggoner has been elected editor for the class.

Virgil Hodges has appointed aides to assist him as chief of the fire squad. They are: Battalion chiefs, Fletcher Johnson, John Stimpson; firemen, Freda Golden, Edna Johnson; captain, Jack Griffith; third captain, Wade Hampton; basement captain, Maurice Kinzel; attic captain, Bud Pearson.

The Pack club met Tuesday noon to discuss the program for the coming year. The program was given by Vernet Rissel Ward, Chester Arnold and Ted Hewitt were chosen. The membership of the club is full at present and no new members will be taken in until April.

Many of the students are living in eager anticipation of next Tuesday, when the report cards will be out. Parker Brannin, June '22 class editor, has appointed the following to assist him in the publication of the class paper: Editor, Margaret Sykes; business manager, Fletcher Johnson; assistant business manager, Nina McCorr; advertising manager, George Joseph; managing editor, Rodney Keating; office boy, Taylor Treese.

Due to the siege of grip and influenza in the city many of the teachers and students have been absent from school. At present about 200 are on the absentee list. An assembly was held Wednesday morning. Mr. Ingram, head of the music department of the school, led the assembly in singing well-known songs. Owing to the large enrollment only half the school may go to assemblies at one time.

James Jones, high school student body, organized as a council, has as its officers the youths shown above.

STUDENTS SELECTED TO EDIT VARIOUS DEPARTMENTS OF SENIORS' ISSUE. Typing Records Made.

BY HENRY L. ZWINGLE. AT THE regular meeting of the June class on Tuesday students were elected to edit various class articles for the senior issue of the Ledger. Maxine Martin will write the history; Charles Lundy, the will; Queenie Stroup, the prophecy; John Budelman, the class poem; Louise Jacobson, class song; and Bruno Korhonen, the class yell. The seniors will sponsor a cream puff sale Thursday.

At a special meeting of the June class, during the morning after school, Mrs. Wade, dean of girls, advised the girls and made several suggestions regarding the graduation dresses. As a result the class voted for cotton dresses. Sweet peas will be carried by the graduates.

The past week has been a strenuous one for every Commercialian. Tests, covering the first quarter's work, called for extra effort on the part of the students and faculty as well. Report cards will be ready some time next week.

At a meeting of the Ledger staff, held on Friday, definite plans were made for the April issue of the Ledger. Lee Whitling conducted the clever Ching Lee department for the past year, was elected as an assistant in the personal department.
