

FRESH OUTBREAKS IN MINES EXPECTED

Massacre Declared Likely to Be Re-enacted.

REGRET FOUND LACKING

Officials of Williamson County
Said to Have No Support in Making Inquiry.

CHICAGO, June 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Mine riots in the Herrin, Ill., coal district are likely to be resumed on the East coast, according to the Associated Press. The massacre of miners Thursday may be re-enacted at any moment, Arthur S. Lytton, attorney for the Southern Illinois Coal company, asserted today upon his return from the region.

Mr. Lytton went into the section on Wednesday when the first outbreak occurred, visiting Carbondale, Marion and other towns in Williamson county.

"Remorse and regret over the massacre of miners Thursday are entirely lacking in Williamson county," Mr. Lytton said. "During my entire stay in the region and after talking to scores of people I never heard one person who was sorry the men had been killed. They were afraid that it might cost the county a lot of money and there was a lot of speculation about what the damages would be. That was the greatest concern."

Officials Lack Support.

"No investigation that can be made by county officials and no investigation in which the evidence of Williamson county is considered exclusively will amount to anything. The county officials cannot do it alone and they do not have any support."

On the way to Marion Mr. Lytton received several telegrams and upon his arrival there the train conductor pointed him out to the populace as the new mine superintendent, he said.

"I am very certain that I would have been the subject of violence had my real identity become known," Mr. Lytton said.

"I talked to substantial citizens of the community. They are afraid to express whatever sentiments they may have. A man who dared to say that he believed the wounded men should not have been allowed to remain unattended in the road, was threatened and told to mind his own business. A grocer who expressed sentiments hostile to the miners has been practically driven out of business, I was told."

Troops Declared Needed.

Mr. Lytton said the temper of the people was proved by the fact that they returned to the Herrin mine yesterday and destroyed a safe, "about the only thing that was intact."

"I tried to get a man to go to Herrin and remove the body of Superintendent McDowell, which was terribly mangled. I could not secure a person to make the trip. They all told me that they had to live there and that an attempt to remove the dead body would be construed as unfriendly to the strikers. There are union men acting as property guards at some of the mines down there," he said. "Who knows at what minute they may be fired by their past success and full of the blood lust, will turn on these men? A clash is possible at any time."

SITUATION EASIER REPORT

Military Commission Recommends That No Troops Be Sent.

HERRIN, Ill., June 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—With the departure of Governor Smith's special military commission, headed by Major-General Milton J. Foreman, and the announcement of his recommendation that no troops be sent into Williamson county at the present time and that those national guard units which had already been mobilized and held in readiness be ordered home, the situation in the coal fields was easier tonight.

General Foreman, after an active day of investigation which began at 4 o'clock this morning, declared that he was satisfied that no good purpose would be served by calling out troops at this time. In his statement he declared he believed that the district condition in the county had been permanently relieved and that it would not recur. The only thing, he asserted, which would cause a recurrence would be a renewed attempt to mine coal, and this he did not believe would be done.

None of the old and established coal companies favored attempting to open the mines at this time, the general declared.

General Foreman declared he did not believe that the inquiry he held some time tomorrow was likely to provoke further disturbance. Southern Illinois is inclined to conclude grimly and with finality another chapter in the long history of strife and violence which has been recurrent here during the last 30 years.

UNION BLOCKS MINE WORK

Nopunions Men in Fulton County Induced to Quit—Some Flee.

CANTON, Ill., June 24.—(By the Associated Press.)—Sweeping down upon the strip mines of Fulton county, automobiles loaded with miners by the mere show of force this afternoon had stopped the work of all nonunion coal miners in the county. They met quietly this morning at various points of the county and visited every mine operating.

With the memory of Herrin in mind and in some cases with an evidence of fright, the workers stopped work immediately. Some of them fled, but most quietly laid down their tools. Thousands of tons of coal have been taken from these strip or "wagon" mines of Fulton county each week and shipped to Chicago and other points.

SENATORS SCORE MASSACRE

Disorders Said to Surpass German War Horrors.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 24.—The coal strike with its most startling development, the southern Illinois mine disorders, was brought up in senate debate today and continued to engage the attention of the administrative branch of the government. Senator Meyers, democrat, Montana, speaking in the senate, described the Herrin disorders as "more horrible than those committed by the Germans during the war" and said they resulted from "the domination of an organized minority."

President Harding, it was pointed out, was in Leesburg, Va., for the week end as the guest of E. B. McLean, Washington publisher, while both senators, Davis and Hoover, were in Wilmington, Del., as the guests of friends. None, it was said, would probably return to Washington before late tomorrow night.

The purpose of the visit here of John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, was unveiled in both houses of congress and labor circles tonight. If his coming here from Cincinnati is for a conference with government officials, it was believed no action would be taken till Monday because of the absence of officials from the city.

SLAIN SHERIFF IS BURIED

ALBANY HOLDS SERVICES FOR C. M. KENDALL.

High Tribute Paid to Official Who Lost Life in Raid—Grave Filled High With Flowers.

ALBANY, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—Hundreds of persons crowded into the Methodist Episcopal church and overflowed into the streets here today to pay a final tribute to C. M. Kendall, sheriff, who was shot and killed Wednesday during a moonshine raid.

Rev. J. C. Spencer, pastor of the Methodist church, assisted by Dr. D. V. Poling, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, conducted the services. Rev. Mr. Spencer made a masterful appeal to the public for reverence and respect to the law of the land and the laws of God. Dr. Poling paid a high tribute to Mr. Kendall, dwelling upon his public activities and speaking of his life as a citizen. Dr. Poling made a forceful plea for continued devotion to principles in the community's interest.

The men's quartet of the church of which Mr. Kendall was a member sang three favorite selections of the late sheriff. The three surviving members of this quartet, made famous in this county during the days of the prohibition campaign, are: A. M. Hammer, J. G. Minton and Dr. C. V. Littler. Dr. Wallace H. Lee was the fourth man, taking the vacant place.

County officers were the active pallbearers. They were D. S. Smith, ex-sheriff of Union county; Charles C. Curdick, county recorder; Victor M. Oliver, justice of the peace; G. C. Coles and William Walker, Honorary pallbearers were L. G. Lewelling, district attorney; F. A. Young, mayor of Albany; W. R. Blythe, county judge; L. E. Blain, Dr. W. H. Davis and C. E. Williamson.

Burial was in Riverside cemetery. The grave was piled high with floral tributes.

AD SESSION OPENS TODAY

SAN DIEGO TO WELCOME COAST CONVENTION.

Treaty of Unity to Cease Intercity Knocking Will Be Unveiled.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., June 24.—With flags and banners flying all over the business section, San Diego today was ready for the invasion of delegates to the annual convention of the Pacific Coast Advertising Club association, which begins tomorrow with an inspirational service at the Spreckels outdoor organ in Balboa park. Dr. R. B. Von Klein Smid, president of the University of Southern California, will be the principal speaker.

Business sessions will be held from Monday to Thursday, inclusive, in the civic auditorium in Balboa park and every phase of the advertising art will be discussed. Evenings will be devoted to amusements. On Thursday afternoon a treaty of unity, a compact between the principal cities of the Pacific coast to cease intercity "knocking," will be unveiled.

A parade, in which each of the 17 clubs in the association will have a delegation, is to be held Tuesday morning. Monday and Wednesday evenings are to be "stunt nights," each club putting on some humorous entertainment, among which will be an allegory, "Spirit of Union," many of the delegates of the advertising club.

Silver trophies valued at $1500 are being offered for the best talks on various advertising subjects, and advertising exhibits covering more than 800 linear feet of space will be displayed in the civic auditorium.

Many of the delegates are arriving today and the most of them are expected tonight and tomorrow morning.

Water Project Distinctive.

SALEM, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—Equipment used by the Grants Pass irrigation district is remarkable and is similar to none in the west, according to Percy Copper, state engineer, who returned from the district today. Water is delivered to about 5000 acres by two large pumps connected to two turbines which are driven by water flowing through the dam, which consists of a multiple arch with an unique crest consisting of large gates operated by hydraulic cylinders. The district includes approximately 13,000 acres in Josephine county.

BUILDING MEN PUT LOCAL MAN ON DIRECTORATE.

National Association of Owners and Managers Name Officers at Their Convention.

BEDFORD SPRINGS, Pa., June 24.—(Special.)—The 15th annual convention of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers came to a close today at Bedford Springs with the election of Earle H. Schultz, Chicago, president; Louis S. Smith of New York, Isaac T. Cook of St. Louis and Paul Robertson of Indianapolis, vice-presidents; Howard Loomis of Omaha, secretary; W. D. MacLachlan of Detroit, treasurer, and Waldo Avery of Detroit, E. M. Horine of Atlanta, Everett Thorpe of New York, J. F. O'Callahan of Philadelphia and Dean Vincent of Portland, executive committee.

As Charles E. Horton of Seattle, with all other ex-presidents, is added to the board this gives the Pacific coast two representatives on the directorate.

With concurrence of Secretary of Commerce Hoover the association agreed to contribute to the completion of a building code for all cities of the United States that should be allowed data on what is a safety factor in the live load carried by modern building structures. The variation now is from 45 pounds the square foot to 150 pounds, the latter requirement involving unnecessary expense in construction.

The next phase of meeting was left to the executive committee, as opinion is divided between holding the convention at a resort, which was tried for the first time this year, or in a city, as has been customary.

Dean Vincent of Portland led a fight for the adoption of a policy providing that one-half of the resources of the association shall be devoted to the organization of local associations. As a result he was elected a member of the board of directors, after he had refused to run against a local representative from the Pacific coast.

At the annual dinner Charles E. Holbrook of Portland was toastmaster and a fine tribute to the city of Portland and the genus way in which it entertained the convention last year was paid by Cal Gordon Strong of Chicago. The principal speaker was J. Adam Bede of Duluth, who spoke on the proposed St. Lawrence river canal to make it possible for shipping for Europe to use the great lake.

The 123rd convention will be held on the Pacific coast.

PENDLETON, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—Floyd Hall, employee of the state highway department, who last month shot his wife down in a local restaurant, following a dispute over divorce proceedings and property, and who has been held in the county jail on an open charge since that time, will be prosecuted on the charge of assault, with a deadly weapon with intent to kill, according to announcement made by District Attorney Keator today.

Decision to prosecute came following the return of Mrs. Elsie Hall from Portland, where she has been receiving treatment at the hands of specialists.

TOURIST FUND RELEASED

Attorney-General Gets Evidence of Northwest Co-operation.

SALEM, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—Attorney-General Van Winkle today approved evidence that the state of Washington and British Columbia have raised their share of funds for use of the Northwest tourist association during 1922, and thereby made available the Oregon appropriation of $57,500.

This sum was appropriated by the 1921 legislature for both 1921-22, provided Washington gave the same amount and British Columbia half the sum. The provincial legislature of British Columbia appropriated the $12,500 for each year, while in Washington the amounts were raised by popular subscription.

SHEEP TO GET DRIVEWAY

20,000 Head Will Be Sent to Summer Range by Foot.

BEND, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—More than 20,000 head of sheep, which yearly have made a railroad trip from Maupin to Bend for summer range, returning by the same means of transportation in the fall, will travel by foot this year as the result of the putting through of a driveway across the Warm Springs Indian reservation.

The lower end of the driveway will be in the Sisters country, where for many years the range has been devoted to cattle and stockmen of that section are determinedly opposing the plan, which they regard as a move on the part of the wool growers to annex some of their grazing area.

Engine Butts Through Wall.

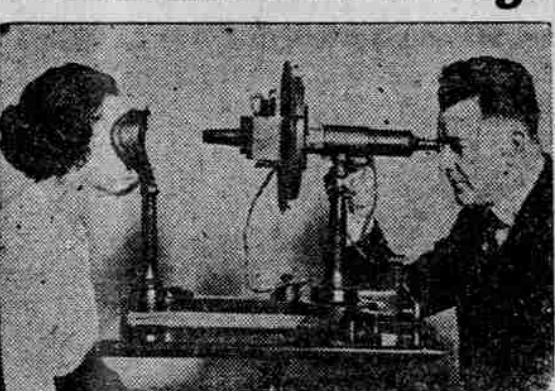

LA GRANDE, Or., June 24.—(Special.)—Engine No. 2145 of the O. W. R. & N. was probably sent to the local shops for overhauling just in time to prevent a possible wreck. All went well until after reaching the shop the engineer applied the air brakes. Instead of reacting to the air as it should the engine lurched forward and went through the wall of the building before it could be stopped. While the locomotive was not damaged the hole in the wall will cost several hundred dollars to repair.
