Miss Dorothy Blackley Who Has Just Returned From School in Los Angeles.

Miss Martha Hennrich Whose Engagement Was Announced at a Luncheon.

Miss Marie Arpin, Engaged to Wilbur Rhoades.

Many students were present and Thomas Green of Portland, classmate of Mr. King, was best man. Miss Emphrey is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Emphrey of Palo Alto, Cal. Mr. King is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. King of Portland, who, with their daughter, Mrs. Ronald M. Lockwood, attended the wedding.

After a short visit at the Emphrey home Mr. and Mrs. C. S. King will come to Portland, arriving about June 24. They will be the guests of Mr. King's parents for a few days before departing for the C. W. King summer home on the Columbia highway, where they will spend their honeymoon.

The wedding of Miss Julie Murphy and John Edward Fineran of St. Louis took place Monday morning at 7 o'clock in the Church of the Ascension, with Father Thompson officiating. Preceding the ceremony Mrs. Paul Denbie Mackie (Nona Lawler) of Seattle sang. The bride wore a stunning gown of white georgette crepe with soft drapes at the sides and a large picture hat. Her flowers were bride's roses and lilies of the valley. Miss Florence Murphy of Seattle, her attendant, was gowned in coral georgette, which was set off by a black tulle hat and a large bouquet of Ophelia roses. Ben Dorrie of Eugene was best man. Members of the bridal party and a few intimate friends were guests at the wedding breakfast at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Sinnott. Mr. and Mrs. Fineran left for St. Louis, Mo., where they will make their home, and will stop en route in Vancouver and Victoria, B. C., and Lake Louise. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mary Murphy and the late Denis Murphy. She attended the university of Washington, where she was a member of Chi Omega. She is a talented esthetic dancer and has taken part in a number of society entertainments.

With the coming of vacation days, thoughts of the school children turn toward the beach and mountains. Many parents are planning to send their children to summer camps, which promise to be more popular this year than ever before. The Y. W. C. A. camp at Clackamas will be known as "Rock Creek Camp," and will be in session from July 1 to September 1. In charge will be Miss Ethel Mitchell, Miss Mildred Fox, Miss Mabel Byrd, Mrs. J. M. Rhaw and Miss Clara Gauer. It will be open to members of the high school and grammar school girl reserves.

Camp Coho, at Pilot point, on Puget sound, Washington, will be the destination of a number of Portland girls. It is being planned by Miss Sally Beck, sister of Mrs. Ernest F. Tucker. Miss Ruth Pringle is chaperone for a group of girls who left yesterday and Miss Lucille Bronough will motor up to Seattle and take the boat from there to the camp. Miss Beck and Miss Frances Rocchi have been installed at the camp for the last two weeks and have everything in readiness for the arrival of the girls. Among those who will be enrolled are Katherine Talbot, Jean Wright, Olivia Shepard, Mary Louise Burpee, Mary Elizabeth Wheeler, Helen Baird of Newberg and Mary Dudley of Aberdeen, Wash.

The summer camp of Hill Military academy at Long Beach is of interest to many of the younger boys, and several sons of prominent families will be enrolled.

Miss Constance Piper and her guest, Miss Helen Stover of New York city, will be the motive for informal tea on Tuesday afternoon, at which Mrs. Maurice H. Barnes (Geraldine Courson) will be hostess.

One of the delightful receptions of the week was that given by Mrs. Edwin E. Heckbert for Mrs. Harold McCracken, a recent June bride. The tables, which were set among a profusion of flowers, were presided over by Mrs. Winthrop Hammond, Mrs. Russell E. Sewall, Mrs. Robert W. Wilson and Mrs. Roscoe R. Gilmer. Mary Lawrence Heckbert, the pretty little daughter of the hostess, welcomed the guests at the door.

Miss Katherine Alford, Whose Engagement Was Announced at a Luncheon.

entertained by Mr. and Mrs. Hart, who gave a dinner dance at the Portland and another dinner at Forest hall. Mrs. Ashmun was Miss Rilla Jordan of Seattle and her wedding took place in that city on June 5 at the home of her mother, Mrs. W. J. Stratton. Mr. Ashmun is connected with the Standard Oil company in the state of Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Revel Lindsey English and their guest, Miss Polly Gerts of Chicago, who have been visitors in Portland, motored to Seattle Friday. They will return to California by way of boat.

Rev. and Mrs. A. A. Morrison have returned from a motor trip in British Columbia, where they attended the golf tournament.

Miss Dorothy Effinger is the house guest of her aunts, the Misses Flanders. Miss Effinger, who is from California, will be at a picnic on the highway on Monday.

Mrs. Maylon E. Scott and her little son, Maylon Jr., who have been the house guests of Mrs. Scott's parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. T. Strain, left last week to join her husband, Lieutenant Scott, at Camp Lewis, where he is stationed for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Ainsworth and their daughter, Miss Katherine Ainsworth, are passing several weeks at the Hotel Chatham in New York city.

Miss Elizabeth Bacon has returned to Portland after an extended visit in the east.

Miss Frances Nendel became the bride of Harold E. Lindsey last Wednesday night at 8 o'clock at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Nendel. Rev. Harold Griffin performed the ceremony before a few friends and relatives. Miss Betty Brink played the wedding march. The bride was attractive in a simple white satin gown with filmy white veil caught with orange blossoms. Her flowers were lilies of the valley, sweet peas and Ophelia roses. The matron of honor, Mrs. Gertrude Wyde, wore a dainty flowered organdy dress and carried sweet peas. Edward Lindsey attended his brother.

An informal reception followed the ceremony. The rooms were decorated in sweet peas and roses. Miss Norma Carlson and Miss Goida Baker assisted in serving.

The bride is a former student of Reed college and has a large circle of friends among the collegiate set. Mr. Lindsey attended the University of Oregon, where he belonged to Phi Gamma Delta. He is associated in business with the American Can company.

Harry Nicolai motored to Coronado and has brought his family back. Mrs. Nicolai and her son Ned had been there for some months, while her daughter Nancy attended the Bishop school at La Jolla. They arrived Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ladd Corbett will entertain with a smart dinner preceding the symphony concert. Their guests will include Mr. and Mrs. James B. Kerr, Mr. and Mrs. William MacMaster, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Wilcox, Mr. and Mrs. L. Allen Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas D. Honeyman and Miss Lois Steers.

Mrs. Jack White will entertain with a bridge tea on Monday afternoon complementing Mrs. F. C. Crumpacker, the house guest of Mrs. Maurice E. Crumpacker.

Miss Constance Piper and her guest, Miss Helen Stover of New York city, will be the motive for informal tea on Tuesday afternoon, at which Mrs. Maurice H. Barnes (Geraldine Courson) will be hostess.

—Imported gingham.
 —If women enthused over the original display of the $6.95 sale, what will they do now?
 —In all New York there were none prettier. We have our eastern buyer's word for it. He shopped the wash dress market from side to side—and just look!
 —A maze of pretty styles in gingham!
 —Some cut this way, some cut that, a medley of trim ideas that baffle our ability as descriptionists.
 —We will say, however, that dainty touches of sheer white were never more artfully employed to garnish checks of gingham—adapting so many smart touches to sash, pocket, cuff or rever.
 —Depend upon Peterson's and you will save good money on the best.
