OLYMPIA, Wash., June 17 .- (Special.)-A forest fire which started late in May on the Coweeman river, ten miles east of Kelso, tonight was still raging unchecked in green timer and was doing heavy damage. F. E. Pape, supervisor of forestry, was advised the fire has ravaged about 1000 acres of timber, including much small second-growth timber. Cowies, in which the heaviest loss is sus-

The fire was not reported by settlers when it first started and was far beyond control when the fire-fighting crew was sent in. A large crew has fought the fire for two weeks without materially checking it, Mr. Pape said.

PECULIAR FLORA FOUND

Professor Sweetser Gets Specimens of Larkspur and Arabis.

UNIVERSITY OF OREGON, Eugene, June 17.—(Special.)—Professor A. R. Sweetser, head of the botany department, has returned to the campus after a month spent near Kerby and Waldo in Josephine county in classification of southern Oregon flora with two unusual spectors. Oregon flora with two unusual spec-Imens. A red larkspur, which is fa-miliar as a bluish flower, and a 5 A. M. 83 per cent; noon, 48 per cent; purple arabis, which as seen in other 5 P. M., 24 per cent. places in Oregon has always been yellow, are the two specimens, Paintings of 26 flowers in natural color were made by Mrs. Sweetser on the trip. Although it was cold the plant life was found in abundance and of such characteristic types as to show that the region in the Kerby quadrangle has a peculiar flora of its own.

GOLD BOND UNDER FOOT

Dancers Kick Around Over Floor
$10,000 Security.

OCEAN PARK, Cal., June 17.—
Dancing on gold was actually indulged in by those who attended the dance at the Ocean park ballroom on Wednesday night—but they did not know it.

The couples danced on and kicked around a $10,000 gold bond on the First National bank of Oklahoma City. J. W. Petticost of Oklahoma City bat the bond while attending the dance.

Somewhere between here and Oklahoma City be discovered his loss, and telegraphed his friend George W. Leihy of Los Angeles. The $10,000 gold bond, a little worse for wear, was turned over to Mr. Leihy. It was found by a janitor the morning after the dance.
