Civil law, however, is not the only kind with kinks in it. The immigra-

kind with kinks in it. The immigra-tion law is accordion-pleated. Take for example, Mrs. Chana Novak, who became so broken up by war-time sufferings in Poland that the author-ities refused to let her enter the country. The bureau ordered depor-tation. Mrs. Novak is the wife of a Brooklyn rabbi; her 2-months-old daughter is an American citizen and cumnot be deported. What can you do cannot be deported. What can you do in a case like that?
