Miss Mary Helen Spalding, hostess at luncheon.

Mrs. Frank McCrillis, chairman of women's committee for the Rose Festival.

Mrs. W. B. Mackay, hostess at bridge and dinner.

Miss Mary Kay, who has returned from school in the East.

ALL OF PORTLAND will pay homage to Queen Harriet this week. Beginning with Tuesday, when the royal barge will bear her highness to Rosaria, all activities will have as their inspiration the rose queen and her eight charming princesses. Miss Harriet Griffith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin T. Griffith, will be a beautiful queen. She is of medium height and has heavy dark, curly hair, but better than that she is a real, unspoiled girl who will truly represent the city. The eight princesses, daughters of prominent families, are Miss Janet House, Miss Elizabeth Ellinger, Miss Alice Bowman, Miss Edith Ottenheimer, Miss Margaret Cook, Miss Pauline Pitua, Miss Mary Helen Spalding and Miss Doris Henningsen. The coronation of the queen will take place at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon and will be followed by the official opening of the rose show, festival center, and the sports-tourist show at the armory. Society maids will have an opportunity to show their latest and most summery frocks at these events. The combined effect of pretty maids in pretty frocks and the thousands of exquisite roses will be like a single bouquet of a thousand colors. Flowers and sunshine will be reflected in the dainty exceptions of exceptionally attractive and unique clothes of Portland's maids and matrons.

Lovers of sport are looking forward to Wednesday, "Regatta day." Admiral Roy T. Bishop will be master of ceremonies and will be guest of honor at the admiral's ball in the evening at the Multnomah hotel. The speed boat races and water carnival will be the occasion for the girls to don their jaunty sports costumes, and—the weather permitting—it should be a gala day.

Thursday is army and navy day. In prominence will be the group of naval officers from the battleship Connecticut and the six destroyers from Bremerton. They will be among the honored guests at the Royal Rosarian ball at Cottillon hall that night. Seven hundred attractive invitations were sent out by the committee in charge, and it will be formal. The dance is given under the patronage of Governor and Mrs. B. W. Olcott, Mayor and Mrs. George

L. Baker, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dundore, Mr. and Mrs. Eric V. Hauser, Mr. and Mrs. Otto W. Melike, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Webster Talbot. Of course Queen Harriet and her court will be the feted guests. In evidence will be Prince of Rosaria, Eric V. Hauser, and Crown Prince Frank McCrillis and Duke of the realm, W. J. Hofmann. Dean Vincent, C. C. Colt, Frank E. Smith and E. J. Jaeger. The privy council consists of J. H. Dundore, prima minister; Dr. Edward Allen Pierce, lord high chancellor; O. C. Bortzmeier, secretary of state; Robert Krohn, captain of the guard; C. J. Mathis, lord high chamberlain; O. W. Melike, prince of Rosaria; John M. Saarl, lord high sheriff; Frank V. Smith, master of the wardrobe; R. A. Stewart, lord chief justice; Walter D. Whitcomb, secretary of foreign affairs; J. C. Boyer, director of arts and crafts.

The floor committee for the ball consists of Robert Krohn, chairman; E. V. Littfield, George W. Herron, W. J. Roopa, Winthrop Hammond and H. J. Blaeting.

"Floral pageant day," Friday, will witness the one and only parade of the festival. It is rumored that some prominent society women who have not participated before are entering with exceptionally attractive and unique floats.

The most interesting guest during festival week will be Miss Alice M. Robertson, the only woman member of congress, and personal representative of President and Mrs. Harding. It will be an honor and great pleasure to welcome the illustrious guest who is not only a brilliant personality, but also a charming and lovely woman.

Tomorrow Mrs. Richard Milford Blatchford, wife of General Blatchford, will give a tea in her honor at the Vancouver post. Over 100 invitations have been sent to Portland and Vancouver society women. At 4 o'clock troops of the 50th infantry with Colonel William H. Jordan as regimental commander, will pass in review before Miss Robertson and General Blatchford and staff.

The past week has been important in a social way because of the announcement of the engagements of Daryl Klein, and was received with interest because of the popularity of the bride-elect and the betrothal of Miss Jean Meier to Daryl Klein, and was received with interest because of the popularity of the bride-elect and the betrothal of Miss Jean Meier to and Mrs. Garry C. Nickerson have announced the engagement of their daughter, Clea, to Roscoe G. Ashley, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. M. Ashley. Both young people have a host of friends and are socially prominent. The bride-elect has the reputation of being attractive, charming and very worth-while.

House guests have provided the inspiration for a number of teas, dinners and other informal affairs this week. Miss Anita Levy of San Francisco was charmingly entertained by her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Frank, Mrs. John C. Spencer of San Francisco was honored at luncheon by Mrs. L. Ward White. Mrs. H. H. Buffum of Boston was feted at a tea by Mrs. Elliot Habersham and Mrs. John K. Dudley. Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Crumpacker are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Crumpacker of Hammond, Ind. Mr. and Mrs. Ernest G. Swigert had as guests Mr. and Mrs. Henry Turlich of Duluth.

Wednesday, June 21, has been chosen by two attractive girls as the date of their weddings. Miss Mary Warrack will marry Lieutenant Wilbur M. Lockhart, U. S. N., and Miss Miriam Reed will be wed to James Forrest Cobb, Jr. Another approaching wedding is that of Miss Dorothy Sanford to Leonard D. Wilson. These three brides-to-be are being extensively feted by their many friends.

Miss Edith Ottenheimer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Ottenheimer, was hostess at a delightful luncheon Monday when the engagement of Miss Katherine Sellar and Laurence Dickson of San Francisco was announced. Fifteen prominent young girls were included in the guest list. The table was beautified by a large basket of pink sweet peas at one end, flanked by tiny vases of flowers leading to a miniature doll's wedding party. Dainty cards bore the names of the engaged couple.

Miss Sellar is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick M. Sellar and is a popular and attractive girl with musical accomplishments. She attended Mills college for two years and is finishing at Wellesley. Mr. Dickson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Dickson of San Francisco and a brother of Mrs. Sanford Longworth of Portland. He is a graduate of the University of California and is in business with his father in the south. The wedding will be an event of the early fall.

Miss Anita Levy of San Francisco, who visited her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Frank, was honored at several smart parties. Mrs. Frank gave a luncheon for 12 guests Tuesday and a supper party at Crown Point chateau last week-end. Miss Levy made a host of friends during her stay in the city.

The most important tea since the affair given Lady Geddes at the Waverley Country clubhouse is tomorrow's entertainment in honor of Miss Alice M. Robertson, the only woman representative in congress. Mrs. Richard M. Blatchford, wife of General Blatchford, has asked Mrs. H. T. Mayo, wife of Admiral Mayo, and Mrs. Clarence E. Dentler, wife of Colonel Dentler, to preside at the tea table. Assisting in serving will be Mrs. George Mayo, Mrs. Richard Park, Mrs. Keith Wise, Mrs. Everett Prouty, Mrs. Horace Heath, Mrs. Hubert Miller, Mrs. Julius Bischof, Miss Area Weeden, Miss Anna Wheeler, Miss Elizabeth Hatley and Miss Gladys Dunne.

Miss Cornelia Cook is chairman of the committee arranging private car entries for the grand floral parade. She is being assisted by Mrs. Walter T. Sumner, Mrs. David T. Henwayman, Mrs. Robert Schindler and Mrs. J. Sherman O'Gorman.

Guy Webster Talbot has made plans for a beautiful floral show. Among the prominent Portlanders who plan to have displays are Mrs. William MacMaster, Mrs. Peter Kerr, Mrs. H. T. Corbett, Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth and Dr. A. E. Rockey.

Mrs. Frank McCrillis, chairman of the woman's committee, has been busy planning the social activities of Queen-Elect Harriet, who has been extensively feted since her election to this honored position.

One of the most brilliant and formal social events of the season will be the complimentary concert which
