

GOMPERS' APPEAL REJECTED BY UNIONS

Proposal to Take Back Carpenters Turned Down.

PEACE EFFORTS FAILURE

Early Meeting of Building Trades to Be Called in Chicago to Save U. S. Industry.

CINCINNATI, O., June 10.—(By the Associated Press.)—By rejecting a recommendation submitted by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, the building trades department of the federation here today refused to call on the national board of jurisdictional relations to propose a decision, made against the carpenters' union, which was proposed as the means of winning the carpenters back to the membership in the department.

Coupled with this action, which was taken by the chief officers of the 15 unions composing the department at its annual meeting, was the unanimous adoption of a motion affirming the support of the jurisdictional board. This board is composed of representatives of the building industry and charged with the settlement of disputes between various union crafts.

Notice is hereby given, in accordance with the recommendation of Mr. Gompers, that in substance provided that when a rehearing in a dispute between the carpenters and the metal trades has been ordered, that the carpenters would automatically become part of the department. President John Donlin of the department, in presenting the motion which was adopted, said the question was that "we non-concur in the recommendation of Mr. Gompers to invite the carpenters back, reopen the case and suspend the decision."

The action of the convention came as a climax of a session that began with consideration of proposals, which were adopted, for bringing peace to the building industry. With the view of ending the turmoil in Chicago, which has been heard since the Leland wage award, the convention directed an early meeting of all union presidents in the building trades to be held in Chicago "until the situation is cleared up."

Mr. Gompers in referring to the Chicago situation said organized labor should abide by any judgment to which its word had been given, but he added that he preferred repudiation to lack of unity among the trades.

The Chicago situation, said Frank Feeney of the elevator constructors union, "threatens to disrupt the building industry throughout the United States."

Chicago Meeting Date Set. July 20 was set by the union presidents for opening their Chicago meeting. It was said they would probably continue several weeks.

Two other steps toward promoting harmony were the adoption of President Donlin's recommendation that the union chiefs hold quarterly meetings to settle all disputes arising between crafts and also his recommendation favoring the department joining the national building council, composed of representatives of all branches of the industry. Mr. Donlin's proposal for the holding of a board of union chiefs, vested with the responsibility of calling strikes, was not considered at the meeting.

While the carpenters, who form one of the largest labor unions of the country, belong to the federation, they have not been affiliated with the building department for the last year on account of the jurisdictional board decision that the installation of metal doors and room trimmings was to be done by the metal trades union.

Mr. Gompers, in presenting the proposal to bring reaffiliation of the carpenters with the department, said the recommendation was framed at conferences of the union chiefs and the executive committee of the department and representatives of the carpenters. He added that the action of the jurisdictional board once approved the recommendation and withdrew their approval.

Architects Shook Gompers. In this connection he attacked the board, suggesting the withdrawal of the department from the board unless the architects' association reverse a decision for the "open shop" or withdraw its members from the board. The attitude of the architects, taken at Chicago last Thursday, was declared by Mr. Gompers to be a "shock" to labor officials and he asserted he could not ask carpenters to place their case before a body that declares for the "open shop." He blamed the action of the Architects' association for making "all our efforts futile" to bring about a settlement with the carpenters.

TRUE'S RECORD TRAGEDY

BRITISH LORD IMITATED BY ARMY OFFICER.

Man Who Won Reprieve From Gallows for Murder Convicted for Forgery in California.

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10.—Major Ronald True, whose reprieve from the gallows for murder brought a storm of protest from the British press yesterday, posed as Lord Freyne, stepson of Lord Glen Falloch of Scotland, when he served a 15-month federal sentence in the Alameda, Cal. county jail in 1915 for forging stolen postal money orders.

British newspapers freely intimated that True was the son of one of the most noted gentlemen of the English nobility, but True's identity has been withheld by the British authorities. He was tried for the murder of Gertrude Yates in London three weeks ago and was saved from hanging by commitment to a hospital for the criminal insane.

The facts of his conviction and sentence in Alameda, across the bay from San Francisco, were brought to light by William Madiera, post-office inspector, who traced True in the flight from the Pacific coast to New Orleans, where he was arrested for the theft and forgery of money orders. Comparison of photographs of the English felon first sentenced to be hanged with those of True taken here completed the identification.

At the time of his conviction here he claimed right to the title, the Honorable Arthur Reginald Freyne, otherwise Lord De Freyne of French Park, County Roscommon, Ireland, a scion of fortune, according to the officer who trailed him from here to New Orleans.

"He had been army officer, sheep rancher in Africa, aviator in Brazil, member of the royal mounted police and while here in San Francisco he had held at prize fighting," Madiera said.

"He was sought for passing a forged $50 money order on a San Francisco Hotel," Madiera said. When he left San Francisco, Madiera said, True left in his hotel room a belt such as worn by the royal Canadian mounted police, an organization the federal officer said True had deserted just before coming to San Francisco. The belt served to identify him and aided the federal authorities in their capture of True.

On his discharge after his 15-month sentence here he left for Hongkong early in 1915, Madiera said, with the announced intention of enlisting in the British army. If the recruiting authorities would take him.

An interesting comparison of the present day mode of travel and that of the plains was pointed out by Collier. # TRUCKS SHOT DEAD

TONG ARMISTICE LETTER ARRIVES TOO LATE.

Astoria Woman Sees Shooting by Two Gunmen Who Manage to Make Escape.

ASTORIA, Or., June 10.—(Special.)—About ten minutes before a delivery of an armistice letter that an armistice had been arranged in the tong warfare, Selig Yoo, manager and part owner of a grocery store at the corner of Sixth and Bond streets and a member of the Sing-Song tong, was shot and killed this morning by two strange Chinese, supposedly members of the Hip Sing tong.

The shooting was witnessed by Miss Mildred Rongstad, who was walking along Bond street and was about 150 feet from the scene of the tragedy. She said two Chinamen, one tall and wearing dark clothes, the other short and wearing blue overalls, stepped up to the door and peered in at Selig Yoo, who was apparently preparing to open his store. The shorter Chinaman, Miss Rongstad said, carried a paper bag in his right hand. Suddenly he fired four or five shots through the glass in the door, his revolver evidently being concealed in the paper sack.

The other man then fired two shots at the victim and the two assassins walked away, throwing their revolvers into the yard at the rear of the store building. The last seen of the gunmen was when they disappeared in the thick undergrowth on the hillside, although a thorough search of the district was later made by the police and men from the sheriff's office.

Four bullets entered the body of Selig Yoo, one of them piercing his heart. He was 55 years of age, had resided in Astoria about 20 years and left a family residing in China. All Lee, a member of the Hip Sing tong, had another Chinaman who would not give his name, were arrested tonight by State Traffic Officers Thurbur, Griffith and Wiles at the Youngs bay bridge. Both were heavily armed but Miss Rongstad said they were not the men. Wong Jim, known locally as "Murphy" and an officer of the local Hip Sing tong, also were in custody pending an investigation.
