

COUNTRY IS FACED BY COAL SHORTAGE

Strike Cuts Surplus Supply to Near Danger Point.

BUYERS AWAIT RATE CUT

Non-Union Bituminous Mines
Said to Be Breaking Production
Record, but Piles Dwindle.

BY HARDEN COLFAX.
(Copyright, 1932, by The Oregonian.)
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—(Special.)—The coal strike, almost forgotten by the public until the blizzards in Illinois and West Virginia brought it forcibly to mind, has resulted during the 12 weeks of its life in cutting down available stock piles to within 12,000,000 tons of the danger line, according to reports to the geological survey and the department of commerce. These agencies estimated that the industry of the country can continue operations at their present rate for about four weeks more, and will then have to curtail operations to a basis of four or five days a week, generally because of the approaching coal shortage, now regarded as certain.

The first pinch has been felt already by manufacturers in New Jersey, according to reports to the employment service of the department of labor. In that state, according to reports, employers already have been compelled to curtail their operations somewhat because of the fuel scarcity.

Anthracite Mines Slowed Down.
Figures of the geological survey show that since the beginning of the coal year, April 1, anthracite mines have produced only a few thousand tons of coal. During that period they usually mine, on the average, about 20,000,000 tons, or nearly one-quarter of the year's requirements. The anthracite mines have only 40 weeks in which to mine the customary 52 weeks' supply. Going at top capacity, coal workers' forces and full coal supply, the geological survey figures show they cannot perform the task because of physical inability.

In the bituminous industry, non-union miners are working at a rate never equaled before. They are producing between five million and six million tons a week. Last Wednesday, when a total of 17,000 carsloads was exceeded, was the greatest producing day ever attained in those fields. This week's non-union production, it is estimated, will approximate 5,000,000 tons—the highest on record. That tonnage compares with a weekly consumption of between 3,000,000 and 3,500,000 tons.

Purchases Are Delayed.
The situation in the bituminous industry is remarkable, as it presents a situation never paralleled by it before. With the prospect of an almost certain shortage, industrial coal consumers are delaying their purchases until the last possible moment. There are 200,000 tons of coal on hand now at Hampton Roads, clogging the transportation facilities, awaiting the day when rates go down. Then it will begin to move to New England. In addition there are 200,000 tons more on the way to Hampton Roads.

In Alabama there is so much non-union coal on hand that the bottom of the market is being kept open. The interstate commerce commission's recent order permitting Alabama coal to travel into the Chicago market at a competitive freight rate has been a godsend to the coal trade. The Birmingham market is still overvalued. The northwest is reported to have obtained about 6,000,000 tons via the Lakes—about the normal movement of coal in the season—and New England apparently is holding out for the lower rates, markets there being comparatively quiet.

Transportation Is Difficult.
Transportation difficulties have beset the non-union fields of Southwest Virginia and Eastern Kentucky this week, and about 1,000,000 cars of production has been lost therefrom. The railroads in these sections have been overextended with traffic recently. This week it became a question of track capacity to contain the coal. Sidings and main lines became jammed with loaded coal cars, it was reported here, in excess of the lines' ability to handle them. The situation, however, is being smoothed out.

Extremely active markets were reported in the middle west, with buyers reported eager for good grades with an insufficiency of supply.

Geological survey estimates placed coal stocks at about 63,000,000 tons of bituminous on April 1. Since the survey estimates that the stockpile has been reduced to about 32,000,000 tons, the survey estimates the difference between consumption and non-union production.

Safety Zone Threatened.
Allowing for 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 tons of coal in transit April 1, the survey estimates that the stockpile has been reduced to about 32,000,000 tons, or by considerably more than 50 per cent. Minimum of safety stocks are placed by the bureau at about 20,000,000 tons.

While industrial distress has been averted thus far, officials are somewhat apprehensive for the coming two weeks. They anticipate a general rush of orders after July 1, when freight rates drop 10 per cent. They are prepared to assist consumers in buying coal in the department of commerce is rendering much assistance actively at this time, but is certain that at the present rates of non-union production there is nearing the limit, there soon will be an insufficient supply to go around. Meantime there is little prospect for early strike settlement.

RHEUMATISM

Left Him As If By Magic!

Had Suffered Over 50 Years! Now 83 Years, Yet a Big Surprise To Friends

Regains Strength Goes Out Fishing Back to Business Laughs at "URIC ACID"

How the "Inner Mysteries" Reveals Startling Facts Overlooked By Doctors and Scientists For Centuries

I am eighty-three years old and I doctored for rheumatism every day until I could almost die. I have been told that "URIC ACID" causes rheumatism. I have tried every remedy known to man, but I could not get rid of it. I was in pain all the time. I was unable to walk without pain. My hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now, as if by magic, I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at this change.

HOW IT HAPPENED.
Mr. Ashelman is only one of thousands who suffered for years, owing to the general belief in the old, false theory that "URIC ACID" causes rheumatism. He writes: "I have been told that 'URIC ACID' causes rheumatism. I have tried every remedy known to man, but I could not get rid of it. I was in pain all the time. I was unable to walk without pain. My hands were so sore and stiff I could not hold a pen. But now, as if by magic, I am again in active business and can walk with ease or write all day with comfort. Friends are surprised at this change."

NOTE: If any reader of The Oregonian wishes the book that reveals the truth regarding the true cause and cure of rheumatism, facts that were overlooked by doctors and scientists for centuries, please simply send a postcard or letter to H. P. Clearwater, 210 N. Street, Hallowell, Maine, and it will be sent by return mail with no charge whatever. Cut out this notice and send it to a sufferer yourself, hand this good news to some afflicted friend.
